FAMILY OF HEIR ASKS SOLICITOR TO CLEAR LIBBY

His Uncle, However, Still Believes Youth Did Not Kill Self.

LETTER'S CAREFUL STUDY IS PROMISED

Attorneys Unable to Find Sufficient Evidence to Push Charges.

Winston-Salem, N. C., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Relatives of Smith Reynolds, young tobacco heir, who was fatally shot here last summer, today disclosed their willingness for the authorities to drop murder charges against his widow, Libby Holman Reynolds, former Broadway torch singer, and Albert (Ab) Walker, his 19-year-old chum.

Attorneys for W. N. Reynolds, uncle and coguardian of the 20-year-old tragedy victim, made public a letter written by him to Solicitor Carlisle Higgins, in which he said the members of the family, including Smith's sister and brother, realize "that the evidence fails to prove conclusively that Smith was murdered."

Would Be Made Happy.

After recognizing that dismissal of the charges is a course to be decided on or rejected solely by the solicitor, the letter said:

"In fact, I think that, under the circumstances, all of us would be quite happy if it should be your decision to drop the case."

The law firm, Manley, Hendren & Womble, at the same time, issued a statement saying it had advised Mr. Reynolds, after an investigation, "We have been unable to discover evidence which in our opinion would justify us in advising the family to join in the prosecution of the indictment, and we have so informed members of the family."

Reached at West Jefferson, where he is conducting a term of court, Solicitor Higgins said he would "take plenty of time in considering the Reynolds letter."

Will Consider Action.

"I shall consider the letter carefully, coming from the source that it does," he said. "After careful and deliberate consideration, I shall then make up my own mind, regardless of who wants this or that done. That's my responsibility and I intend to follow it."

Young Reynolds, heir to one-fourth of the R. J. Reynolds tobacco millions, was found fatally shot at Reynolda, the family home here, on the morning of July 6, shortly after the dispersal of a birthday party.

His death was first attributed to suicide, but a coroner's jury several days later found he came to his death at the hands of unknown persons.

Released Under Bond.

On August 4, the Forsyth County grand jury returned murder indictments against his widow, the former Libby Holman, a Broadway favorite, and his chum, Albert (Ab) Walker, 19-year-old Winston-Salem youth.

Mrs. Reynolds and young Walker were released in $25,000 bond each.

The text of Mr. Reynolds' letter follows:

"Ever since the death of my nephew, Smith Reynolds, I have been very

Towerman Killed In Train Wreck

Derailment of 16 Freight Cars Knocks Building Down; Two Hurt.

Perryman, Md., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Norman O. Rolph, of Newport, Del., a signal maintainer on the Pennsylvania Railroad, was killed, and W. J. Leight, of Perryman, a tower operator, was slightly injured today as the result of the derailment of a freight train, which knocked over the signal tower here. A Negro named Jones, riding on the train, was badly injured. He was taken to a hospital at Havre de Grace, Md.

The train was northbound with citrus fruit and vegetables from the Potomac yards at Washington to Long Island and New England. The cause of the accident has not been determined.

Sixteen of the 54 freight cars were derailed and 600 feet of the north and south bound tracks were torn up. Trains between Washington and the North were detoured on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad between Perryville and Bay View, Md.

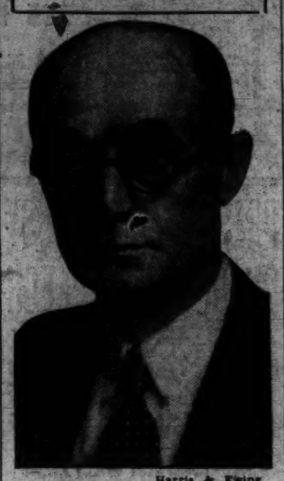
HEADS INQUIRY



Harris & Ewing.

PROBE OPENS TODAY ON DUMPING IN U.S.

Influx Is Declared Ruining U. S. Industries; 60 Complaints Filed.

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

Charges that foreign nations, grabbing for world markets, are dumping underpriced commodities in this country in unprecedented volume, will be aired before the United States Customs Bureau all this week. The first of a series of hearings will get under way at 10 o'clock this morning.

Capt. F. X. A. Eble, Commissioner of Customs, decided on this course after 60 complaints of dumping, more than five times the number ever accumulated before at any one time, piled up at the bureau, he said last night. He attributes the sweeping influx to the general depreciation of foreign currencies.

Beginning with American grass and rag rug manufacturers, whose once flourishing industry has been almost wiped out by ruthless foreign competition, a dozen major industries will lay their case before the commissioner in the next seven days.

They will try to establish wholesale violation of the antidumping act by proving, first, that goods are being sold here at prices below those brought in their home markets; second, that they are injuring some American industries, ruining others.

"During the past six months more complaints of industry have passed over my desk than during any five-year period heretofore," Commissioner Eble said. "These complaints range from structural steel to tuna fish, involving industries that employ, in the aggregate, several hundred thousand workmen."

He will take testimony on as many of the complaints as the bureau is able. If he finds violation of the antidumping act, he will recommend that Secretary of the Treasury Mills take action against the offenders under the act.

Commissioner Eble said some of the appeals received are "pathetic."

"While the large industrialists can afford to come to Washington to present their cases, there are many employers throughout the Nation who can not do so," he said. "Many owners of small factories employing from 25 to 500 hands, have felt the pinch of foreign competition, and have failed without registering a complaint."

The American grass and rag rug industry, which formerly employed

Bandits Bind 2 and Take Cigars Worth $40,000

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Four bandits broke into a small garage at Highland Park early today, bound a truck driver an dhis helper who were sleeping there, and while two men stood guard over the victims, the other two escaped with a truck loaded with 290,000 cigars, valued at $40,000.

STATE POLICE END HUNT FOR BLACK SHIRTS

Head of Maryland Force Orders Dropping of Gang Case Work.

DEPUTY TO RESIGN AS BREACH WIDENS

Failure of St. Marys Sheriff to Deputize Patrolmen Is Cited.

Withdrawal of State police in the investigation surrounding activities of the dreaded "Black Shirt" gang of southern Maryland, followed closely by an announcement by Deputy Sheriff John T. Smith, of Leonardtown, Md., that he planned to turn in his badge and work independent of the sheriff's office, presented a problem last night to authorities of St. Marys County.

A "hands off" policy in the case has been adopted by State police, following an order by Capt. Edward McK. Johnson, its commander. From now on, Capt. Johnson declared, members of his force stationed at Waldorf, Md., will attend only to their business of enforcing State motor vehicle laws.

His action, it was pointed out, was due to the refusal of Sheriff Richard T. Hammett of St. Marys County to deputize members of the State force as peace officers. Under Maryland laws, State police may make arrests only in matters pertaining to highway regulations.

Rift Is Admitted.

The force at Waldorf generally is nine men. Recent reports from Leonardtown said that 25 men were in the vicinity but Capt. Johnson did not substantiate this report. He admitted that a rift had occurred with the county authorities, but said he knew of no apparent reason.

"There is no friction on our part," he said. "The usual force of nine men will be kept at Waldorf for the purpose of enforcing the motor vehicle laws and naturally if they see a crime committed they will do their best to apprehend the criminal."

Friction in Case.

Friction between the office of Sheriff Hammett and State police has been keen since the first robbery occurred almost two weeks ago.

Refusal of Sheriff Hammett to deputize State patrolmen with authority to arrest and charge any suspect they had in mind, widened the breech. Smith, his chief deputy, was censured for his action of working on the case with members of the State force.

Criticized for his action in barring "outside interference in the case," Sheriff Hammett was forced to work by himself when the extra force of State police was recalled.

"Whatever investigation has been done in this case," Deputy Sheriff Smith said last night, "has been done only by myself and members of the State police stationed at Waldorf.

"Sheriff Hammet and I have been working independent of each other

Farm Pickets Break Truck's Cab Windows

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Farm pickets, peaceful with one exception despite spirited arguments with truck drivers, were on patrol duty today on most principal highways serving the twin cities.

The break in the routine of halting vehicles and urging drivers not to go to market came at an intersection near here. A plank was thrown at a speeding truck by a picket, breaking cab windows. The truck went on. In nearby Washington County, where a mail truck was delayed yesterday, many drivers were stopped, but all were allowed to proceed after conferences with picket leaders

Man Charged With Arson In 25 'Full Moon' Fires

Prisoner Said to Have Confessed Starting Blazes, Impelled by Lunar Phase; One Caused $5,000 Damage; Robberies Also Linked.

Howard Banks, 26, colored, 1213 New York avenue northwest, was formally charged with arson yesterday in connection with 25 fires started since August 1. Police said Banks admitted having started the fires, and also his connection with a ring of housebreakers. On information given by Banks, police last night went to Alexandria, where it was reported about three van loads of stolen goods were hidden.

Banks was arrested October 12 by Sergt. Bert Shelton, of the First Precinct, when he was seen running from a fire near Twelfth and K streets northwest. Police reported Banks had a mania for starting of fires, especially during the full of the moon.

Although many of the fires were started in prominent residential sections, most of them were trash blazes. More than a score of persons are complainants and witnesses in connection with the various fires.

The largest fire for which Banks is believed to be responsible was in a machine shop near Eighteenth and E streets northwest, with an estimated damage of $5,000.

Police also reported he had confessed to having started a fire in the

Stimson Raps Bonus Silence of Roosevelt

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN.

Striking a new note of militant attack, Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson carried the Republican presidential campaign to New York City last night. In an extended address before the National Republican Club, which also was broadcast to the entire Eastern half of the United States, Mr. Stimson vigorously assailed the "incredibly reckless" economic statements he said had been made by both Gov. Roosevelt and Speaker Garner in the campaign, and warned that the Nation now is approaching the most critical election since the Civil War.

He again challenged Gov. Roosevelt to define his stand on the $2,000,000,000 soldier bonus issue, declaring that "every day that passes while his situation is thus left uncertain retards out recovery and endangers our financial credit."

"Mr. Hoover at once, and publicly, made his position clear," Mr. Stimson continued regarding the bonus. "Mr. Garner has announced that he will say nothing on the subject. Mr. Roosevelt has thus far remained silent, when every day of silence was a blow to the credit of the Government and the restoration of business."

Abandoning his wonted field of foreign affairs for the occasion, Secretary Stimson confined himself almost entirely to the depression and the Hoover reconstruction program.

"We are approaching an election which in many ways is more critical and important than any which this country has faced since the Civil War," he told his audience. "The depression from which we are suffering has been caused by a war much greater than our Civil War and one which left its disastrous effects upon all the nations of the world.

"In the course of this depression great crises have been met; panic has been checked, and the forces of recuperation have been put into motion by a program of governmental action.

"Confidence has been restored; signs of recovery appear on many sides; but we are not yet out of the woods. A false step from the firm path that has been taken might well

JUDGESHIP OFFER CHARGED BY NORRIS

Senator, in Cleveland Talk, Urges Labor to Oppose Hoover Reelection.

Cleveland, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—United States Senator George W. Norris charged tonight that Secretary of Labor William N. Doak "suggested he might be able to exert a great deal of influence" to obtain a Federal judgeship for Donald Richberg, attorney for labor interests, while Doak and Richberg were conferring over the Norris anti-injunction bill before it was made law.

Senator Norris' charge was made in a campaign address in Cleveland Public Auditorium.

A crowd estimated by labor leaders at 2,000 heard Norris, Progressive Republican from Nebraska, who bolted the Republican party in 1928 in favor of Alfred E. Smith and is supporting Franklin D. Roosevelt this year, urge labor to oppose the reelection of President Hoover. A. F. Whitney, chief of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, presided.

Norris began his address with extemporaneous remarks on the Cleveland address of President Hoover.

"Last Sunday night," he said, "in this same building, President Hoover said, 'We are now all in the same boat.' And then he asked, 'Shall we bore a hole in the bottom of that boat?'

"Yes, Mr. President Hoover, we are in the same boat. * * * We selected you as a pilot because we believed what you said four years ago, when you told us about the great ship.

"Every one of your promises remains unredeemed and unfulfilled.

Social Registerite Plunges to Death

Mrs. Charles J. Prescott Leaves Note Written With Lipstick.

New York, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Scribbling a farewell note to "any one" with a lipstick and grasping two white carnations in one hand, Mrs. Charles J. Prescott, social registerite of Boston, jumped to her death today from the thirty-first floor of the Hotel New Yorker.

The former Beatrice Gardiner, whose marriage to Prescott, son of a Cambridge manufacturer, in November, 1926, was the outstanding social event of Boston, left a note which read:

"I don't like you. This is the best way out. Make the most of every living moment."

She jumped to her death through a window of her room a few minutes after registering. Her body crashed onto a five-story extension. Two crushed flowers were found beneath her body. In her room was the scarlet note written on a piece of hotel stationery.

Bandit Examines Books, Robs Bank of $1,200

Amboy, Minn., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Four young gunmen whose leader examined the cash book before the looting began robbed the First National Bank of $1,200 today.

After gathering $500 the leader told assistant cashier Herbert Dredge, "you've got more than this," and forced him to open a safe. Four customers and two employes were threatened with death if they failed to remain on the floor. The raiders fled in an automobile.

ROOSEVELT STUMPS IN LEHMAN'S BEHALF

Elwood Music Hall, Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—In two vigorous speeches calling for the election of a Democratic State ticket, Franklin D. Roosevelt gave a full day to New York affairs today before speeding into West Virginia and Pennsylvania to resume his active quest for the Presidency.

Twice, before rousing crowds of Rochester and Buffalo, the Democratic presidential candidate told northern New York citizens that he and Alfred E. Smith had been linked together in a 20-year fight for legislation designed for the benefit of "the forgotten man and the forgotten woman."

He urged the election of Herbert H. Lehman, his old friend, to succeed him as governor and proposed that William J. Donovan, Buffalo citizen who is the Republican gubernatorial candidate, be asked his position on the St. Lawrence waterway and just how he proposed to reduce State expenses.

Few references to national affairs were made in his two speeches of the day. In one he said that if elected he proposed to call the governors of the States to Washington to discuss matters of common interest. At another time, he referred briefly to commissions.

He was welcomed at Buffalo by twin rows of blinding flares that lined the sidewalks of the street down which he passed for several miles to his hotel. At Rochester, earlier, he had participated in an automobile parade through the streets.

At Buffalo George H. Kennedy, attorney, a tall, straight, white-haired man, introduced Roosevelt. In a speech calling upon the citizens of Buffalo to join in helping to elect Lehman, Kennedy brought vigorous applause when he said that "we will have beer after November." In glow-

Boston, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Two men smashed a window in the jewelry store of Smith, Patterson Co. here this afternoon and escaped with a tray of six diamond and emerald rings valued at $9,000.

Coast Guard Gets Motorship's S O S

Florida Base Awaits Order From Here to Answer Call Off Indies.

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Oct. 18 (A.P.). An S O S call from the disabled British motorship Tanamakon, adrift 80 miles northwest of Bermuda with a broken propeller shaft, was received by the Coast Guard base here today.

Officials at the base said that since the vessel is outside the regular patrol area of the Coast Guard, orders to assist the ship must come from Washington. They declared the vessel is not listed in Lloyd's register, and that the message was sent on a low wave radio set.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Oct. 18 (A.P.). A search was being made today for the Tanamakon, a 90-foot motor vessel, which got into trouble 40 miles off Bermuda Friday night. The ship was bound for St. Georges.

SNAG PROBABLE IN MOVE TO END POLICE DISPUTE

Bride Seeking to Bring Glassford and Burke Together.

DEPARTMENT CHIEF STATES HIS POSITION

Will Not Change Intention of Making Capt. Kelly Detective Head.

That the plans of Corporation Counsel William W. Bride to settle amicably the Burke-Glassford controversy will strike a snag appeared probable last night as Mr. Bride made plans to bring together Chief of Detective Frank S. W. Burke and Superintendent of Police Pelham D. Glassford.

The police head is willing to compromise on his recommendation for the demotion of Inspector Burke from the head of the Detective Bureau, which carries with it the rank of assistant superintendent.

"I am not anxious to demote Inspector Burke," Gen. Glassford said.

Firm on Kelly Promotion.

On the other hand, he will not compromise on his decision to make Capt. Edward J. Kelly the head of the Detective Bureau. The plan of Mr. Bride, it is understood, involves the retention of the rank of assistant superintendent by Inspector Burke, while Capt. Kelly would be elevated to the rank of inspector, which may be vacant by the demotion of Inspector O. T. Davis to the rank of captain.

Mr. Bride said yesterday that he would call a conference as soon as details of his plans were completed. These details, it is understood, have been finished, and he will likely confer today with Inspector Burke, Gen. Glassford, and possibly Commissioner Herbert B. Crosby.

Plan Kept Secret.

All of those who have definite knowledge of the plan, refused to divulge its nature. It is thought, however, that Mr. Bride is striving to have Capt. Kelly in the rank of inspector, and Inspector Burke, holding the rank of assistant superintendent, having a joint supervisory control over the detective bureau.

The only manner, according to Mr. Bride, in which a new inspectorship or assistant superintendent may be created is by an act of Congress. However, the Commissioners could demote Inspector Davis to the rank of captain, as recommended; then elevate Capt. Kelly to the rank of inspector, and assign him to the detective bureau.

The point on which the peace overtures might snag is this: Inspector Burke has contended all along that the issue is not one of demotion; but rather whether the reported allegations of Gen. Glassford, that he failed to cooperate with him, are true or false.

Commissioner Crosby, Gen. Glassford and Inspector Burke have agreed

Looting of U.S. Missions Continues in Shantung

Chefoo, China, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—News of further looting of American missions in the Shantung area, where civil war conditions have prevailed for the last month, was received here today.

In addition to looting and partially wrecking the properties of the American Southern Baptist Mission at Laichowfu, the reports said, the warring factions also attacked the same mission's property at Laiyang, 50 miles south of here, looting and destroying the buildings. The Catholic Mission at Laichowfu also was looted, but the buildings were not destroyed.

School Cupola Row Taken To District Commissioners

Economies and Relations With Arts Board Are Discussed.

The present District government's economy program, the relation of the Fine Arts Commission, engineering versus architectural standards, and the character of the subcommittee on appropriations of the House District committee were discussed at length yesterday afternoon when the Commissioners heard protests against the action of Maj. John C. Gotwals, Engineer Commissioner, in eliminating the cupola from the proposed Taft Junior High School.

$7,000,000 Reduction In Budget Is Revealed

The disclosure that the District Commissioners have cut approximately $7,000,000 from the District's 1934 estimates, now before the Budget Bureau, was inadvertently revealed yesterday afternoon by Dr. Luther H. Reichelderfer, chairman of the board, in the heat of the hearing on the Taft Junior High School cupola.

The Commissioners are prohibited by law from disclosing their reductions in the District budget until it is presented to Congress. The departmental estimates for the next fiscal year were approxi- ly $47,000,000.

COLLIER QUITS RACE FOR CONGRESS SEAT

Action Follows Court Ruling Upholding Mississippi Redistricting.

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Mississippi Democratic Congressional primaries, held by districts last August in defiance of a Federal Court injunction against certification of District nominees, were validated today by the United States Supreme Court, which reversed the lower court and held the State's new congressional redistricting act constitutional.

The decision was hailed by the seven District primary winners as a victory for their cause. On the other hand it frustrated the campaigns of seven others seeking election as State-at-large candidates on the contention that the redistricting act was invalid and the primaries held under its provisions illegal.

This latter group included Representative J. Will Collier, chairman of the House ways and means committee, and former Gov. Theo. G. Bilbo, seeking a political comeback in an "at large" candidate for Congress. With others of the "at large" group, they had refused to participate in the district primaries after the Federal court held the State redistricting act invalid.

Late today Collier announced withdrawal from the race and said he would abide by the decision by supporting Representative Russell Ellzey, the Democratic nominee from his district—the new Seventh, which was formed by combining Ellzey's and Collier's old Seventh and Eighth Districts. Collier had represented the Eighth for a score of years.

Bilbo received news of the Supreme Court decision in the midst of a campaign excursion. He hurriedly changed a scheduled address in behalf of his candidacy to one extolling the Roosevelt-Garner ticket, and said he would return to Jackson before issuing a statement on his position.

State officials said the "at large" candidates had no choice except to withdraw or run as independents in their home districts.

(Associated Press.)

The States were given unrestricted freedom by a Supreme Court ruling yesterday to map out their congressional districts as they see fit.

The highest tribunal upheld the recent redistricting of Mississippi and declared that regulations imposed in

LONDON POLICE FIGHT JOBLESS; MANY INJURED

LOOTING CARRIED ON DURING ENCOUNTER

March Occasioned by Opening of Commons; Order Is Restored.

London, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—The police intercepted a rush on Parliament Square by an organized army of several thousand jobless men today and a bloody riot ensued.

The disorder occurred in the poorer class Lambeth section just across the Thames from the historic House of Parliament, where the national government had just reassembled.

The police were successful in turning back the demonstrators, but not until six or seven hours of battling in hand-to-hand fashion had disturbed the peace of ancient Lambeth. Then came looting by rowdy youths, and when order was restored around 11 p. m. scores had been injured, at least twenty of them seriously.

The demonstration began late in the afternoon when several thousand unemployed began to march toward the Parliament buildings from various thoroughfares on the south side of the Thames. The authorities said the men had been marshaled by the leaders of the Communistic National Unemployed Workers Organization.

Police Reserves Called.

Reserves were called immediately and all approaches to Parliament Square were carefully barred, although the demonstrators were permitted to mass in front of the New London County Council Hall, which is just across Westminster Bridge from Parliament.

In fact the start of the demonstration was very peaceful and escorted by the police. Banners waved and bands blared.

Then came a rush for Westminster bridgehead, a prelude to a dash for the forbidden territory of Parliament Square, where a monster demonstration for additional unemployment relief apparently had been planned.

The police summoned motor reinforcements, and for the first time used automobiles to blockade the crowd. Missiles began to fly and in a very short while there were many bloody heads among the police as well as the demonstrators.

Idle Use Military Tactics.

As the afternoon wore on, it appeared that the police were going to be successful in their effort to prevent the riot from spreading across the Thames. Then the unemployed executed a strategy that smacked of military tactics.

The bobbies cleared the crooked, narrow streets one at a time around the council hall, only to find swarms of dour protestors advancing along some quiet and overlooked detour.

In Boniface street, under the shadow of the walls of Lambeth Palace where for seven centuries Archbishops of Canterbury had lived, three bobbies were trapped by a surging throng. Frantic whistles brought rescuers, but not before one officer dropped under a barrage of rocks and bottles.

Other ancient streets close by the towering ecclesiastical precincts saw crisp fighting, and nightfall found St. Thomas' Hospital, nearby, a virtual clearing house for casualties.

BRITISH END TRADE PACT WITH RUSSIA

Action Is in Accordance With Imperial Policy Drawn at Ottawa.

London, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—The spirit of empire ruled Westminster as Parliament reassembled today and heard from Dominions Secretary J. H. Thomas a bombshell announcement of the abrogation of the trade pact with Soviet Russia in accordance with the imperial commercial policy drawn up at this summer's Ottawa conference.

Later Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain gave a lengthy exposition of the Ottawa agreements, the purpose of which is to consolidate the nations of the empire, with emphasis laid on trade and commerce.

Mr. Thomas revealed the breakdown of his negotiations with President Eamon de Valera of the Irish Free State. He informed the House of Commons Mr. de Valera had contended the only permanent solution of the Anglo-Irish controversy would be the creation of a united Irish republic.

Mr. Thomas informed the House that under article 21 of the tariff agreement reached at Ottawa it was necessary to renounce the temporary commercial pact with Russia. This pact, signed in April, 1930, gave Russia most-favored-nation treatment.

The dominions secretary explained that, in notifying the Russian charge d'affaires that Britain was taking advantage of the six months' abrogation notice stipulated in the agreement, the government had set forth that it still was anxious to increase its trade with Russia. To this end discussions would be started at the earliest possible time.

The Russian trade question played an important part in the Ottawa conference. Canada and Australia particularly insisted that Britain adopt effective means to prevent the dumping of Russian wheat.

much interested in and have given very careful and thoughtful attention to everything that I could learn about that tragic occurrence. Knowing Smith as I did, and realizing the many fine traits of character that he had, I am convinced that his attitude toward life was such that he would never have intentionally killed himself. Nothing that I have been able to learn about the case has been sufficient to change my mind in that respect.

"On the other hand, it is equally true, in my opinion and in that of Smith's brother and sisters, that the evidence fails to prove conclusively that Smith was murdered.

Would Make Family Happy.

"I realize that the matter of handling these indictments is officially in your hands as the representative of the State and that no individual has or ought to have anything to do with the question of whether or not the cases are prosecuted or are dropped. But there has been a great deal of comment and speculation as to what the attitude of Smith's family is toward these cases. With that fact in mind, I am taking the liberty of writing you this letter by way of disclosing that attitude and of saying to you that if in the discharge of your further official duties with respect to these cases you come to the conclusion that it is right and fair and in the public interest that the cases be dropped, then that action on your part will certainly have no criticism from me or from the other members of Smith's family. In fact, I think that, under the circumstances, all of us would be quite happy if it should be your decision to drop the cases. Distressed as we all are over Smith's unfortunate death, none of us could find any pleasure in a prosecution that was not fully sustained by the circumstances of his death.

"I am taking the liberty of sending a copy of this letter to Judge Stack for his information.

"With personal regards and best wishes, I am, yours very truly,

(Signed) "W. N. REYNOLDS."

FATHER COX IS OUT TO BACK ROOSEVELT

Pittsburgh Priest, Head of Jobless Party, to Aid Democratic Drive.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Pittsburgh's "Shepherd of the Poor," the Rev. James R. Cox, withdrew today as the Jobless party's candidate for President and urged his followers to support Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic standard bearer.

The militant priest, pastor of old St. Patrick's Catholic Church, abandoned the race on the eve of Gov. Roosevelt's appearance at a Democratic political meeting in Pittsburgh tomorrow night.

The Democratic candidate will speak at a rally in Forbes Field, home of the Pittsburgh Pirates. David L. Lawrence, county chairman, expects a crowd of more than 50,000.

Swinging his support to Roosevelt, Father Cox assailed President Hoover for what he termed his "failure" to relieve suffering among unemployed in the last two years.

In withdrawing, Father Cox said he is "animated solely by the consideration of the welfare of my country" and that, while he realizes "many ballots would be cast for me, our political system is so ordered that I can not be elected. It is so arranged that Roosevelt or Hoover must win."

Hagerstown, Md., Oct. 18.—With more than 3 inches of rain having fallen since Sunday, the Potomac River began to rise today and was up 4 feet at Williamsport, many of its tributaries being out of their banks.

Reports from headwaters of the Potomac indicated it was still raining hard and the streams were rising there.

Democrats Stage Rally by Students

Albie Booth, G. O. P. Campaigner, Jibed by American University Speaker.

Democratic central committee headquarters went collegiate last night with several hundred local university students vociferously cheering undergraduate speakers from the various schools here as they extolled the Democratic standard-bearers and vigorously attacked the Republican administration.

Several of the speakers poked fun at Albie Booth, former Yale football star, who is doing Republican campaign work. "Albie might be a star on the Republican team," said A. E. Brook, representing American University, "but he couldn't be a waterboy with the Democrats."

Among the speakers were Etta Taggart, of George Washington University; Raymond J. Walter, Knights of Columbus Law School; Robert Criscuolo, Georgetown; Ruth Cox, Trinity; Clement A. Ducy, Catholic University, and Mr. Brook.

ROOSEVELT'S FARM PROGRAM EXPLAINED

Dakotan Declares Allotment Plan Means Benefits of $550,000,000.

Mitchell, S. Dak., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt's recent farm relief speech at Topeka today elicited a statement from W. R. Ronald, a director of the National Progressive League, who said the Democratic presidential nominee referred to a specific program.

This program, said Ronald, editor of the Mitchell Evening Republican, would be carried out through adoption of the voluntary domestic allotment plan which he claimed would produce $550,000,000 in tariff benefits to wheat, cotton and hog growers alone.

Business Week Magazine was quoted by the publisher as referring to Roosevelt's Topeka speech and declaring that the six specifications as laid down in that address "were a precise and explicit prescription of the domestic allotment plan."

Ronald said the allotment plan "would at once assure the wheat farmer tariff benefits of $250 annually for each 1,000 bushels of past-average production; the cotton farmer $100 yearly for each ten bales, and the hog producer $180 for each 10,000 pounds marketed for slaughter."

Tying Gov. Roosevelt's specifications in his Topeka speech with the allotment plan, Ronald said the plan would make the tariff effective on farm products of which there was an exportable surplus by collecting it as an excise tax on all products processed for domestic human consumption.

FARLEY SAYS FIRMS INTIMIDATE VOTERS

Heads of Three Ohio Rubber Concerns Deny Coercion for Republicans.

New York, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—From Democratic national headquarters today came a statement that three Ohio rubber companies are "carrying on a campaign of intimidation among workers in an effort to secure votes for President Hoover."

James A. Farley, Roosevelt-Garner campaign chief, made the allegation public while commenting on a statement issued by the Ford Motor Co. to its employes, which disclaimed any attempt to "control any man's vote," and concluded:

"To prevent times from getting worse and to help them to get better, President Hoover must be elected."

The report from Ohio came from Virgil E. Rogers, State central committeeman, in a telegram to Farley.

It was quickly denied by officials of the three companies named.

Ford Statement.

In referring to the Ford statement and the report from Ohio, Farley said:

"I am not at all surprised at this, because for a long time we anticipated that this would be the last frantic move of the Republican leaders to reelect President Hoover."

The Rogers telegram, which Farley read in a press conference at national headquarters, said:

"Goodyear, Goodrich and Firestone rubber companies carrying on campaign of intimidation among workers in an effort to secure votes for Hoover.

"This is especially true of Firestone Rubber Co. All chain stores in this city passing word down the lines to their employes to vote for Hoover, including Acme Cash Stores, which operate a chain of 129 stores.

Denials Are Issued.

"However, they are not meeting with much success. The Republicans are becoming desperate and are using means more despicable than in the days of Mark Hanna and the full dinner pail."

The telegram came from Akron.

Clifton Slusser, vice president of the Goodyear company, made an "unqualified denial" of the report and said:

"It has been a settled company policy over many years to urge all employes to vote as a citizenship duty, but the policy has been equally definite that Goodyear as a company is to take no part in political elections."

Farley Is Not Disturbed.

James D. Tew, president of the B. F. Goodrich Co., said any allegation that his concern "has instructed or in any way coerced its employes to vote for any candidate for office in the November election is untrue."

R. R. Gross, Firestone factory manager, in Akron, said:

"We have made no statements to our employes as to what party they should support."

Farley, in continuing his comment on the report from Ohio and the Ford statement, said:

"We are not at all disturbed at this. I am satisfied the people of the United States definitely made up their minds a long time ago that they were through with the inefficient administration of President Hoover and were determined to elect Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt."

PRESIDENT IS BUSY ON DETROIT SPEECH

Plans for Trip to Michigan to Talk Saturday Approved; Eight Stops Slated.

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover yesterday devoted virtually all his working hours to plans and preparations for his next major reelection speech for Saturday night at Detroit.

A schedule for the trip to Michigan was stamped with tentative presidential approval. It called for as many as eight appearances in West Virginia, Kentucky and Ohio cities before reaching Detroit.

The President plans tentatively to leave the National Capital Friday night with his first stop at Charleston, W. Va., the next morning. A half-hour stay now is scheduled there, and Mr. Hoover may leave his train to deliver a brief address somewhere in the city.

After leaving West Virginia, the President probably will stop briefly at Ashland, Ky., before continuing to Columbus, Delaware, Marion, Carey, Upper Sandusky, Fostoria and Toledo, all in Ohio.

Reticent on Subject.

Mr. Hoover received but one or two visitors after meeting in the morning with the only five of his Cabinet officers remaining in the Capital. Throughout the afternoon he secluded himself in the Lincoln study on the second floor of the White House proper in order that he might work without interruption on his Detroit address.

The route tentatively approved by the President would be over the lines of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad. He has had under consideration another route, by the Baltimore & Ohio, which would carry him to Parkersburg, W. Va., rather than Charleston, but would include stops at Columbus and Toledo.

White House aids, in answer to questions, declined to say what subject Mr. Hoover had chosen for his Detroit speech. Nor was any information made available as to the party that would accompany the President on his third swing in succession into the Midwest.

Further Plans Considered.

Meanwhile, the Chief Executive considered but apparently reached no decision upon plans for further activities during the three weeks remaining before the election on November 8.

His campaign managers have promised that he would speak at least once in the East, probably in New York or some nearby place.

Practically all of the furniture was stolen from the house, including two beds, a set of china, pictures, two clocks and several mirrors and pillows. These furnishings were recovered by police, who stated they included "everything from window shades to tooth picks."

Banks is likewise said to have admitted entering a church at Twelfth street and Massachusetts avenue northwest, where he stole a Bible and four hymn books.

The complaining witnesses and the fires with which they connect Banks follow:

It is reported that the men usually work as auto polishers in the neighborhood of a place they plan to loot.

HEARING ON FOREIGN GOODS INFLUX READY

150,000 workers, is said to have been so hard hit by Japanese imports, produced by labor paid 14 and 15 cents a day, that there are only two factories left operating in the United States. It costs these factories $6 to manufacture rugs that Japanese producers can offer for 70 cents, witnesses will tell the commissioner at this morning's session.

Tomorrow morning the bureau will hear complaints of the steel industry. Appeals for a hearing have been filed by the American Iron & Steel Institute, now headed by Robert P. Lamont, former Secretary of Commerce.

Friday morning will be devoted to the incandescent lamp industry; Friday afternoon, to cement; Saturday, to manganese ore; Monday morning, to calf leather uppers; Monday afternoon, to porcelain and China; Tuesday morning, canned seafood, and Tuesday afternoon, matches. Paper and wood pulp, rubber toys and stearic acid will receive early hearing.

JUDGESHIP "BAIT" CHARGED IN TALK BY SENATOR NORRIS

No, we will not bore a hole in the bottom of the ship, Mr. President Hoover. We ought to, and I hope we will, throw the false prophet overboard and choose a new captain."

Senator Norris vigorously criticized "unrelenting administration opposition" to the Norris anti-injunction bill and accused the "Republican machine" of falsely claiming for the Chief Executive credit for its enactment.

"If President Hoover at any time during this fight had wanted to pass this legislation so he could honestly claim credit for its enactment into law," said Senator Norris, "one hint from the White house * * * and the fight would have been ended."

The senator charged that Doak, in a conference with Richberg, had "suggested he might be able to exert a great deal of influence" to obtain for Richberg a Federal judgeship.

"Now, let us see this picture," said Senator Norris, copies of whose address were distributed in advance by the Democratic national committee; "let us get into all its hideousness:

"Mr. Doak * * * informed Mr. Richberg that he was acting on behalf and at the suggestion of the President of the United States, and it was deemed necessary for Mr. Richberg to come to Washington to give some important assistance * * *

Hint of Judgeship Promise.

"When he met the Secretary, Richberg was informed that the President was worried over the possibility that the anti-injunction bill might be pressed for passage in that session and he was anxious to see whether some compromise might not be worked out * * *

"Mr. Richberg demurred when he found he was called to Washington to hold a conference with Attorney Emery (counsel for opponents to the act). He felt it would be useless to attempt any compromise with the man who so bitterly opposed the bill and who represented corporations which had always opposed that kind of legislation * * *.

"Mr. Richberg informs me that when he was talking about this legislation with the Secretary, Secretary Doak asked Mr. Richberg whether he would not like to be appointed to the Federal judiciary and suggested he might be able to exert a great deal of influence in that direction * * *.

Discussion of Legislation.

"No pledge was made, of course. No direct promise was made, but while they were discussing the anti-injunction bill and while Mr. Doak, at the President's request, was trying to get some kind of compromise, this representative of the President of the United States suddenly flashes upon the scene a life tenure office upon the Federal judiciary."

The senator's address was devoted entirely to a discussion of the legislation he introduced, and its enactment. The anti-injunction bill, passed in the last session of Congress, curbs the power of courts in issuing injunctions in labor disputes, outlaws the "yellow dog" contract forbidding employes to join unions, and provides for a trial by jury in contempt cases not occurring in court.

"This act," the senator said, "has been heralded as a new declaration of liberty for the toiling masses of the country. It has sometimes been referred to as the second emancipation proclamation.

"Most Astounding Thing."

"The most astounding thing, however, which has ever been said about this legislation appears in the Republican campaign book, just issued. This gives credit for the passage of the legislation solely to President Hoover. Among the things for which credit is given to Mr. Hoover in this campaign book is the following:

"'6—Approval in the face of forceful opposition of the bill outlawing the yellow dog contract and providing relief from the use of injunctions in labor disputes.'

"I can hardly believe * * * that this claim has the approval of the President. It is far from the truth. It is so far from what is fair and honest in a campaign that I can hardly believe any man who has any instinct of common justice, truthfulness or honor would make the claim before the people that Herbert Hoover was the guiding genius who placed this law upon the statute books.

"It will be noted this claim in behalf of Mr. Hoover that he approved this bill in the 'face of forceful opposition' indicates in plain language that he made a victorious struggle in behalf of labor and that he did it in the face of 'forceful opposition.'

"The real truth is that the dangerous and 'forceful' opposition came from the Hoover camp. It would be no more untruthful to say that the very subcommittee which framed the bill was opposed to the legislation. 'Forceful opposition' was brought to bear from the close political associates of Herbert Hoover.

"If we had had the support of President Hoover, it would have been put on the statute books three years ago."

The Nebraska independent, who started on the stump for Roosevelt last night in Philadelphia, traced the history of the anti-injunction act from its inception in Senate committee four years ago.

The personnel of the Senate committee had changed, the Senator said, in this session of the Congress.

"And to be fair and honest, I want to say that the change of personnel came from new Democrats. * * * and every one of those who were added were favorable to the legislation. Therefore, if there is any party consideration in the matter, I have to admit, and every honest man who knows about it must admit, that the credit must go to the Democrats and not the Republicans."

In previous sessions, the senator added, Democrats as well as Republican members of the committee opposed the bill.

G.O.P. Platform Forum Will Be Held Tomorrow

An open forum on the Republican party platform will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning in the National Capital Republican Club, Scott Circle, under the auspices of the Women's Division of the Hoover and Curtis Campaign Club.

The plank relating to currency and the gold standard will be explained by Mrs. Howard S. LeRoy. The discussions will be led by Mrs. Robert J. Bates and Mrs. W. W. Husband.

Harrison Assails President on Tariff

Says Economists' Appeal Emphasizes "Mockery" of His Position.

(Associated Press.)

Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, said in a statement yesterday that the petition of 180 economists to President Hoover asking for tariff reductions "serves to emphasize the mockery of Mr. Hoover's position on the tariff."

"These same men appealed to Mr. Hoover not to sign the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill," Harrison added, in the statement issued through the Democratic national committee. "They foresaw that exactly what has happened would happen. * * *

"The President is trying to make the best of a bad situation by his insistence that the protective tariff system must be maintained. The recent action of the Canadian government, calculated to cut another $150,000,000 annually from our already depreciated foreign trade, is all the answer that I need to Mr. Hoover's argument."

throw us back into a morass even deeper than the one out of which we have pulled ourselves."

Attacks Weaken Credit.

In denouncing Gov. Roosevelt's campaign attacks on the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Secretary Stimson said these "and similar assaults from the Democratic ranks served to weaken the entire national credit structure.

"In America, as in every other modern nation, the welfare of every inhabitant is so bound up within the integrity of its credit system that a blow to that system harms, and a benefit to it helps, every man, woman and child in the land."

Mr. Stimson devoted a considerable section of his address to a review of Speaker Garner's record in the last session of Congress.

Pork Barrel Bills Scored.

"While it is true that Mr. Garner proposed to support the doctrine of a balanced budget, that did not prevent him and the Democratic majority of the House from again and again throwing themselves behind proposals which would have hopelessly wrecked the budget, destroyed the confidence of the country and placed insuperable obstacles in the path of recovery."

Among such political maneuvers actually supported by Speaker Garner, Secretary Stimson listed the bonus, the $2,000,000,000 pork-barrel building program and the long obstruction of the economy bill.

"This record is relevant to show what we may expect in the future," Mr. Stimson said in concluding the legislative review.

Warns of Setback.

His final appeal to the electorate was for a thoughtful consideration of the situation now confronting the Nation and the world.

"If in an election of this kind, involving the issues which this election involves, the judgment of the American people is not going to be based upon their reason and their intelligence, but upon blind emotion born solely of adversity, our economic welfare may receive a setback from which it will take long to recover."

ROOSEVELT SPEAKS IN LEHMAN BEHALF

ing phrases, he praised Lehman's qualifications for the post.

"The scare factory of the Republican party is running full blast," he said. "In fact it is the only industry that is working overtime now. They say that if the Democrats are elected prosperity will not return. They say that Herbert Hoover is the only man who can bring it back. Well, some wag might say that he took it away and he ought to know what he has done with it."

Boos from several sections of the hall greeted his reference to the President.

"In the next few weeks you will hear from the Republicans that this State is in a bad way financially," Roosevelt said. "Just compare the credit of the State of New York with the credit of the United States." He was interrupted by applause.

"I see you know the answer," he said. "The credit of the State of New York is better than that of any other State in the Union." He said that because of the financial setup of the State under its constitution "it can not go broke."

He explained the method by which the State carries on its business affairs. He said the Republicans were asking for an explanation of the reason for the increase of $133,000,000 in the expense of the State during the last ten years. This, he said, could be accounted for by hospital activities, the work toward eliminating grade crossings, State educational aid and old-age pensions. For a moment he was diverted to a mention of national affairs when he said the Republicans in New York had given him a commission to investigate old-age pensions.

There was a sprinkling of laughter, and smiling, he observed: "You know it's remarkable how quick in every State in the Union the people are to understand a reference to commissions. But the commission racket is not confined to Washington."

Leaving Buffalo tonight, Mr. Roosevelt will journey across the State line to Pittsburgh, where tomorrow he will leave his train for a motor trip to Wheeling, W. Va. Tomorrow night he will make one of the major speeches of his Western and Southern tour at Pittsburgh.

Connally Assails Ford For Supporting Hoover

(Associated Press.)

Senator Connally, of Texas, asked in a statement yesterday how Henry Ford could say that President Hoover must be reelected to "prevent times from getting worse" when "under Mr. Hoover and the policies that his administration has put into effect Mr. Ford has just receded from his minimum wage policy of $5 a day for the first time."

The senator, in the statement issued through the Democratic national committee, said "Henry Ford is evidently to be the industrial bellwether in the campaign which the Republican party will make between now and election day in an effort to frighten and club the workers of the country into voting for Herbert Hoover."

"The psychology-of-fear campaign is the most partisan weapon the Republicans have at their command," Connally added. "The fear which permeates the ranks of Republican officeholders and supporters can not be spread this year among the workers. Their intense suffering, which they know has been caused by the maladministration of the Hoover administration, is too real to be assuaged by any political bugaboo * * *."

"The political activity of the Hoover Cabinet has seldom been equaled. The heads of departments are running from one end of the country to the other telling their auditors what a terrible thing it would be to put them out of office, but while they are talking the offices which they seek to preserve are being neglected."

Pittsburgh Chosen By Propellor Clubs

Convention Also Opposes Changing Ocean Mail Contract System.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Reelection of all officers, selection of Pittsburgh as the 1933 convention city and passage of various resolutions, including one opposing any change in the ocean mail contract provisions of the merchant marine act of 1928, marked the final business session of the Propellor Clubs of the United States today at Virginia Beach.

Officers reelected are Arthur M. Tode, of New York, president; John Sonderman, of Baltimore, vice president, and John A. Erickson, of New York, treasurer. Harold J. Harding, of New York, was reappointed secretary.

Pittsburgh was the only active contender for the convention, although John Cormode, representative of the Seattle Propellor Club, suggested that next year's session be held aboard an American-owned ship in the course of a trip from New York to Havana or some Southern port. This suggestion, however, was not pressed.

Theft Suspect Held for Jury.

McMahon. Bond was set at $3,000. A window in the store was broken early this month and $207 was reported stolen.

INSULL BROKERAGE DEALINGS REVEALED

Swanson Finds Evidence of Huge Loans and Losses by Transactions.

Chicago, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Additional losses approximating $10,000,000 by the Middle West Utilities Co. through loans to three brokerage firms, purchases of their stock, and subsequent write-offs were alleged to have been discovered today by State's Attorney John A. Swanson.

The prosecutor, delving into the tangled debris of the collapsed financial enterprises of Samuel Insull, said he would demand that officials of the three brokerage firms, one of which is now extinct, appear to be questioned by him. Otherwise, he said, he would cause the grand jury to issue subpenas for them and their records.

The three firms named by Swanson as figuring in the alleged losses were A. B. Leach & Co., Pynchon & Co., now dissolved, and Hill, Joiner & Co.

Swanson declared that "our information shows" that Middle West bought 1,000 shares of A. B. Leach & Co. stock for $129,750 and later advanced the firm $5,911,375, which was written off as a total loss last December; that the huge holding company bought $1,462,538.50 worth of Hill, Joiner & Co. stock at the same time it purchased the other, and later granted it three loans—$1,305,956, $1,478,747.42 and $122,978.07—which also were written off last December as total losses; and that a $170,301.02 loan granted Pynchon & Co. likewise was written off.

Swanson declared that Oliver E. McCormick, treasurer of Middle West, which now is in receivership, had admitted the company financed the losses of the three brokerage firms which had "made bad deals," and that Martin J. Insull, president of the holding company, had authorized the checks.

Edward N. Hurley and Charles A. McCulloch, receivers for Middle West, reported today after an extended tour of the Southwest that the company's operating properties there were in excellent condition and that they had pruned additional savings from operating expenses, as well as causing a further $4,000,000 in overdue depreciation charges to be written off the books of the operating subsidiaries.

Postmasters in Session Hear Plea for Economy

Jesse C. Harraman, director of parcel post, yesterday appealed to the opening session of the twenty-seventh annual convention of the National League of District Postmasters, to help combat the "constantly increasing deficit of the Postoffice Department."

The league members, who comprise 50 per cent of the third and fourth class postmasters of the Nation, were urged to join in recruiting business in the various localities for the postal service. Harraman declared the deficit for the last fiscal year was in excess of $200,000,000 and added that the Postoffice Department is preparing to launch a gigantic campaign to wipe out loss and damage in the parcel post. He urged cooperation to this end.

Need for organization harmony and added numerical strength in the league was emphasized by E. A. Meeks, president of the organization, in his annual report to the delegates. He declared such measures were necessary to combat threatened deductions in income and allowances.

Other speakers were William E. Mooney, postmaster of Washington; Nelson A. Tracy, superintendent of the division of postmasters of the Postoffice Department; Howard P. Clark, engineer commissioner; Curtis A. Hodges, of the Greater National Capital committee; John A. Israelson, first vice president of the league; Mrs. L. K. Bushing, of Glennville, Ga., and E. J. Gainor, president of the National Association of Letter Carriers.

The convention, which is meeting at the Willard Hotel, will continue through Friday.

VOTING WITH CARE URGED BY CURTIS

Vice President Makes Talk in Wyoming; Storm Delays Train.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Warning against tampering with the protective duties on sugar and live stock, Vice President Charles Curtis urged a Wyoming audience today to consider carefully before voting a change in the national administration.

The Vice President, his train delayed by a sweeping storm, arrived in Cheyenne from the West this afternoon and without delay, except for a brief parade about the business district, was taken to a theater where he addressed a large crowd.

Greeting the Vice President here were former United States Senator L. C. Phipps, of Denver, and a contingent of Coloradoans.

The Republican protective tariff, the Vice President said, prevented "inroads of Canadian and Australian sheep and served as protective barrier to the stock interests of the United States."

Referring to the Republican tariff enacted at the advent of the Harding administration, Curtis said it cut down the imports of lamb and mutton from 108,000,000 pounds to 4,000,000 pounds.

Curtis said, "The Roosevelt proposed 20 per cent ad valorem tax on sugar would mean one-fifth of a cent a pound when it now is 2 cents."

Enactment of a duty of that proportion, Curtis said, "would mean ruination to the sugar beet industry of your State."

Virginia Railroads Seek to Cut Rates

(Associated Press.)

Two Virginia railroads asked the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday for permission to establish seasonal reduced emergency rates to meet motor truck competition.

The Norfolk Southern Railroad asked to publish on one day's notice a general reduction in rates on potatoes from Norfolk to the coastal territory to the South, stating it is "faced with a most acute situation" because of truck and boat competition.

The Virginian Railway applied for authority to establish at once extremely lower rates on cocoanuts from Norfolk to Lynchburg and Roanoke. The reductions asked were to Lynchburg 18 cents per 100 pounds from 37 cents per 100 pounds, and Roanoke 21 cents from 40 cents. The application said the heavy movement of cocoanuts into Norfolk by boat begins about October 25.

ROOSEVELT'S SLUMP VIEW HIT BY HURLEY

Claim That Boom Started in U. S. nad Crashed Here First Called False.

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Secretary Hurley, speaking here for the reelection of President Hoover, tonight said "Gov. Roosevelt is mistaken when he States that the boom started first and crashed first in the United States."

Hurley said the finding of the world conference of government officials and economists at Geneva in 1931, "does not agree with the conclusions of Gov. Roosevelt."

"It found that the boom and the depression in six important nations preceded the stock market crash in the United States," Hurley said.

"But aside from what caused the depression, the fact remains it did come upon us with appaling effect. Gov. Roosevelt has no plan to break the depression or to put men and women back to work. * * *

"Gov. Roosevelt wants to reduce the protective tariff, but will he state to the American people which schedule of the tariff he would reduce?

"During the years of depression the tariff was the dyke that prevented the country from being submerged by a flood of foreign goods. * * *

"The chief concern in the mind of President Hoover from the very day this depression started has been your welfare. * * *

"In setting up the great reconstruction plan President Hoover has had but one fundamental object in view and that is to protect from disaster the American home, whether that home is in the city, village, or on the farm. * * *

"The three major policies of the President stand vindicated. Serious social upheavals have been avoided. The President's organization together with all local and national relief organizations have cared for the needy. We are in a depression but panic and disaster have been averted. The economic struggle is not over. But the United States, under the administration of Herbert Hoover, is firm, solvent and confident of the future."

COLLIER WITHDRAWS NAME FOR CONGRESS

the Federal reapportionment act of 1911 were no longer in force.

The law in question had stipulated that the districts must be compact and contiguous and contain, as nearly as practicable, equal numbers of inhabitants. The validity of Mississippi's redistricting had been questioned in the light of this 20-year-old statute.

Yesterday's decision is expected to prove controlling in redistricting controversies that have arisen in Kentucky and Tennessee. In the former State, a three-judge Federal court held a new redistricting law to be a violation of the Federal act of 1911.

The Supreme Court has given Judge George C. Taylor, of the eastern Tennessee district court, ten days to show why he should not call a three-judge court to reconsider the validity of that State's new redistricting law. It has been attacked by Charles Clay James, a citizen of the State.

The decision was expected to have no effect upon Virginia. The State Supreme Court there recently declared the new redistricting law a violation of the statute of 1911 and of the State constitution as well. No appeal to the Federal Supreme Bench has been in contemplation.

Under the reapportionment act of 1929, the representation of Mississippi in the House was reduced by Congress from eight to seven members. This year the Mississippi Legislature redistricted the State by combining the old seventh and eighth districts into a new seventh, leaving the other districts unchanged.

Stewart C. Broom, in a Federal three-judge court in southern Mississippi, challenged the validity of the act on the ground it violated the 1911 act. The three-judge court declared the redistricting act invalid and prohibited State officers from holding congressional elections under it. Mississippi appealed to the Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Hughes, in the opinion yesterday, said that the reapportionment act of 1929, fixing the representation of the different States in the House of Representatives under the census of 1930, "omitted the requirements as to compactness, contiguity and equality in population of the new districts" and "did not carry forward those requirements as previous reapportionment acts had done."

Illinois Redistricting Is Due to Follow Ruling

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—The decision of the United States Supreme Court today holding ineffective regulations of the Federal law of 1911 regarding congressional districting, released the only legal obstacle to redistricting as attempted by the last Illinois General Assembly.

Fought through courts and the Legisaiture for years, congressional reapportionment was finally enacted in this State last year. But before it became operative it was held to be in contravention of the 1911 Federal law by State courts.

With the 1911 regulations now ruled ineffective, the State Legislature may tackle reapportionment which would eliminate the representative-at-large device by which the State has for years maintained its alloted membership in the lower house of Congress without the necessity of changing long-established districts.

CAB DRIVER BARES AFFIDAVIT THREAT

States Progressive League Gave Him $20; Declares He Backs Hoover.

The Republican national committee last night made public an affidavit by Carl Abeel, a Washington taxicab driver, in which he said duress was used against him to obtain an earlier affidavit saying he received $10 for a radio speech in support of President Hoover. The first affidavit had been made public by the National Progressive League.

The National Progressive League had stated that Abeel received the money from a man who gave his name as Whiting Williams, who said he could be reached through French Strother, literary secretary to the President.

The second affidavit of Abeel, given to the Republican national committee, said a Washington Times reporter told him that unless he signed the earlier affidavit "he would make it pretty bad for me." In the office of the National Progressive League, when he signed the statement, Abeel said, were Frank B. Lord and Melvin S. Hildreth.

Speaking of his earlier affidavit, he said: "I did not want to sign any affidavit. I had made the talk for the Republican party. I was glad to get the $10 for broadcasting." However, he said, after giving the affidavit to the National Progressive League he received $20.

In a statement issued with the second affidavit the Republican national committee said: "Comment * * * is unnecessary except to say that the National Progressive League has as its chairman Senator George W. Norris, of Nebraska. * * * The Washington Times is a Hearst paper."

G.O.P. Seeks to Bar 100 In Anne Arundel Vote

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 18.—Republican State central committee for Anne Arundel County has filed mandamus action in the local circuit court, to bar from the voting lists nearly 100 persons, most of whom are said to be Washingtonians, but are registered in precincts of the southern county section, by reason of owning summer homes there. Practically all of the number were registered as Democrats, it is claimed by the petitioners. Judge William H. Forsythe, jr., will hear arguments on the petitions Saturday.

In addition to the mandamus action, Republican leaders have questioned the legality of 500 or more other registrants in different sections of the county, and accordingly have filed "suspect" lists.

POLICE COMPROMISE SNAG IS PROBABLE

in principle to the plan, according to Mr. Bride. The willingness to compromise on the part of Gen. Glassford so as not to demote Chief of Detectives Burke is thought to have been prompted by the view that his recommendation would meet certain defeat at the hands of the Commissioners.

Commissioner Crosby has repeatedly said he would not remove Inspector Burke unless a "valid reason" was given.

The sympathies of the Commissioners, it is understood, are definitely aligned with Inspector Burke. The relations between Gen. Glassford and the Commissioners have been strained for months, particularly since the police head publicly questioned their veracity.

The detective chief appeared at the District Building to meet with the Commissioners and hear the allegations regarding his supposed noncooperation and "temperamental incompatability," given by Gen. Glassford as the reason for his removal.

As yet, Inspector Burke has not been informed of the exact nature of the charges against him. He did not see the Commissioners yesterday, as they were busy with other District matters.

The plan of Mr. Bride yesterday caused the District Commissioners to postpone the consideration of the police head's recommendation for removal of Inspector Burke.

Retail Food Prices Reported Lower

(Associated Press.)

The Department of Labor yesterday said retail food prices in 51 cities decreased one-half of 1 per cent in the month ended September 15, bringing the average drop during the past year to 16 per cent.

Decreases were observed during the month on 24 articles of food, among them potatoes, corn, tomatoes, bread and some meats. Fresh eggs, coffee, milk, butter, cheese and some meats showed increases.

The drop in prices was reported from 32 of the 51 cities, with 15 registering average increases and 4 showing no change. Los Angeles had the biggest gain with 8 per cent, Omaha showed 2 per cent advance and the others one or less. All cities showed food price declines for the year.

OIL INDUSTRY IN U.S. REGAINING BUSINESS

Conservation Board Reports It First Basic Unit to Emerge.

(Associated Press.)

The Federal Oil Conservation Board reported yesterday to President Hoover that the American oil business "gives indications of the being the first basic industry to emerge from the world depression."

Citing recent improvement in the industry, the board urged continued cooperation among States toward curtailing production in order that the upturn might be made permanent.

The board was appointed by President Coolidge to keep in touch with the oil situation, and to make recommendations. It, is composed of four Cabinet members—Wilbur, of Interior, chairman; Hurley, of War; Adams, of Navy, and Chapin, of Commerce.

In Accord With Demand.

"Improved conditions during recent months may be attributed to the fact that for the time being production in all States has been more closely in accord with demand than in recent years," the board said in a formal report transmitted to the White House.

"The oil States, with the industry's support, have brought about this result by cooperating to see that the curtailment has been more nearly unanimous and on an equitable basis.

"The permanency of the present improvement will depend largely on whether the State cooperation manifested in the production compact of September, 1931 (by Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas), and in the creation of the oil State's advisory committe, is continued on a permanent basis through an interstate compact, or is relaxed as conditions improve.

Market Intact.

"Unless satisfactory machinery for stabilizing the production branch is adopted, no improvement in refining and marketing practices will be wholly effective; but if constructive tendencies on the production side are made permanent, corresponding improvement in the other branches may be expected to follow.

"Certainly the oil industry, one major business with a comparatively intact market, never had a better opportunity to serve the country, and the country never had a more vital interest in the purchasing power of this industry."

TRADE OF AMERICA CONTINUES ADVANCE

Exports and Imports Rise Second Consecutive Month, Report Reveals.

(Associated Press.)

For a second consecutive month, American trade increased in September.

Commerce Department analysis yesterday showed that both exports and imports were higher last month, continuing a rise from lows for the year established in July.

September exports were $132,000,000 compared with $109,138,000 in August and $106,830,000 in July. The September imports rose to $98,000,000 from $91,100,000 in August and $79,420,000 in July.

For the first nine months of this year, goods shipped out of the United States were valued at $1,188,894,000, compared with $1,841,775,000 in the same period of 1931. Gold imports of $27,957,000 in September left the country with a gain of $27,897,000 worth of the metal, because only $60,000 was withdrawn. A year ago the imports were $49,269,000, with exports $28,708,000.

Silver imports in September also exceeded exports by $1,483,000, totaling $2,332,000.

The Commerce Department reported, too, that last week's grain exports amounted to $1,137,000 bushels, against 870,000 the week before. More wheat and corn were shipped out of the country; less barley and oats. Shipments to Canada, however, dropped from 908,000 to 712,000 bushels.

Tuna Packers Ask Writ To Delay Quiz Report

Packers of tuna fish yesterday petitioned the District Supreme Court to issue an injunction barring the Federal Tariff Commission from sending to President Hoover its findings on an investigation concerning the cost of production of tuna fish here and in Japan.

Through Attorney Lawrence J. Heller, the packers, represented by Frederick T. Seggerman, wish an opportunity to present additional evidence to the commission so that the members can render a report on all available data. Justice Oscar R. Luhring issued a rule requiring the commission to show cause Friday why an injunction should not be granted. The fight is being waged to forestall importation of foreign products in competition with American producers.

COMMISSIONERS GET SCHOOL CUPOLA ROW

tion of any intention of altering the plans of the school, now under contract. On the other hand, the protesting citizen associations threatened to take the matter before Congress, "when the administration changes," and have the cupola built on the school after its construction is completed.

Dr. Luther H. Reichelderfer, chairman of the board, appealed to the delegation in the interest of economy after Maj. Gotwals had explained his reasons for eliminating the decorative device to satisfy the demand of the subcommittee on appropriations for general economy in school construction. Even Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Crosby reminded the delegation that had it not been for the intercession of Maj. Gotwals the Taft School would have been more strictly limited by law.

Introduced by Raymond L. Gilbert, of the Burroughs Citizens Association, a dozen speakers attacked the action of Maj. Gotwals from artistic, legal, economical and other standpoints. All insisted that the architectural unity of the building would be destroyed if the school is built according to present plans.

Kenneth P. Armstrong, chairman of the schools committee of the Burroughs Citizens Association, declared that the future of local school architecture is at stake, while Wilbur S. Finch in a lengthy legal document asserted that the Commissioners are duty bound to accept the advice of the Fine Arts Commission in architectural matters.

Among other speakers at the two-hour hearing were Francis P. Sullivan, president of the District Chapter of the American Institute of Architects; Harry N. Stull, chairman of the education committee of the Federation of Citizens Associations; John M. Stockard, president of the Burroughs Citizens Association; Edward G. Sievers, president of the Rhode Island Avenue Citizens Association; Marvin McLain, of the Brookland Citizens Association; William M. Deviny, Michigan Park, and William J. Weber, Dahlgren Terrace.

Stephen E. Kramer, assistant superintendent of schools, and H. P. Caemmerer, secretary of the Fine Arts Commission, were present but did not speak. Random speakers joined in the general discussion.

Mr. Gilbert, chairman of the special committee urging erection of the cupola, said he would present the matter today before a meeting of the Board of Education.

530 Companies Believe Low Trade Point Passed

New York, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Standard Statistics Co. presents as a composite expression of opinion of 530 representative business concerns throughout the United States, the belief that "the crisis of the depression and the low point of business activity were passed early last summer."

The result of an extensive field survey by the statistical organization's workers, to be published tomorrow, however, sounds a note of conservatism, in also pointing out that it was found to be the consensus of opinion that "all that can reasonably be expected for the remainder of 1932 and for the full year 1933 is very gradual improvement."

Two Young Men Found Shot Dead in Hollywood

Hollywood, Calif., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Two young men were found shot to death at a pretentious Hollywood home today in what police expressed belief was a murder and suicide or a double suicide.

The men apparently had been dead since October 10. One was identified as Henry Westby, 28, caretaker at the house, and the other tentatively as Tex Comanche. Both had been shot in the head. A revolver lay between them. Felix de Vere, a neighbor, became suspicious because he had not seen Westby about the house and looked into the window of a bedroom, discovering the bodies.

Phone Alexandria 523.

The forty-eighth annual session of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics convened yesterday in the lodgeroom of the Alexandria Lodge of Elks, with 111 delegates present, representing practically every section of Virginia. Clyde B. Lanham, Alexandria attorney and State councilor, presided.

The State councilor submitted his report of work done during the year, which was referred to a committee. He also recommended an appropriation of $20 to purchase a flag to be presented to the council showing a net gain of 50 or more members.

A banquet was held last night in the Trinity Methodist Church. Sessions will close today with election of officers and selection of the 1933 convention city.

Mrs. John D. Sherman, past national president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, was speaker at the luncheon yesterday in George Mason Hotel, Alexandria, incident to the eighth annual meeting of the Fourth District, Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Sherman told of a new association with which she recently became affiliated, the Home Owners' Protective Association. She said she had long thought an organization of both men and women would have far-reaching effect, and this group is a decided step in the direction she has advocated.

Raymond Christ, of the Department of Labor, spoke at the morning session, in the Virginia Public Service auditorium, on American citizenship.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Frances Aylor, president of the Eighth District, with the address of welcome by Miss Helen Norris Cummings, president of the Cameron Club, of Alexandria. The response was given by Mrs. Eli Swavely, of Manassas, past district president. Talks were by Mrs. J. L. Doggett, director of national headquarters, Washington, and Mrs. B. S. Kelley, of Clarendon. Mrs. L. J. Giles, of Clifton Forge, State president, was principal speaker at the afternoon meeting.

Music was by Mrs. George E. Pickett and Mrs. Joseph Hoefft, accompanied by Mrs. D. C. Book.

A voters' educational organization for the Democrats of Alexandria was formed Monday night at a meeting in George Mason Hotel. Gardner L. Boothe was elected chairman and Taylor Burke, secretary.

Representative Howard W. Smith, in an address, stressed the necessity of instructing voters how to mark their ballots in the coming election.

The Alexandria City school board has been advised of a further cut in State school funds, amounting to approximately $6,000, according to reports. This is the second cut in school funds by the State of Virginia.

Mrs. Edna I. McMenamin, 18, wife of Lester E. McMenamin, of 29 Washington avenue, Alexandria, died Monday in Alexandria Hospital. She is survived by her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen; two brothers, Earl and Elroy Allen, and a sister, Mrs. Joseph J. Quayle.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. today from the First Baptist Church, the Rev. Pierce S. Ellis, pastor, officiating. Interment will be in Bethel Cemetery.

Mrs. Mary E. Crump, 53, widow of Ernest Crump, died Monday at her home, 424 North Payne street, Alexandria. She is survived by a son and a daughter.

Court Protection Is Asked by Wife

Mother of Two Also Seeks Limited Divorce From Mate in Jail.

A petition for a limited divorce and an order restraining her husband from doing her bodily harm were filed in Prince Georges County Circuit Court yesterday by Mrs. Juliette L. Furr, through Attorney J. Frank Lillard.

An order directing the husband, James Less Furr, to show cause why the mandamus should not be granted was signed immediately by Judge Joseph C. Mattingly.

According to the wife's petition, Furr was arrested last February and given a jail sentence on liquor charges. He threatened to kill her after serving the sentence, she says. In October he threatened her again, according to the petition, and caused her and her two children to flee from home. He was put in jail at that time, she said, but she fears what will happen when he is released again. Mrs. Furr seeks custody of the two children. The couple were married in 1921.

POLICE RADIO DENIED FOR PRINCE GEORGES

Commissioners Dispose of Request Made to Them by Chief Crowley.

Short-wave radios will not be placed in county police cars, the Prince Georges County commissioners decided yesterday after Chief of Police J. J. Crowley had told them that to place the sets in only two machines would be of little use. Earlier in the day the commissioners had ordered sets to be placed in one car at the Hyattsville station and one at the Marlboro headquarters.

Chief Crowley said that the men on duty were in the police station and could not use the sets in the cars, which would only be in use a few hours a day. Furthermore as each policeman is responsible for the machine he uses, the radio-equipped cars would serve only one man. Mr. Crowley added that radios in all the automobiles would be of great service.

Grand Jury's Suggestion.

The commissioners yesterday also decided to buy new automobiles for Policemen Claude Reed, William Clifton, and G. William Gray. The order to buy radios was taken after the grand jury had recommended that "a limited number" of the cars be equipped with them. Another recommendation of the jury, that benches be provided for persons waiting to testify before it, was also approved and the seats were ordered.

Dr. A. B. Hooton, county health officer, and Mark Welsh, hog specialist of the University of Maryland, appeared before the commissioners to ask them to draw up regulations controlling hog farms and pens in the county. Dr. Hooton was interested in decreasing the nuisance complaints arising from the hog lots, while Dr. Welsh's interest lay in reducing the spread of hog cholera. The commissioners referred both men to the attorney for the board for an opinion on the legality of such regulations.

Highland Park Constable.

A request that some member of the community be appointed a constable was received from several citizens of Highland Park, who said that they were menaced by "rough people, eavesdroppers and gamblers." The commissioners pointed out that there was already one constable in this district and referred the complaint to the police force.

The Potomac Electric Power Co. was given permission to erect a step-up station near the District line, and request for improvement of the road through Ardwick and Ardmore was referred to the district road committee. Representatives of a subdivision on the Silver Hill-Owentown road appeared to ask if the commissioners would object to the establishment of a cemetery on this tract, but were told to consult an attorney as to the legality of a burying ground at this point.

3 Schoolgirls Hurt As Bus Hits Stump

Driver Blames Mishap on Richmond Highway on Locking Wheel.

Three schoolgirls were injured yesterday afternoon when the school bus in which they were riding left the Washington-Richmond highway at the Woodlawn curve and crashed into a tree stump. The trio were taken to the Fort Humphreys Hospital nearby for first-aid treatment.

Katherine Maden, Allene Young and Virginia Clapp, each 15 years old, living near Accotink, Va., were on the bus returning home from the Potters Hill School when the accident occurred. They were cut about the face and head and suffered bruises about the body.

After being treated at Fort Humphreys, Miss Maden was taken to the Alexandria Hospital by Capt. Heywood J. Durrer, of the Fairfax County police, where four stitches were taken in her ear. The other two were treated by Dr. William P. Caton, of Accotink, and returned to their homes.

The driver stated to the police that one of the wheels of the bus locked while going down the hill, throwing it across the wet pavement into the stump.

WAR EVER INVOLVES OTHERS, ARGUMENT

Hornbeck, of State Department, Expounds U. S. Policy in Far East.

Williamsburg, Va., Oct. 18 (A.P.). Stanley K. Hornbeck, chief of the Division of Far Eastern Affairs, United States Department of State, addressing the Institute of International Affairs here tonight, said it is now impossible for nations to settle disputes by arms without disturbing other nations about them.

Armed conflicts now involve whole populations, resources and activities of belligerent nations and all of those connected with them, he said, opening the third session of the Institute, which started at the College of William and Mary last night.

The speaker offered the course of events in the Far East during the past year as an illustration of the fact that any breach of peace in any part of the world affects others.

Mr. Hornbeck said that with first reports of events at Mukden, on September 18, the whole world became watchful.

U. S. Followed Tradition.

"Various governments took steps to procure information on the situation," he said. "The League of Nations, in session, heard the explanation of both warring countries. America sent word that it would back the league's decision in order to maintain peace."

He added that the course taken by America in the situation was in line with both the traditional principles of the American foreign policy and with the American Government's conception of the spirit of the various multilateral agreements which nations have entered into since the World War for the purpose of preventing international friction.

"The American Government is convinced that the nations of the world desire peace," he said. "It has taken into consideration the fact that the League of Nations has machinery especially created for the purpose of maintaining peace. It believes, although the United States is not a member of the League, there is no reason why two or more political entities should not cooperate in carrying out measures designed for the attainment of a common objective.

Judgment Not Attempted.

"The American Government has deemed it no part of its function to sit in judgment with regard to the antecedent issues of the controversy American rights and interests. It has maintained an attitude of impartiality and its efforts have been directed toward the maintenance of American rights an dinterests. It has also deemed it proper to act in accordance with other nations whose objectives were identical with ours. America has refused to entertain any thought of hostility toward either of the disputants or toward any power interested in the Far East. It believes that only by solicitude and respect on the part of each power concerned can a solution to major problems of the Far East be secured."

Speakers at the day session today were Walter N. Polakov, of New York, discussing the growth of the Soviet Union, and Louis E. Van Norman.

Mr. Polakov described the union as ready to celebrate its fifteenth anniversary in shabby clothes, on scant rations, but triumphant, enthusiastic and confident.

The only lecture of the institute on the Far East was that delivered by Mr. Van Norman, who said that part of the world, including sixteen countries, "now looks to the West instead of the East for advancement, economically and politically, if not geographically."

Jurymen Fail to Find Car Death True Bills

For the first time in several years, no manslaughter indictments rising out of traffic deaths were returned by the Prince Georges County grand jury, it was revealed yesterday when the last lot of true bills was made public. Several automobile deaths were presented to the jury, however.

The last lot of true bills included indictments against Owen Ingram and Churchie, alias Minion Jones, storebreaking, larceny, and receiving stolen goods; Charles Dustin, false pretenses; Daniel Brooks, larceny, receiving stolen goods; Fred E. Hawkins, nonsupport; Richard Belling, assault and battery on Helen Bock, and Howard Dove, nonsupport.

Three Held for Jury On Liquor Law Counts

Three persons, arrested by Federal dry agents in southern Maryland, were held for the Federal grand jury yesterday after hearings before United States Commissioner J. Frank Parran in Marlboro. All are charged with manufacture and possession of liquor.

William Curtis and Edward Murphy, both of Hughesville, were arrested after a raid on a still in this vicinity, while the third prisoner is Andrew Buckler, of Benedict.

Man Given Ride, Steals Auto.

Francis Whelan, of Cheltenham, Md., was robbed of his automobile by an unidentified colored man on the Marlboro road near Meadows, Md., yesterday, Whelan said he gave the man a ride, and that the man then produced a gun and made his victim lie in a ditch, while he drove off toward Washington.

DEMOCRATS RECORD BIG CALIFORNIA GAIN

Have More Than Half-Million More Voters Than in 1928 Election.

San Francisco, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—A gain of more than 500,000 in Democratic registration in California for the November election, reducing to less than 400,000 the Republican lead of nearly 1,000,000 in 1928, was revealed today by an Associated Press tabulation of complete, semiofficial registration figures from all but one county in the State.

Reports from the 57 counties placed the Republican registration in President Hoover's home State at 1,539,560, a gain of 3,809 over 1928, and the Democratic voting strength at 1,147,414, an increase of 555,253 over 1928. The State total of 2,847,655 in the 57 counties set a new record.

Following the 1928 general election, Democratic registration in California turned sharply downward for the 1930 State election, but an equally sharp upward trend set in early this year that established new peaks in Democratic strength for the May and August primaries.

How the registration of the two major parties has fluctuated since 1928 is shown by the following table:

Election.	Repub.	Democrat.	State To.
1930 State...	1,638,575	458,098	2,245,228
1932 May primary...	1,394,850	847,264	2,377,143

President Hoover's home county, Santa Clara, remains Republican by more than 20,000, but there was an increase of 9,906 in the Democratic registration compared with 1928 and a gain of only 1,754 in the Republican.

This year the State is a more important political prize as it has 22 electoral votes, a gain of 9 over 1928.

Socialist registration in 57 counties totaled 15,703; prohibition, 10,768; declining to State, 130,561, and miscellaneous, 3,649.

Suspected Extortionist Guilty Under New Law

Chicago, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Deliberating less than two hours, a Federal court jury today convicted Eric Rudolph Dies, alleged "society bride extortionist," of sending threatening communications through the mails. Sentence was deferred pending motions for a new trial.

The conviction was under a new law, enacted since the Lindbergh kidnaping and given its first application here before Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward. The law provides a possible penalty of twenty years' imprisonment.

Four Youths and $7,700 In Bank Loot Captured

Stoughton, Mass., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—A few hours after the Mechanics Co-operative Bank of Taunton was robbed of $7,700, the entire sum was recovered today and four young men arrested.

The prisoners said they were James Hill, of Stoughton, 23, and James Horan, 21; William Harvey, 21, and Joseph Murphy, 22, all of Boston. All four were arrested at Hill's home and police said the money was discovered concealed in various parts of the dwelling. The Taunton bank was held up last night by four young men who at pistol point, forced two bank employes to turn over the day's receipts.

Dry Act Protection Promise Shattered

Police and U. S. Agents Intrude at Meeting of Cordial Dealers.

New York, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—"We guarantee protection," the speaker was telling an audience of 125, "from both police and Federal agents. If some of you get arrested by accident, membership in our organization will 'spring' you on a free bond and you'll have a lawyer free. Now, if——"

And then a combined force of police and Federal agents closed in on the group from every door and window. The raiders said the meeting was an attempt to organize cordial store proprietors. In addition to those who walked in, there were nine Federal agents already in the meeting, having posed as cordial shop owners. They stood up, displayed their badges and ordered every one to stand still.

Fifty men were taken to a police station, but after questioning only 12 were formally arrested and booked. Nine of them were held on charges of conspiracy to violate the Federal prohibition law. The other three were charged with vagrancy.

Hoover Supported By Head of P.R.R.

President Leading Nation Back to Good Times, Atterbury Says.

Philadelphia, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—In a statement which he said answered inquiries from some employes "as to the wise policy to follow," Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, tonight said: "I expect to vote for Mr. Hoover and to work for his reelection. I believe that result to be in the best interest of the country."

"All of our employes are of course at liberty to vote as they think best," the railroad head stated. "Mr. Hoover is in no way responsible for the chaotic economic condition of the world nor its reaction on our own country.

"We are slowly but surely recovering the ground we have lost. Industry is picking up, carloadings are increasing, confidence is being regained, and unemployment is decreasing. This is being accomplished under the leadership of President Hoover. This program, exercised through various agencies created upon his initiative, is showing good results. If permitted to continue under his guidance, I am convinced it will bring back normal conditions."

Celebration Is Planned Today at Yorktown

Yorktown, Va., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Once again Yorktown is prepared to celebrate the anniversary of the date which made it famous.

The colonial national monument of the National Park Service, citizens of Yorktown, the Comte de Grasse Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution and the Virginia George Washington Bicentennial Commission will join tomorrow in celebrating the 151st anniversary of the surrender of the British army, commanded by Lord Cornwallis, to the allied forces of France and America.

RITCHIE SAYS G. O. P. CANDIDATES ARE DRY

Tells Chicagoans Only Hope of Wets for Repeal Lies With Democrats.

Chicago, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, in two addresses to Chicago voters tonight, said the Republican platform offered "no hope" for ousting the eighteenth amendment from the Constitution.

The Maryland Governor called the Republican liquor plank a "piece of hypocrisy, deception and double dealing."

"No wonder Vice President Curtis can declare himself a dry and run on this plank," he said. "The dry President can run on it, too. It is a dry plank."

The speeches, released through Democratic headquarters, asserted the voters were confronted solely by two issues in the present campaign—hard times and prohibition. The governor discussed only prohibition tonight.

Gov. Ritchie said it was "a tragic mistake to put the eighteenth amendment in the Constitution."

Submission of Question.

"There is now but one honest and effective thing to do, namely, recognize the mistake, and take the amendment out of the Constitution. Then those States which want prohibitory legislation will be free to have it," he said.

The Republican party, he said, offered "no hope at all" for removal of the amendment while the Democratic party gave "positive assurance."

"This plank (Republican) is indisputably not for repeal," Gov. Ritchie said. "It is not even for submitting the question of repeal. The plank does pledge the party to give the States 'opportunity to pass upon' a proposed new amendment.

"The proposed new amendment makes the right of the States to deal with the problem subject to the reserved constitutional power of Congress to pass any laws 'to preserve the gains already made in dealing with the evils inherent in the liquor traffic,' and also any laws 'to protect those States where prohibition may exist.'"

Will Speak in Detroit.

Gov. Ritchie said such a plank had "practically no limits" as to how far Congress could go under such a power.

"Conceivably, Congress could pass a national prohibition act on the theory that 'gains already made' from the Volstead act could only be preserved by continuing it or by passing another," he said.

He held out the Democratic prohibition plank as definitely for repeal, and pending repeal, committed to modification.

Gov. Ritchie, and several members of his Maryland cabinet accompanying him, will leave for Cleveland and Detroit to carry on the campaign.

Borah Planning Drive For Senator Thomas

Boise, Idaho, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Senator William E. Borah said today his "entire time" during the current political campaign likely will be taken up "looking after" the interests of Senator John Thomas, Republican candidate for reelection, who is ill at his home with typhoid fever.

Senator Thomas probably will be confined to his bed until after the election. Senator Borah will speak tomorrow in Shelley and in Rexburg Thursday.

Man Freed of Charges He Plotted Auto Fraud

Lynchburg, Va., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Charges against C. N. Rodgers of conspiring to defraud an insurance company, were dismissed in Municipal Court today. The State attempted to show that Rodgers was involved in a deliberate wrecking of a car and subsequent claim for damages. He denied the charge, and his brother, Marvin Rodgers, who is serving four months at the city farm in connection with the case, testified his brother was not a party to the conspiracy.

The car in question was an old one, which was towed to the top of Lockes Mountain and rolled over a cliff. Claim was made for a collision on the mountain highway, but it resulted in Marvin Rodgers being sent to the farm last July.

Pollard to Accompany Roosevelt in Virginia

Richmond, Va., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Gov. Pollard of Virginia today accepted an invitation from Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic presidential nominee, to join the candidate's campaign train in Raleigh, N. C., October 25, and proceed with the Roosevelt party on its trip through Virginia.

Gov. Roosevelt will stop in Richmond for at least fifteen minutes, or longer, and make an address in Capitol Square. Acceptance of the Roosevelt invitation made it necessary for Gov. Pollard to move up the date of a scheduled political address in South Norfolk from October 25 to October 27.

School Head Slain, Californians Fear

Police and Students Hunt Vainly for Kidnaped Superintendent.

Redondo Beach, Calif., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—A widespread search today failed to disclose the fate of Elliot B. Thomas, 33-year-old Redondo Beach superintendent of schools, who disappeared last night after he was attacked, kidnaped and possibly killed by robbers he surprised in his office.

A gasoline station attendant was detained late today for questioning, police said, about burglar tools found near Thomas' safe. Numerous officers and 150 high school boy students searched the Palos Verdes hills surrounding the ocean and all other likely hiding places without gaining a clew as to whether Thomas was dead or alive.

The official was last seen at 7:15 o'clock last night when he left a meeting of school board members at his home to get a school financial report from his office. After his failure to return, investigators found his office in disorder, apparently the scene of a hard struggle. Flecks of blood were in the doorway.

Rider Thrown by Horse Improves in Warrenton

Warrenton, Va., Oct. 18.—Mrs. W. Harry Pool, injured in the hunting field near here Saturday when her horse threw her after taking a hard jump, is improving in Fauquier County Hospital, where she was taken immediately after the accident.

For more than 24 hours she was unconscious, but since yesterday has had lucid moments and has been able to recognize her family and immediate friends.

Police Executives End State Session

H. W. Churm, of Suffolk, Is Elected President of Association.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—The Virginia Police Executive Association adjourned its two-day session this afternoon after electing H. W. Churm, of Suffolk, as president.

J. L. Manning, of Roanoke, was named first vice president; W. E. Mahone, of Newport News, second vice president; John S. Arnold, Alexandria, sergeant at arms, and Morton D. Wallerstein, Richmond, secretary-treasurer. E. D. Weisiger, of Blackstone, and Maurice F. Greaver, of Charlottesville, were chosen members of the executive committee.

The association pledged its support to zone police schools, which will be held throughout the State and adopted a resolution thanking Capt. Albert B. Moore, of the New York State troopers, for accepting an invitation to conduct the instructors' school.

Oyster Price Decreases, But Demand Increases

Newport News, Va., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Richard Armstrong, Virginia commissioner of fisheries, said today he is encouraged by the demand for Virginia oysters this season, despite the severe drop in prices.

The price drop, he believes, is responsible for the increased demand. He believes, however, that the demand creates a better feeling among those employed in Virginia's oyster industry and, although their product brings less than it has in any season in 25 years, the demand encourages them to work at the business.

"LET THE PEOPLE SPEAK!"

says—THE Hon. I. SAVE-ON GAS

"IT'S high time the voice of the people was heard. What we ought to know is what the plain folks think. I'm one of them myself and I'm proud of it. Why even when it came to eating I was sixteen before I knew there was any part to a chicken except the neck. And when I used to drive cows to pasture barefoot, I thought socks was something to keep money in. It took the past two years to prove I was right. (Laughter).

"It's nothing to laugh at! Folks back home are getting personal. When I meet them they ask: 'Why don't you do something to make my money go further?' So I'm here today to present my 'American' Ticket and my distinguished candidates, Amoco-Gas and Orange American Gas.

"Amoco-Gas—the original special motor fuel—is one candidate that needs no introduction. Favored by thoughtful voters everywhere, the planks in the Amoco platform are more miles to the gallon and more motoring satisfaction to the mile. Amoco-Gas always wins on the issue of lower cost per mile.

"Orange American Gas—on the 'regular' platform—rates 12% better than U. S. Government motor gasoline specifications, PLUS high anti-knock rating—and is the best gasoline selling at regular gas price!

Four Men Trapped on Rock In River by Richmond Flood

Marooned 24 Hours Without Food as Rising Waters of James Climb Toward Their Vantage Point; Rescuers Unable to Reach Them.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Four men, hoboes they were called, doggedly clung to a small rock tonight, while a swirling James River flood separated them from the city's hobo haunts, known to them as the "jungle."

Flood waters, angered by a record-breaking overflow from upland streams, swirled around them and crept dangerously close to their peak of safety.

Marooned for 24 hours, without food and on a place where help could not reach them, they sat. Their only hope was that the flood waters would recede.

The rock is a favorite place for the hoboes, so the story of those watching the plight of their companions goes, because it has a natural fireplace on the north side. Five of them went there last night, built a fire and slept. They awakened today to find a torrent separating them from their "pals" on the other side of the river branch.

The water was flowing swiftly over other rocks. The river was up 10 feet or more and steadily rising.

One of them managed to maneuver, monkey fashion, through the branches of overhanging trees to a point where he was brought to safety by police armed with strong poles. But the others were not so bold.

They stayed there until the water reached a height which made even that impossible.

Police and hobo companions stood on the diminishing edge of "the jungle" and shook their heads as they discussed the situation.

THE FORGOTTEN ISSUE.

In spite of the hubbub over prohibition at both the Republican and Democratic conventions, the liquor issue is playing only a minor part in the national campaign. President Hoover outlined his position in his acceptance speech and has not touched upon the subject since. It is understood that no further reference will be made to this question by the President, and his supporters are almost unanimous in putting economic issues above the liquor question.

Gov. Roosevelt has paid little attention to prohibition. He joins in the demand of his party for repeal of the eighteenth amendment and immediate modification of the Volstead act, but he has not been inclined to stress the issue. His addresses on his western tour and since have been devoted almost exclusively to economic subjects. It was rumored that Gov. Roosevelt would talk hard times in the West, where dry sentiment is supposed to prevail, and repeal of the liquor laws in the East, which is supposed to be dripping wet. But Gov. Roosevelt doubtless realizes that he can not confine his remarks to any one section of the country, and that sectional appeals would lay him open to charges of insincerity and hypocrisy.

This quiet simmering of the prohibition issue ever since the national conventions were held illustrates the fact that most of the dissension on the subject is within the parties and not between them. All degrees of aridity and wetness are to be found in both parties. Scores of congressional fights will doubtless turn on the prohibition question, and in some States it is an issue in local campaigns. In other States both the Democrats and Republicans are dry, or both are wet.

It would be a travesty on representative government to have an election turn on the liquor issue when economic principles of far-reaching importance are at stake. Beside economic recovery, prohibition is a petty issue indeed. Here and there a vociferous candidate tries to picture repeal of the eighteenth amendment as the foundation of recovery, but the people are not inclined to pay much attention to such nonsense. A vast majority of the votes cast in November will be influenced either by the national grouch over what has happened in the last four years or by hope for economic improvement during the next presidential term.

THEORIZING PROFESSORS.

It is a pity that the "Association of Free Trade Professors" is so utterly unstrategical in disseminating its propaganda to the public. The petition of this group, urging President Hoover to reduce the tariff by executive decree, was apparently intended to embarrass the administration during the height of the campaign. But it reached the public one day after President Hoover's Cleveland address in which he utterly demolished the foundation of 10 per cent truths on which the petition was based.

About 2,000 professors and other anti-protectionist theorists signed a petition in 1930 asking President Hoover to veto the Smoot-Hawley act. Since that time foreign competition with American producers has been intensified by hard times and depreciated currency. Now the group of professorial objectors has shrunk to 180. Professor Bonbright, the instigator of this low tariff propaganda, says that more signatures are coming in. Nevertheless, he hastened to issue the petition with a meager 180 signatures.

Without having seen the petition, President Hoover furnished the tariff theorists a perfect answer in his Cleveland address. The professors have swallowed, hook, line and sinker, the political theory that the tariff is the cause of the depression. The President said:

> The trade of the world has distressingly diminished under the impact of these successive dislocations abroad. But the decrease is almost exactly the same in the free goods everywhere as in the dutiable goods. That is the case in the United States. If the Smoot-Hawley tariff reduced our imports of dutiable goods, what was it that reduced the two-thirds of nondutiable goods?

Again he makes nonsense of the argument that the tariff produced the depression in this brief array of facts:

> So they would have us believe this world catastrophe and this destruction of foreign trade happened because the United States increased tariffs on one-fourth of one-third of one-eighth of the world's imports. Thus we pulled down the world, so they tell us, by increases on less than 1 per cent of the goods being imported by the world.

With much deference to theory, and with ignorance of actual labor conditions existing in other countries, the professors express the pious belief that "American farmers, wage earners and business men have infinitely more to gain from a reduction than from an increase in the level of tariff rates." A single question in President Hoover's address is sufficient answer for the workingman. He asked:

> Do you want to compete with laborers whose wages in their own money are only sufficient to buy from one-eighth to one-third of the amount of bread and butter which you can buy at the present rates of wages?

So long as professorial theory ignores the difference in the standards of living in the United States and other countries, the theorists waste their time. Fact and not theory makes tariff protection essential to the American workingman and farmer.

A CONGRESSIONAL BLUNDER.

It is questionable whether the Supreme Court's decision, upholding Mississippi's readjustment of congressional districts, will relieve or complicate the chaotic situation arising from the 1930 reapportionment law. Congressmen will be elected from the various districts, instead of being chosen by the people of Mississippi at large. But the gross discrimination against some counties will be allowed to stand unless Congress amends the reapportionment act.

A Federal court in Mississippi decided that the redistricting act passed by that State's legislature was invalid because it violated the Federal statute of 1911, which provides that all congressional districts shall be contiguous, compact and as nearly equal in population as possible. Since one congressional district in Mississippi has 184,000 inhabitants, compared with 420,000 residents in another, the 1911 act was certainly violated. But now the Supreme Court says that Congress repealed that act when it passed the 1930 reapportionment law.

This is a tragic joke on Congress. Members of both houses who handled this legislation will probably be more surprised than any one else to learn that they have nullified the legal restrictions against gerrymandering. As the law now stands States are free to make a mockery of representative government, by giving all the representation to favored political groups. Mississippi, Virginia and various other States offer ample proof that State politicians are making the most of these opportunities.

Congress is faced with the necessity of amending the 1930 reapportionment act so as to make gerrymandering illegal once more. Some States have acts of their own to insure against unequal representation in Congress, but the number of States that wink at gerrymandering is large enough to justify reinstatement of the 1911 regulations. Even that action will not mend the damage that has already been done. Most of the States have completed reapportionment of congressional districts, and it is improbable that Congress can require them to make adjustments until after the next census is taken in 1940.

The Supreme Court's decision does not mean that the 1932 redistricting laws of Virginia and Kentucky will be reinstated. These were declared invalid by the State courts. Gerrymandering in Virginia is forbidden by the State Constitution, and the decision of the court was not entirely dependent upon the 1911 Federal statute which the Supreme Court says is dead. Presumably the Virginia decision will stand, and congressmen from that State will have to be reelected at large.

AS WOMEN OR CITIZENS?

Not only in this country but in England it continues to be a much discussed question as to whether women in connection with their political activities should continue to have separate organizations among their own sex. Ever since the franchise was extended to women there has been as great a division of opinion among women as men on this subject. Many maintain that since women are the equal of men as voters they should become regular members of political organizations and not continue to support their own organizations, which seem to seek preferment for women because they are women.

Opposition to women movements maintains that there should be no element of sex in seeking preferment; that women should secure recognition, nominations and office strictly upon the basis of individual merit and qualifications to fill positions sought. It is held that they belittle their own abilities and their rights of equality when they segregate themselves to demand consideration through the influence of associations exclusively their own.

If women are still comparatively few in political positions of importance it must, of course, be remembered that their entrance into public affairs through the use of the ballot is very recent, and ancient prejudices die hard. It was due to the votes of a majority of the men that women were given the ballot, but there still remains a large proportion of women who have never been enthusiastic about the privilege, and even more who continue to favor giving most of the positions of leadership to men.

The realm of politics does not appear very different in this regard from other lines of endeavor. In religion, among the professions and in business, comparatively few of the high places go to women, though these fields have been open to them longer than governmental offices. In business the increase in the number and proportion of women employes during a single generation has been phenomenal. Here there is no question of their being forced into positions because of sex; they must secure and hold their jobs in competition with men.

No less sturdy a political fighter than Lady Astor, member of the British Parliament, who asks no quarter from her male adversaries on the floor or on the stump, favors the continuation of women's political organizations because of old-fashioned ideas that women are "inferior creatures who should be kept in their place." She holds, paradoxically, that women's organizations must go on existing in order to hasten the time when separate women's organizations need not exist. Opposed to this view is that of those who claim that if, in the first stages of their enfranchisement, women needed special facilities of their own for equalizing the greater experience of men, such distinct organizations now appear to put them in opposition or competition with men, when in fact they must work with them in close harmony and on a basis of merit alone. It is maintained that we have now reached the stage where the organization of women apart from men is unprofitable, for the reason that the interests of men and women are and should be identical.

AGE OF THE EARTH.

One of the delightful things about being a scientist is the privilege that high status gives one to propound riddles to the public. For the most part scientific research is dull drudgery. It involves minute calculations, extensive hard work and less imagination than the public supposes. But once in a while the scientist is privileged to glean forth, like the flash of a meteor at night, with a brilliant generality that no one can prove and no one can contradict.

This is the kind of privilege in which Professor Albert Einstein indulged when lecturing to a Berlin audience on cosmic space. He calculated that the outer spiral nebulae are moving away from the earth at a speed of 12,500 miles per second, and that this expansion of the universe has been going on for approximately 10,000,000,000 years. To laymen the most interesting thing in his lecture is his conclusion that "our planet very probably saw the very beginning of this expansion of universal space."

Many heroic efforts have been made to calculate the age of the earth. Some of the earlier scientists based their conclusions on the length of time that would be required for the sea to attain its present saline qualities. Others tried to learn the secret from the rocks laid down in early geologic periods. Kelvin attempted to estimate the earth's age from the supply of energy received from the sun and by the cooling of the earth's crust. Other evidence on the subject has been deduced from the orbit of the earth and its relation to the other planets.

Up to date, however, the best known method of calculating the age of the earth is based on radioactivity. Radium breaks up at a known rate. The final product of the radioactive process in certain minerals is a kind of lead. The amount of this lead known to exist gives the basis for estimating that the earth is between 1,500,000,000 and 3,000,000,000 years old.

In recent studies there has been a tendency to expand this figure. Now Professor Einstein suddenly trebles the estimate, apparently from his studies of cosmic space. He ought to be careful now that he has accepted a professorial position in the United States. His German friends may accuse him of yielding to the so-called American inclination for "bigger and better" estimates.

The American Bar Association admires the Constitution, but it objects to the technicality of an income tax on lawyers' fees.

Chancellor von Papen says that if the creditor nations will yield up their markets, Germany will pay her debts.

OREGON AND HOOVER

By JULIUS L. MEIER, Governor of Oregon, in Letter to the New York Times.

In my opinion, the reelection of President Hoover is absolutely essential to a speedy and effective termination of the grave depression with which our Nation has been confronted.

As every one familiar with governmental and financial affairs recognizes, this depression had its origin in a financial earthquake precipitated in Europe a year and one-half ago and which spread with such rapidity that it soon involved 40 nations, leaving in its wake prostrated financial systems, revolutions and collapsed governments.

It was inevitable that the shock from this wide cataclysm should reach America, and had it not been for the courageous and unprecedented governmental remedial program with which the administration at Washington under the leadership of President Hoover met the crisis this Nation might have also been hurled over the precipice.

While we are now emerging from this crisis, the battle has not yet been won. We have been making rapid progress, especially within the last few months, but we are still confronted with many serious problems, the solution of which requires the constructive leadership of President Hoover.

The issues involved are grave and the stake great. We are not only confronted with the problem of restoring complete prosperity but also with the problem of correcting the weaknesses in our system which the depression has disclosed.

To exchange the tried and successful leadership of President Hoover now for the new, untried and untrained leadership of the Democratic presidential nominee would, in my opinion, not only defer for years the return of prosperity but might plunge the country into another crisis.

So believing, I am giving President Hoover the whole-hearted support of my administration. Recognizing the necessity of presenting a solid front on the part of the Republicans of Oregon in the presidential campaign, I was instrumental in bringing into existence the Hoover-Curtis Club, which is now effectively cooperating with Republican State organizations.

Since Roosevelt's visit to the States there has been a marked swing to the Republican party ticket in Oregon. In my opinion this is due, first, to the disappointment of the people in Roosevelt and his policies, and, secondly, to an awakening on the part of the people to the achievements of President Hoover and the necessity of continuing his far-visioned leadership at the head of the Nation until prosperity has been completely restored and the country returned to normalcy.

The Taxpayers' Nightmare.

POST HASTE.

We await with interest a distinction of the difference between the "self-sustaining" projects Gov. Roosevelt would finance as opposed to the "self-liquidating" projects the R. F. C. is now financing.

The President is to speak in Detroit Saturday. We trust there will be no conflict with the recommend of the Ford company for Mr. Hoover.

"Think of me trying to answer Gov. Ritchie on prohibition in five minutes, when he has been talking about it all his life," said Gov. Allen. But Henry did it pretty well, at that.

Try this on your eliminator: Delete from Gov. Roosevelt's speeches his general promises for the future and his advocacy of things the present administration already has under way, and see what you have left.

If the comparatively few veterans who are demanding the cash bonus could be lined up before the 10,000,000 unemployed who must be helped, the boys wouldn't have the nerve to take the money.

That slight sniffle in the sleeve you hear is Chicago crying—or something—over New York's financial difficulties.

"Now we have another Roosevelt who stands for practically the same things as Theodore Roosevelt," says Senator Norris. Whence this inside information?

Don't hold Gov. Roosevelt entirely responsible for his speeches on this trip either, since those three Columbia professors are going along again.

Irrespective of the Seventy-third Congress, are Norris, Borah, Brookhart and Johnson to be allowed to occupy seats on the Republican side of the Senate in December?

It has been necessary to install movie-studio methods in Chile, according to Punch. If they don't like a revolution they shoot it again.

Tonight at Pittsburgh, Gov. F. D. R. will deny a C. O. D. bonus, but cushion the news, on the q. t., with sympathy for the B. E. F., criticism for the G. O. P. and justice P. D. Q. for vets who suffered in the A. E. F.

OLDEST ROAD IN U. S.

Six thousand years is probably a conservative estimate of the age of the road that, in two branches, comes into the United States in the southwest corner of Texas, says the Highway Magazine. Geologists claim that the region around the El Paso Valley of the Rio Grande has changed little in 10,000 years, while geologists and archeologists both agree that the oldest peoples used the trails now known as U. S. 62 and U. S. 80 close to El Paso, and as U. S. 85 north of El Paso.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

CROW CONVENTION.

So deafening a tumult rose
From out a grove where gathered crows,
I said to Bill: "I fancy that's
A group of feathered Democrats."

"Republicans perhaps," said Bill,
Or what is even likelier still
So long the clamoring persists
Those inky birds are Communists."

Convention time and early fall,
A patch of woods the meeting hall.
And all that bickering, I suppose,
About the common rights of crows.

"At times," said I, "I envy birds,
Denied the privilege of words,
But when the crows convene again
I think how much they are like men."

Better Weapons Can Not Insure Victory If the Men in Ranks Are Yellow

By ROBERT QUILLEN

OUR gods have shown their clay feet.

Here we are in the midst of trouble and tribulation and no help comes from the things we once regarded as the sure means of salvation.

We considered money the most important thing in the world and sacrificed everything else to get it. We were proud of being the richest nation in the world. The wealthy were our idols and our ideals.

Well, the money is still here—somewhere. But it doesn't provide jobs for the jobless or a market for the farmer's surplus. It doesn't alter the fact that food rots on the ground while millions are hungry.

Next to money we ranked education. It was important because it helped us to get money. Give us enough education, we said, and all of our problems would be solved.

Well, we were educated. Our colleges overflowed. We spent billions to provide schools for our young people. We knew things never dreamed of in the time of our fathers.

But education didn't keep us solvent. It didn't prevent the persistent increase of crime. It didn't make us a law-abiding people or teach us to respect authority.

Our third god was science. We stood before it in open-mouthed awe. It gave us play pretties and conveniences. We became a race of button pushers, shouting the praises of men who gave us leisure and speed in transit. Science was the new religion which would end our troubles and make earth a paradise.

And yet science could not save us. Bad checks, worthless bonds, fraud, robbery and racketeering still trouble us in spite of it. It doesn't lessen the number of divorces or preserve chastity or increase respect for the old-fashioned virtues. It doesn't keep officials honest or keep boys out of prison.

Doesn't this mess we are in suggest that our system was wrong? Isn't it clear that we gave first place to things of secondary importance?

The truth of the matter is that we got our values mixed. We emphasized the wrong things and developed too fast on one side. Our civilization was deformed.

We valued machines too much and manhood too little. We developed material resources and neglected spiritual things. We improved gadgets and forgot to improve people.

People are the important item in a civilization. If we gain the whole world and do nothing to improve people, our gain is nothing.

Success gives the farmer better barns, but he wins success by breeding better cattle.

Chicago Tribune.

The political campaigns have slipped into high and scores of speeches are being made nightly. None of them carries a message as important for the American people as that which was brought to Chicago by Rear Admiral Byrd, president of the National Economy League. The truth of the matter is that both parties are reluctant to accept the gospel which he is preaching, though both have paid it lip service. If Government expenditures are reduced in this country it will not be because the office-holders are burning to end the regime of waste, but because an outraged people has demanded economy and will accept no excuses for failure to bring it about.

New Hampshire is a small State, but it is putting on a big campaign. Habitually counted as safely Republican in presidential years, New Hampshire right now is regarded as doubtful. Brown, former Mayor of Somersworth, a former United States district attorney, and at present a member of the public service commission.

"Leader" Rainey on Hoover.

Topeka Capital.

Representative Rainey, of Illinois, Democratic House leader, in his speech in Topeka added no dignity to the Democratic campaign by his petty disparagement of President Hoover. Mr. Hoover, he told his hearers, "never was an engineer—he was merely a promoter."

American engineers evidently had never heard of this when they elected him as national president of their association.

Thinks Iowa for Hoover.

Leaminister Enterprise.

The Democrats claim Iowa this year, but it is unthinkable that they will carry Iowa. It will be astounding if Mr. Hoover does not carry it by 25,000 plurality. He could hand over 125,000 votes from his 1928 plurality to Mr. Roosevelt and still have that State safely in his own column. For every disgruntled farmer in Iowa there are 100 farmers that are not complaining. President Coolidge's veto of the farm relief bill, accompanied by a terrific blast, the most caustic utterances that the Chief Executive made, did not prevent the State going overwhelmingly Republican at the next election.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Democrat Wants to Know Why Senator Robinson Proposes to Give Republican Insurgents Committee Chairmanships.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The voters of this country, and especially those who vote the Democratic ticket, are entitled to a clear-cut statement from the Democratic leaders in Congress as to whether they share the unusual and heretofore unheard-of views recently expressed by Senator Joe Robinson to the effect that insurgent Republicans who now hold chairmanships of committees in the Senate and who may support the Democratic ticket will not be replaced by Democrats.

It is no exaggeration to say that thousands of voters have decided to vote the Democratic ticket this year in order that such radicals as Senators Brookhart, Blaine and Norris might be replaced by Democratic senators. It now appears, according to Senator Robinson's views, that even if the Democratic ticket wins we may still not have a Democratic administration.

As a lifelong Democrat I should like to know what the other Democratic senators propose to do about this matter. If a great many of the important places now held by so-called Republicans are not to be filled with Democrats, I for one, can see no reason for making any change in the administration.

W. P., A DEMOCRAT.

Federal Government Should Not Be Made Responsible for Failure of States to Meet Emergencies.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: A thing which in the next few years will call for the best efforts of American publicists is the preparation of a well-defined, adequate and permanent policy for relief in possibly recurring periods of unemployment. The result will be especially helpful if the planning is considered in a nonpartisan state of mind.

The recent Albany radio speech of Gov. Roosevelt, in a brief general view of the subject, furnishes a suitable text.

Speaking of "a situation where there are so many people out of work that local funds are insufficient" and where also the resources of a State government are not adequate, he says:

"I am very certain that the obligation extends beyond the States and to the Federal Government itself if and when it becomes apparent that States and communities are unable to take care of the necessary relief work."

This seems to be the conclusion of some other public thinkers. It may serve as a point from which to consider and develop the proper means by which to deal with a condition of economic anemia under the Constitution of the United States. But because of its assumption that there are weaklings among the States who in an emergency may lack the strength or the inclination to take care of their own, it must, in the light of American development hitherto, be considered an obnoxious conclusion.

Should it ever become the fixed policy of the National Government to give supplemental aid to the States in periods of excessive unemployment it would result in an administrative complexity which would be extremely wasteful even if not taken advantage of by mercenary demagogues. And it is not easy to understand how men intrusted with the management of public affairs can fail to see that national revenues for the aid of the States finally involve, in one form or another, as much of a tax on the people of the States as if they were in fact State revenues.

Therefore, the plain, common sense view must be that if the States are incompetent to meet an economic emergency like that of unemployment, the only safe alternative will be to make it the sole function of the National Government to furnish aid in such emergencies.

I like to believe that there is little danger of such a change in our form of government as that alternative might bring about. And the repugnance with which such statesmen as President Hoover denounce the idea that American communities and the State have lost their sense of civic responsibility in encouraging. I hope that Candidate Roosevelt, proud of the self-reliant attitude of his own State, will, if elected President, cease to give heed even to the possibility of such a condition of things.

FEDERALIST.

Says Hoover Has Worked Out Remedy for Depression and Should Be Sustained.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: President Hoover has recently revealed to the country how, with faith in the practicableness and integrity of our ideals, and with a vision that looks beyond individual and party interests to those of the nation and humanity, he is bringing our people out of fearful financial and economic peril.

Scholarly, prepared and disciplined, our President is a true exponent of character in politics; he has a passion for facts and the truth. In the patient laboratories of his heart and mind, through his own consummate genius, he analyzed the causes of our wilderness wanderings; he found the sure, though tedious, road to safety and security, and now leads the way.

Herbert Hoover embodies the intelligence and conscience of the nation, and looks upon the great office he holds, not as a prize to be awarded to the most artful player in a game of words, but as a sacred trust worth dying for.

This conflict of peace in which the nation is now engaged demands our utmost self-sacrifice. Individual, class and sectional selfishness must be swept aside. Now is the time for all good men and women to support their wise, faithful President.

Lutheran College Merger Is Voted

West Virginia School Will Be Closed as Result of Conference Action.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—One of the most controversial questions before the first biennial convention of the American Lutheran Church was settled temporarily today with delegates voting to merge Eureka Lutheran College, Eureka, S. Dak., with St. Paul Lutheran College, at St. Paul, and Wartburg Normal College, Waverly, Iowa, with Wartburg College, Clinton, Iowa, at Clinton.

The mergers will be effective at the close of the present school year, when St. John Junior College, youngest school of the church, at Petersburg, W. Va., will be closed, the result of action taken by the convention.

The convention voted to instruct all presidents, faculty members and members of the boards of regents to resign at once, the resignation to be effective at the close of the school year. New boards of regents for each of the new merged schools, twelve members to the board, will be elected by the present convention.

JAZZING UP THE BANKS.

"The time will come when people will be made to feel as at home in banks as in drug stores. The mystery and awe and dignity that once surrounded them is disappearing. People should feel as welcome in banks as in speakeasies."—From an address by Mr. Ernest C. Calkins.

* * * *

COME on, banks! How about a little jazz music and some free lunch? How about a plate of hot soup and a choice of salads for the hurried depositors?

* * * *

Mr. Calkins has a good idea. There is no getting away from the fact that banks have been about as warm as ice houses.

* * * *

They have been getting warmer during the past few years, but there is still lots of room for a big thaw. Two many banks still give a depositor all the sensations of a trip through the ice pack with pen and pencil.

* * * *

Banks must unbend and relax, says Mr. Calkins. They must make the depositors feel comfortable and happy At present you enter the marble arena, hurry by the frigid guards, button your overcoat as you pass the executive offices, and hurry out with the feeling you have been standing in a draft.

* * * *

Why not a jazz orchestra, a torch singer, and even a hostess urging the officials to "Give that little depositor a great big hand?"

* * * *

Think of the appeal of a new note in bank and trust company advertisements:

BANK WITH THE THIRD NATIONAL AND HEAR CAB CALLOWAY!

Limited engagement! Rasch Dancers.

* * * *

LET THE TRADESMEN'S HELP YOU MAKE THAT WILL WITH HARRY RICHMAN.

* * * *

GET 4% AND GOLDMAN'S BAND OF 40 PIECES at THE PLANET TRUST CO.

One of the most important officials in the bank of the future m... be the Master of Ceremonies.

* * * *

And you may yet run across the depositor who will tell you he has withdrawn his account from the First National because he didn't like the floor show.

RED CONSERVATION.

THE Soviet has expelled 24 leaders. It serves them right for being so radical.

TRANSPLANTING THE HIGHER EDUCATION.

So many Yale professors are running for office in Connecticut that there is a possibility the State Legislature will soon be opened with "Bright College Years."

ELMER DRAWS THE LINE.

Elmer Twitchell says the five-day week will be okay if they don't make the two-day beach picnic compulsory.

GOV. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT'S speech in Pittsburgh tonight, which is expected to be based on the Democratic candidate's exposition of his stand on the bonus question, will be broadcast over Station WRC at 9:30 o'clock.

Henry Ford will make one of his few microphone appearances tonight, when he speaks over WRC at 8:30 o'clock in support of President Hoover's candidacy.

Mrs. L. Louis Slade, chairman of the National Women's Hoover Committee in 1928, and Mrs. Henry W. Farnum, Jr., of New Haven, will speak during the Republican Women's quarter-hour (WRC, 3:15 p. m.) today.

EDDIE CANTOR has set the date for his return to the Chase & Sanborn Hour—Sunday, October 30, at 8 p. m. Jimmy Wallington, Rubinoff and the orchestra will be on hand to welcome him.

Choral music of early England, a Zuni Indian melody, a selection from Brahms and a Russian folk dance highlight the second of the series of programs by the Westminster Choir (WRC, 2:30 p. m.) today.

ONE of the most comprehensive series of classical music broadcasts ever offered during a winter season will be heard in Washington with the advent of Station WJSV (1,460 kilocycles, 205.4 meters) as the Capital area key station of the Columbia Broadcasting System. The station will go on the air in that capacity Thursday night at 9 o'clock.

The full schedules of the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Arturo Toscanini; the Philadelphia Orchestra, conducted by Leopold Stokowski, and the Columbia Symphony Orchestra, directed by Howard Barlow, will be heard.

A large vaudeville orchestra recently included in its program a number entitled "An Imitation of the Mills Brothers." The boys are now in the midst of a series of personal appearances at the Howard Theater.

THE largest cast of radio names ever assembled in one picture will be seen here when "The Big Broadcast" opens at the Palace Theater a couple of weeks hence.

Bing Crosby, Kate Smith, the Boswell Sisters, Donald Novis, the Mills Brothers, Arthur Tracy (the Street Singer), Burns and Allen, Guy Lombardo's orchestra, Vincent Lopez's band and Cab Calloway and the boys.

In addition, there will be Jimmy Wallington, who introduces Lopez; Don Bell, Norman Brokenshire, William Brenton and other announcers going through their regular routine on the screen.

Guy Lombardo's Canadians, with those dumbest of the dumb air entertainers, George Burns and Gracie Allen, plus the tenor voice of Phil Regan, will hold forth on WMAL at 9 p. m.

Don Ball, C. B. S. announcer, and Virginia Arnold, staff pianist, were married the other day. A matrimonial epidemic has been sweeping through the ranks of Columbia announcers. Just two weeks before, Carlyle Stevens was married, and Paul Douglas was wed just a month prior to that.

A group of six Western stations associated with one of the national networks received the wrong program the other day through the error of a sound engineer in Chicago. The mistake went unnoticed for four and a half minutes, an eternity on the air. Such mistakes are very rare and usually are noticed within a half-minute.

EDWIN C. HILL, whose fluent radio addresses on current events have made him one of the most popular of news commentators, is said never to have delivered a public speech.

King Hears Voice Record.

London (U.P.).—On a recent visit to "Broadcasting House," King George heard a record of one of his own radio speeches. "Dear me," he said, "I must have had a cold."

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

BEN LYON

BEN LYON, coming to the Columbia Theater on Friday in "The Crooked Circle," is a bit of an insurgent. In a good cause he doesn't mind leading with his chin a time or two, but when it comes to making it a habit, that is something else again.

Which is by way of intimating something of the reason he is not performing under contract on the Warner lot as was the case some months back. They swung the ax against Ben's contract salary once too often and because he wouldn't grin and bear it, declined the privilege of taking up his option—or so the story goes.

At any rate, the point is that the enthusiastic and genial Mr. Lyon is doing pretty elegant work for various of the solvent, but less spectacular, of the producers, who pick their actors where they find them and let him in on the results. Associated with him in "The Crooked Circle" are such reliable players as Irene Purcell, Jimmy Gleason, C. Henry Gordon, SaZu Pitts and Raymond Hatton—which would be a ne plus ultra cast in any man's picture.

Before he married Bebe Daniels, Ben was by way of being a bit of an auction hound—sale, not bridge. Every time he heard the "going, going, gone" business, he took himself there and made important purchases—$25 vacuum cleaners that disintegrated after the first week, rich imported tapestries, musty from the looms of Hoboken, N. J.; priceless Oriental rugs, worn thin by centuries of service in the palaces of Scranton, Pa., and the like.

Perceiving that he was not so hot as a connoisseur of objets d'art, Mr. L. on shrewdly transferred his activity to the collection of lithographs, specializing in those of the master, George Bellows.

One that he valued most was a scene from the historic encounter between Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson at Reno, Nev., on July 4, 1910. Learning that Jeffries, greatest of the living ex-heavyweight champs, spent much of his time in a small suburban L. A. ferroom only a few miles from Hollywood, Ben thought it would be entirely top hole to get Jeff's autograph on his lithograph, thus adding appreciably to its already ample value.

He found Jeff with no great difficulty and was delighted that the champ seemed a bit flattered that a movie star should seek his signature. It was a moment of camaraderie, high regard, the flow of soul and all that sort of thing, until Ben made the almost fatal mistake of unfurling the litho for the coveted flourishes of the Jeffries chirography.

There, before the very eyes of ex-white hope, glared Mr. Bellows' fabulous rendering of the end of the fight, a huge black man standing in triumph over the crumpled form of a huge white man while the referee tolled off the inexorable count of ten!

Mr. Jeffries grunted. Mr. Lyon burst into a cold sweat and that was about all there was to it, except that when Ben picked up his fountain pen from where Mr. Jeffries had thrown it, he took one look and tossed it right back again, charging the item off to profit and loss.

But he had his $1,000 litho and Jeffries had signed it.

There were no clouds, no rain, no gloom around the executive offices of the National Theater last night. All was merry and bright, faces beamed and the goose hung practically as high as current taxes! The reason? Pull up your chair and bend an ear.

Last evening just about the time the crowds would have been filing in to see Ed Wynn in "The Laugh Parade"—if Ed Wynn had been appearing in "The Laugh Parade" instead of broadcasting from New York last night—Mr. Stephen E. Cochran, major domo of Col. Rapley's temple of the arts, was apprised by long distance phone that instead of having a dark house next week, he will have Brown and Henderson's new musical comedy, "Forward March," which opened in Philadelphia last night.

"Forward March" will begin its engagement at the National on Sunday night, one day earlier than was planned for "The Pure in Heart," which it supplants.

Lest we forget, lest we forget: Today is the day that "Life Begins," at the Metropolitan, and "The Washington Merry-Go-Round," at RKO-Keith's, reveal their remarkable, but wholly different, qualities of merit to Washington's movie fandom, two days in advance of usual opening.

Think of what an opportunity it would have been, had you but known it! I mean about Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Vallee yesterday afternoon. Here, after all this time you've been wanting to see them together, what should they do but walk right into RKO-Keith's Theater, big as life and in broad daylight—that is as broad as any daylight we've been having these past few days—to see for themselves what all of that "Phantom of Crestwood" broadcast was about.

They were the only two in the theater who watched the screen!

And getting back, momentarily, to those premature openings, don't forget, either, that "Once in a Lifetime" opens its Washington engagement with a special midnight preview showing tomorrow night, beginning at 11:15. This feature, of course, is unique in that it is the first picture of major importance in which the movies have cracked down on their own foibles, fol-de-rols and idiosyncrasies. I am told that the film omits nothing but a few of the more inflammatory naughty words that were used in the stage play—which ought to be a distinct improvement.

Rose Franken, author of that remarkable dramatic hit—which, by the way, Washington didn't recognize as such—"Another Language," which has reached the six months' anniversary of its run in New York, it may interest some to know, has sailed for London to attend rehearsals of the play, preparatory to its opening there on or about November 15. In London Edna Best and Herbert Marshall will have the roles being played in New York by Dorothy Stickney and Glenn Anders.

It is Mr. Marshall, you will remember, who is appearing opposite Marlene Dietrich in "Blonde Venus," currently occupying the screen at the Earle. And it was Miss Best, of course, who "ran out" on a John Gilbert production not so long ago to be with Mr. Marshall in the East.

Ed Wynn is nothing if not revolutionary. As though to pile Pelion on Ossa—or perhaps it is the other way around, I'm a little behind in my home work—by stacking novelties all over "The Laugh Parade," the best revue he has ever had, every one seems to agree, the lovely ladies of the ensemble in most of the scenes, of all things, actually wear stockings!

The effect is a good deal like that upon the man who was told that Lady Godiva was riding through town and hurried right down to the line of march because he hadn't seen a horse in years!

That's the way it is with a stocking-ed and long-skirted chorus. Hardly since Marie Cahill's hey-heyday!

That reference a while back to Edna Best's having taken French leave of a picture John Gilbert was making, recalls that Mr. Gilbert is a nervous and extremely sensitive young man, whose feelings must be constantly borne in mind and shielded by those associated with him on the sets.

He Bruces so easily, as you might say!

La Follette Paper for Roosevelt.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 18.—The Madison Capital Times, La Follette Progressive Republican newspaper, today editorially urged Progressives in Wisconsin to vote for Franklin D. Roosevelt in November.

Ed Wynn, author, producer and star of "The Laugh Parade," whose current week at the National Theater was interrupted last night while he jumped to New York for his regularly scheduled broadcast. He will be back for today's matinee.

Interpreting the Mode

By DARE

Very elegant and gracefully formal is a dark brown velour coat with unusual fur treatment. (Courtesy of Philippe et Gaston, Paris.)

THE craving for beauty is a natural desire in every human breast. The early Greeks worshiped beauty as a religion, and to have a beautiful body was the highest ideal of this race, which gave the world its first real conception of classical loveliness of body and features.

The twentieth century might well be called the century of beautiful women. For it is a fact that there are more beautiful women today than ever before in the world's history.

Is this because modern women are endowed with more natural beauty than were their predecessors? No, it is due to the intelligence of this generation, and to the care that they give to the maintenance of the beauty that nature has bestowed upon them. And to training and developing the latent beauty with which every woman is born, which in earlier times may never have been brought to the surface, or have been allowed to fade and finally disappear through lack of care.

Every woman can be beautiful! Some are naturally endowed with beauty, others have to work hard for it—but all can have it. And every woman should have the beauty which comes from spiritual and character qualities, which she can develop by her own effort and self training, and the physical beauty of carriage, complexion, hair, voice and grace. No matter the age, or size, or shape of one's body, the above mentioned can be beautiful, and show me any one who could deny that a woman was truly beautiful who had these characteristics!

What better gift for a very dear friend than an adorable hand-made nightgown? And when you can make it yourself! Well, the most 'spensive one you could bring her from Paris would be hand-made, my deah. Then as if that weren't enough, what if it was something different in the way of a nightie? S'pose it had a bolero top and a separate skirt that tied on around the waist, and a separate pajama besides? Well, it's the favorite in our lingerie box, anyhow, and you can just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for the leaflet which tells you how to make it, if you would like one for a gift or for yourself. This is a "repeat" leaflet from last year, but we just had so many requests for it—and no wonder, since it is such a flattering idea, as well as novel and darling.

Of all the "croquis" we have received from Paris of the new collections, the most graceful coat I ever saw, I honestly do believe, I sketched for you today. "Croquis" is a rough sketch, you know, from which I make my sketches for you.

Well, this coat is of dark brown velour, and the fur beige something or other—soft fur. But the way the fur drapes itself around milady in a sort of cape effect is what I love—and the back of it, in the little sketch, shows how the fur starts. Philippe et Gaston are responsible for this model, and I must, humbly, offer my congratulations!

And a flat and square metal pennant with a stone in the middle—I just had to sketch for you in the lower right of today's illustration!

Au revoir.

How to Keep Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS

INDIAN REMEDIES.

OUTSIDE the cities the people still have considerable faith in Indian medicines. In these sections of the country there are still a good many persons who buy and take medicine sold under supposed Indian names, and with labels that state that the medicine is compounded in accordance with recipes obtained from the Indians.

Most of these medicines are given Indian names that no Indian ever heard of. Most of them contain medicines that the Indians never used—in fact, never heard of. The people who compound them never saw an Indian in the wild state and did not obtain the recipes they use from Indians, either directly or indirectly. The names and statements on the label are merely sales talk, hooey, bunk—put together for the purpose of trading on an accepted notion.

When the remedies were launched the notion prevailed that because the Indian lived in the woods or open spaces he must have captured most of nature's secrets. There is still some sale because even yet the notion is adhered to by some people.

The fact is, the Indian knew almost nothing of drugs and medicines. The so-called Indian medicine was about nine parts preacher and one part physician. Most of his ministrations were spiritual and psychic. He used sweats and some little other physical therapy to a limited degree and, to even a more limited degree, the healers—some of whom went by titles other than medicine men—used a few teas.

The Indians had few diseases to treat and those they had they treated poorly at best. Probably they had a great deal of diarrhea and digestive disturbances. They may have had typhoid fever and certainly they had some diseases due to bacteria akin to the typhoid bacillus. They had a low birth rate, and their families were small, their children were far apart in years, their villages never overflowed with young people, and their population increased but slowly. Their death rates were high and the average length of life was short. They moved about a great deal. Shifting locations took the place of sanitation and living in small, isolated communities took the place of prevention. Neglect of the sick and weaklings, stoicism, and fatalism took the place of a science and art of cure.

The Indian had but little curiosity and, in consequence, he discovered but little. In the countries he occupied there were many plants containing powerful physiologic principles, but he made very little medicinal use of them. We might cite tobacco, nightshade, phytolacca, anakeroot, poison ivy, sumac, wormseed, foxglove, datura and the green areas in Irish potatoes that have matured in the ground. He grew corn and, therefore, ergot was plentiful enough.

Yet the Indians used but very few of these. Being almost without inventiveness when he used a drug, he employed no method of preparation except the crude one of making a tea.

Many city people have faith in church medicines because they are said to be such. In a general way, what is said of Indian medicines applies to those sold as Chinese.

MAY NEED EXERCISE.

Miss A. W. writes: Though I am about normal weight, my flesh is very soft and flabby. I am inclined to gain, so I eliminate fats and starches in my diet to either one at a meal. Would this be the cause or is it glandular? It surely can not be lack of exercise, as I walk all day. I reduced 25 pounds two years ago, but have not lost any weight for a year. I have been advised by an athlete to lose 15 or 18 pounds more and then build up again under strenuous exercise. Would this be advisable, in your opinion, or is there another way?

REPLY.

My guess is that you are "soft and flabby" because you do not exercise enough. You can "walk all day" and still not get the muscle work you need. My advice is that you go in for some athletic sports or do gymnasium work or some form of manual work. Nothing is gained by reducing as a preliminary to building up muscles by work.

What Today Means to You

"LIBRA."

IF October 19 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:15 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., from 5 p. m. to 6 p. m. and from 11 p. m. to midnight. The danger periods are from 9 a. m. to 9:45 a. m. and from 2 p. m. to 3 p. m.

It is possible that some event of the past may be brought strongly before you on this October 19. It may be pleasant or unpleasant, but the chances are that it will greatly influence your future course of actions. All in all, the day should pass smoothly. New friends and contacts may be made and these should be followed up.

The child born on this October 19 will have a highly strung and sensitive nature. He will bubble over with enthusiasm and the pure joy of living and will probably be a great tease, though not a malicious one. The inactivity of classroom work will make it difficult for him to settle down to it. He will be quick to grasp what is taught him and will learn in a month what the average learn in a year.

If October 19 is your birthday, yours is beyond a doubt a mental existence. Physical labor of any kind is distasteful to you. You seek the finer and nobler things of life, and yours is a nature that must express itself in the creation of something. You will never suffer a dearth of ideas, but your difficulty lies in getting them into concrete form. Whether you sketch, paint, write or compose, your greatest labor will be to get your visions onto canvas or paper. There is a latent practical side to your nature, but you must work hard to develop it in order to be able to commercialize your talents.

You are a great dreamer and a voluble talker. In your conversation you spill forth your excellent plans and ideas and later you are at a loss to understand how and why others less creative and more practical are making money from your brain children. You are unworldly, and fortunately your desires are for happiness and not for wealth. You will probably always have enough money to satisfy your modest material wants.

Your extreme honesty often reacts to your own detriment, and your childlike and simple faith in others often places you in awkward and difficult situations. You have a gentle, kind and loving disposition. You are a congenial companion.

Successful people born on October 19:

Robinson Crusoe Answers Studied

Accuracy of Replies Makes Selection Difficult; List Given Tomorrow.

Due to the large number of entries in the "Robinson Crusoe" contest conducted last week in The Washington Post in conjunction with the Fox Theater, the judges last night had been unable to determine the list of winners.

Their findings will be published in tomorrow's issue of The Post from the $10 first prize down through the list of ticket winners.

Many contestants had such fine sets of answers to the 30 questions concerning Robinson Crusoe and so many were attractively prepared that the judges were still debating the merits of the entries late last night.

Sister of Longworth Arrives in New York

New York, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—The Countess de Chambrun, formerly Clara Longworth, of Cincinnati, sister of the late Nicholas Longworth, arrived from France today, her fifty-ninth birthday, to arrange for publication of a biography of the former Speaker of the House.

The countess is one of the most prominent French writers and an editor of the French Book Club, but her biography is in English—a much better language for writers, she said, because of its larger vocabulary.

NO MORE BACKACHES

LIKE so many other women—perhaps like yourself—Mrs. Burroughs used to suffer with severe backaches every month. Then she tried Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Shortly afterwards she wrote to us, "I believe it to be the best medicine I ever used. I sleep well, my nerves are better, my appetite is improved and I am getting stronger all the time."

MAKING YOUR OWN BREAKS.

IN team-of-four play at Duplicate Contract, when the teams are evenly matched, it is the general custom for the players to proceed charily until they see an opportunity, either presented by their opponents or made by themselves, for making a break which will give them a commanding lead. If you have been securing good results, there is, of course, no object in doing other than coast along until the chance for the break comes.

An example of making a break, which won a recent team-of-four contest at the Asbury Park tournament of the American Bridge League, occurred on the hand below:

East—Dealer.

East and West vulnerable.

	♠ 9 6 3 ♡ A Q ◇ K Q J 4 ♣ 10 8 3 2
♠ 8 5 ♡ J 10 8 2 ◇ 10 8 7 6 ♣ 3 2	N W E S	♠ A K Q 7 ♡ 4 2 ♡ 5 4 ◇ A ♣ K J 7 6
	♠ J 10 ♡ K 9 7 6 3 ◇ 9 5 ♣ A 9 5 4

The Bidding:

South	West	North	East
			1♠
2♡	Pass	3♡	3♠
4♡	Pass	Pass	4♠
Dbl.	Pass	Pass	Redbl.
Pass	Pass	Pass

East's bid of four spades required apparently very little to assure its success, even though his partner was so weak that he could at no time assist him in the bidding. Whether to pass the bid of four hearts, which conceivably could easily be made by North and South, or to take a chance on a small set as the worst outcome and the realization of his contract as affording the break was a question which East had to determine. His decision to bid four spade was possibly close, but once having taken the plunge and done so, the Redouble was simply the natural effort to make the break which would give his team a commanding lead. South's Double of East's game contract was based upon the somewhat weak foundation that he did not like the bidding and a realization of the fact that he had forced his vulnerable opponents into a game contract when otherwise the bidding might well have stopped at three.

His play helped East to fulfill his contract. Having a questionable Opening in the heart suit, he decided to lay down the Ace of clubs to "get a look at the board," and if there was any doubt of East making his contract, this lead effectually solved it. East was enabled to ruff his remaining losing club, then draw the trumps, and at the end concede 2 heart tricks to his opponents.

By playing the hand at the redoubled contract, East made a net gain og 560 points, and in the following hands was in a position to take things as they came without straining for unnatural results.

How to Be Beautiful

By ELSIE PIERCE

NOW that the nippy weather is approaching and summer sports are shelved, many of us shall miss the pleasurable and helpful exercises such as swimimng and rowing and, after a while, tennis and golf. But there's no reason why winter should not have a program of sports. The social season is a splendid beautifier, because it makes one beauty conscious. One strives to be lovelier, and usually looks and feels the part.

For actual, helpful exercise, however, dancing is a grand game. Yes, game is just what it should be termed. Then all the monotony of exercise is removed and a certain element of enjoyment added. Not only does it add pep; it actually helps to make the eyes sparkle. It is good for the spirit. It adds to one's social life, makes one more popular. Of course, we are talking about social dancing now. It adds immeasurably to one's grace, too. The best dancer is usually the most popular partner, and, like as not, the one who has the best time and quite as likely she is lovely to look at. For the mere knowledge that she is so much in demand is enough to make her face "glow."

"When mother was a girl" social dancing right in the home was as important a part of an evening's entertainment as bridge is today. I hope dancing will make a comeback just as mother's fashions have. Then daughter will indeed be the counterpart of the girl dad wooed and won.

Classic Dancing.

More beneficial than social dancing is classic dancing, interpretive dancing and rhythmic dancing. Every healthy young girl of 15 and the woman of 30 (even 40, if the spirit is young) could take her exercise in this most pleasurable form. Aside from entertainment—and it offers plenty of that—it does wonders for the figure, whittling down bulging hips and protruding abdomen and developing arms, calves and thighs to beautiful, graceful proportions.

Let me tell you about four young girls I knew at the beach last summer. We met very casually and enjoyed swimimng together. From the first I noticed that all four had lovely figures, beautifully proportioned in spite of the fact that one was short and stocky, another of the very tall and rather thin type. Their legs and thighs were firmly knit and had that sound, healthy quality that exercise gives. One day in September they had the beach pretty much to themselves, and the exercises they executed were so difficult, so rhythmic, so splendid, I remarked that they must have taken extensive courses in gymnastics. I found that dancing was responsible for all this. Some schools combine dancing with corrective gymnastic exercises. I believe the Y. W. C. A.'s offer such courses. It's fine, healthful fun and a grand way for your young daughter to spend one or two evenings a week.

Facts About FAT

Now Easy to Grow Thin

Modern research has discovered a great cause of excess fat. It is lack of a certain vital factor in the blood. This is so sure that doctors everywhere now supply that factor to the over-fat. Since that was done, the world has changed in this respect, as everyone can see.

Marmola prescription tablets are based on that lacking factor. One takes them to supply the lack. No starvation is required. People have used them for 25 years—millions of boxes of them. Now almost everyone has friends to whom they brought new beauty, health and vim.

With all this evidence, why not try this real way to reduce? The book in each box gives the formula, tells you how and why it acts. Go ask your druggist for Marmola. Do it now. Then watch how your world changes. Don't stay fat.

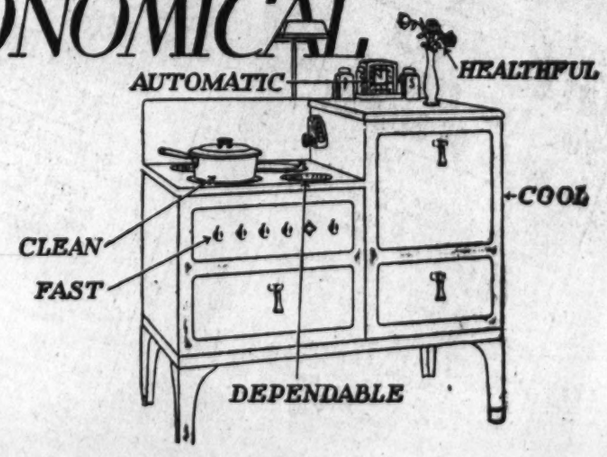
ECONOMICAL



The economies of Modern Electric Cookery are threefold . . . (1) The cost of electricity for the operation of the Modern Electric Range is less than $3 per month for the family of average size; (2) Electric Cookery is flameless and therefore food shrinkage is much less. The savings you make in food purchases are substantial and worth while; (3) Modern Electric Ranges are completely automatic. The accurate time and temperature controls make it possible to cook on stored heat. In Electric Cookery the current is entirely shut off during most of the cooking process.

In addition to the greater economies made possible by Electric Cookery, you also have the advantage of speed, cleanliness, dependability. Your kitchen will always be cool and healthful because the Modern Electric Range cooks without flame . . . there is never any soot, smoke or odor.

Electric Cookery has been adopted by thousands of homemakers. Any one of them will tell you that they would never go back to any other cooking method. Investigate this Modern way to better living.

RAILWAY ANSWERS PROTEST OF FERRY

Chesapeake Road Says New $900,000 Service Only Awaits Financing.

(Associated Press.)

The Chesapeake Beach Railway Co. yesterday answered the protest of the Annapolis - Claiborne Ferry Co. against a Reconstruction Finance Corporation loan to begin a new ferry line across Chesapeake Bay by asserting the question at issue was not one of starting a new service, but one of when the service would be started.

In its reply, filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the Chesapeake Beach company said the Interstate Commerce Commission already has authorized the service.

The only question now, the answer said, is financing the new project. In the present condition of the money market, the Chesapeake Beach company said, bankers had advised that financing of the new project would have to be deferred to a more prosperous time.

The railway company is asking a loan of $900,000 to build ships for the service.

"The real question is not whether the extension is to be put through," said the answer, "because that is already assured, but when it will be constructed. If given the aid of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation at the present time it will furnish immediate employment to 900 men for varying periods between now and May 1, 1933. The construction of the docks, piers and dredging will furnish employment for 100 men working 30 hours a week during the entire winter at Chesapeake Beach and Trippe's Bay.

"The shipbuilders inform us that the construction of the two ferryboats will increase employment first by 150 men and later by 450 men at the peak of the work. An additional thirteen weeks of work for 200 men would be furnished by the construction and installation of propelling machinery and other auxiliary equipment. Additional men required for the manufacture of supplies which would be purchased by the shipbuilders would bring the total up to 900 men during the winter months."

U. S. Word Awaited On 34-Year Fugitive

Leavenworth, Kans., Oct. 18 (A.P.). In possession of papers which would commit to Leavenworth Penitentiary W. Kirby Robinson, who surrendered last week after being a fugitive from justice 34 years, Federal authorities awaited word today from the United States Attorney General as to whether the Government would exact from Robinson the four-year sentence imposed on him in 1898.

Capone in Court Today In New Freedom Fight

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Prisoner 40,886 will put aside his blue-gray denim uniform tomorrow or Thursday and "Scarface Al" Capone, Chicago's erstwhile gang chieftain, will emerge from the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary to wage another legal battle for his freedom. His petition for a writ of habeas corpus is scheduled to be heard in Federal court tomorrow before Judge Marvin Underwood, but a trial now in progress may delay it for a day.

The gangster is serving a ten-year sentence for violation of the income tax laws in 1926, 1927 and 1928, and seeks his freedom on the contention that prosecution is barred by the statute of limitations.

French Fliers Abandon Buenos Aires Attempt

Marseilles, France, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Capt. Louis Mailloux and Jean Mermoz decided tonight to abandon their attempt to set a world's distance flying record. They failed in an attempt to take off with a heavy gasoline load this morning at Istres, 25 miles northwest of here, on a proposed flight to Buenos Aires.

Two other French fliers, Lucian Bossoutrot and Maurice Rossi, remained at Istres with another plane and hoped to be able to take off Thursday for Buenos Aires, about 6,400 miles by direct line.

Minister Goes on Trial In Death of First Wife

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—The murder trial of the Rev. S. Althea Berrie, charged with poisoning his first wife, moved rapidly through opening stages today with completion of the jury at midafternoon.

The jury is composed principally of middle-aged men. Mr. Berrie was pastor of the large Cumberland Presbyterian Church here before his arrest. His first wife died last spring and Mr. Berrie was arrested August 6, several weeks after he married Ida Bess Bright, a young and comely Sunday school teacher in his church. The jury was pledged to infliction of the death penalty if evidence warrants, and was sworn to measure "A minister by the same standards as any other Christian."

THE DENVER POST—
(By FRED SPEERS)
"That motion picture producers have overstepped the bounds of convention and common decency in their scramble for business was apparent at a showing of 'Life Begins.'
"No motion picture theatre owner or manager who holds a sense of respect and regard for the feelings of his patrons would willingly allow the picture to be shown in his theatre.
"No criticism can be made of the delicate handling of the sex factor in this picture, but its outright frankness in dealing with biological facts best left for the doctor's consulting room is what condemns 'Life Begins'."

"LIFE BEGINS" GRIPPING DRAMA AT HOLLYWOOD
By REGINA CREWE
Motion Picture Editor N. Y. American
A film for all the women of all the world. And for every man born of woman, too. It's a startling, tensely dramatic subject, treated with exquisite taste and deep understanding. It would wring weeps from a stone god—or a living one. And with its pathos there's rare mingling of comic and tragic masques, as well.
A story difficult to visualise, one that required courage on the part of the producers, a radical departure from the too oft-beaten trail. "Life Begins" fulfills every hope. Seeing is believing. And the world will be convinced.
Every scene of each individual story is poignant drama that stabs its way to an ever-living memory. So delicate

Tech-Eastern May Clash Today

Eastern Would Gain Needed Strength by Postponement.

By LEWIS F. ATCHISON.

HELD over until today because of rain, the Tech-Eastern game is threatened with further postponement because of unfavorable weather conditions. Inspection of the Wilson Stadium field yesterday revealed the turf to be soggy, although it would not have been out of the question to play the game.

Charles Hart, principal of Eastern, and Frank Daniels, Tech principal, conferred yesterday and tentatively agreed to schedule the game today, providing the weather was clear. Should their plans be thwarted it is improbable that the two teams will meet this week, and the contest will be scheduled at the conclusion of the regular series.

Coach Hap Hardell, of Tech, is anxious to have the game played today. Tech meets Western, regarded as the second toughest team in the series, Tuesday, and if the Manual Trainers do not play this week their coach is afraid they may be a trifle stale against the Big Red eleven. On the other hand, should Tech and Eastern be brought together the latter part of this week, it would mean two hard games within the short space of five days for the champions.

Hardell Lectures Tech Squad.

Tech's squad spent yesterday indoors, running through plays and absorbing a blackboard lecture by Hardell. The team is in fine physical condition and ready to answer the referee's whistle.

Eastern slipped out on the soccer field between showers and ran through plays and limbered up. The Light Blue gridders got in about an hour and a half of work before being forced indoors.

The rain is like heaven-sent manna to Coach Charley Guyon. The first school advisory ends next week and with the commencement of the second advisory Eastern gains the services of Joe Keegin, half back, and Eddie McNamara, tackle, who transferred from Gonzaga at the start of the semester and are now ineligible to compete in the championship series.

Welcome. Keegin's Addition

With Carl Mills' injured leg failing to respond to treatment, Keegin's addition to the squad would be especially welcome. He is a triple-threat man in every sense of the word. Keegin has played in two non-series games and performed well. McNamara is a husky youth, lacking experience, but he has shown great promise. With Eastern's line none too strong, McNamara may fit in nicely with Guyon's plans.

Tommy Nolan, half back, reported with a Charley horse yesterday, and consequently was able to do little better than hobble around the lot. Unless the leg is improved today he will not start.

The Eastern squad appears confident of taking the measure of its highly touted opponent. Every one, from the fourth assistant manager to Guyon, expects the team to win by a decisive margin.

Minors Plan Changes At Meetings Dec. 7 to 9

St. Louis, Oct. 18 (U.P.).—Radical changes in the administration of the minor leagues through the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues will be proposed by the executive committee at the annual convention at Columbus, Ohio, December 7, 8 and 9, according to information gathered by the Sporting News and released today.

One of the most significant recommendations to be made by the committee appointed at West Baden, Ind., last year is the elimination of the broadcasting of home games.

Another important proposal is the lowering of the player limit as follows: Class AA, 17 men; class A, 16; classes B, C, and D, 15, including manager.

Suggested salary limits follow: class AA, $6,500 per month, excluding the manager; class A, $3,500 per month; class B, $2,000; class C, $1,500; class D, $1,000.

BROWN LEADS PALADOR.

Tim Brown was elected captain of the Palador 135-pound eleven at a meeting last night. Dick Collins is coach of the team, which has won three of four games played to date. The team will drill tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at Eighteenth and B streets northwest. For games call Ken Foley at Metropolitan 5657.

SAINTS SEEK ACTION.

St. Stephen's Preps have an open date in their schedule Sunday and would like to book a double-header Sunday on the Tidal Basin field where they hold field permits. For games call Flanagan at West 1234-J. The Saints will practice tonight, tomorrow night and Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at Twenty-fifth and Virginia avenue northwest.

Hudson's Return Bolsters G. U. for W. Maryland Game

General Improvement in Hilltop's Line Play Seen.

CAPT. RAY HUDSON.

WHATEVER hopes Western Maryland has of finding a yielding Georgetown line against it Saturday, when the two meet at Griffith Stadium, is doomed to failure. Today, when the Hoyas stage their first workout since the N. Y. U. game, Ray Hudson, captain and left end, will be in uniform, completely recovered from the leg injury which he received in the Canisius game and which did not heal in time for him to play an active part in the New York game.

Along with the return of Hudson has come an encouraging improvement in the strength of several reserve linemen, most of these cases having been revealed in the third quarter of the N. Y. U. game when Georgetown's forward wall, composed mainly of second-stringers, held the mighty N. Y. U. backs at bay in stirring fashion. Among those who show a notable improvement in play are Gildo Russo, guard, who is built like Jim Londos; Alan Cohen, tackle, and Bill Carpenter, center.

The annual battle between the Hilltoppers and the Green Terrors has long since won its place in the scheme of local football, and this year's meeting, which finds the teams virtually even in skill, promises no let-up from the high standard of play set in previous years.

Last year Georgetown won one of its most satisfying victories over the Terrors, ending a 20-game winning streak on the part of the Maryland huskies by a 25-to-7 score and atoning for a 1930 loss at the same time. The only comparative score available, which might cast some light on the possible outcome of this year's meeting, is the performance of both teams against Mount St. Mary's. Georgetown won, 26 to 0, and Western Maryland was victorious by a 33-to-6 score.

The return of Hudson and the improvement of the reserves in the line—along with Georgetown's unquestioned back field power—lift the Hoyas into a slight edge over the Terrors.

MARYLAND U. ENTERTAINS ST. JOHN'S

Saturday Foe Coached by Riggs, Former Old Line Star.

THE student, now risen in eminence, will come back to test the master Saturday at College Park, when St. John's College, of Annapolis, moves into Byrd Stadium to do battle with Maryland.

St. John's is coached by Todie Riggs, whom Coach Curley Byrd developed into one of Maryland's great ends twelve years ago. Riggs was a running mate to Geary Eppley, now a professor and track coach at Maryland, and with Eppley formed a pair of wingmen whose fame has come down to this late date.

Riggs was even more talented as a baseball player and played professional ball after leaving Maryland. He quit organized baseball when offered a position as coach of the Suffolk (Va.) High School. He was appointed director of athletics at St. John's in 1928.

Maryland Victor In 1930.

The two teams met last in 1930, Maryland winning by a close 21-to-13 score. This year St. John's was scheduled as a breather between the Duke and V. M. I. games, but probably will provide much more competition that the Old Liners expect. St. John's showed itself to be a sterling defensive club in late September, when it held Catholic University to a 7-to-0 score in a "practice" game. Several former local high school stars play with the Johnnies, including Carl MacCartee, Bernie Cassasa and Ed DeLisio.

Rain again halted Maryland yesterday, their drill being nothing more than a limbering up exercise and more blackboard work. Two changes are planned in the Maryland team when it meets the Annapolis crew. Tom Webb will be back at center, after a two-week layoff from injuries, and Willis Benner will supplant Bucky Buscher at end.

American U. Lists Bluefield Eleven

Game to Be Played Saturday Afternoon on Eagles' Field.

Instilled with confidence, as a result of breaking its long losing streak last week with a 33-to-0 victory over Bridgewater, American University yesterday signed to encounter Bluefield (W. Va.) College Saturday afternoon at American University field. Saturday had been an open date on the Eagles' schedule.

Bluefield is believed to be somewhat inferior to the Americans, who this year have shown their best form in several seasons. Coach Walter Young is particularly pleased with the manner in which his back field is clicking this year. Parke, Borsari, Bowers, and the others have shown spells of real rhythm this year, and should ride over Bluefield.

Gallaudet has done nothing to plug up its open date Saturday, and will not see action again until next Saturday a week when it holds the entire local spotlight with a game against Baltimore U. All of Washington's other colleges are playing out of town that day, except George Washington, which meets Iowa at Griffith Stadium the night before, October 28.

MERCURY WOULD PLAY.

Mercury Unlimited Football Team will drill tonight at 7:30 o'clock at Sixth and B streets southwest. All players are requested to report promptly. The Wingfeet were held to a tie by the Seaman Gunners last week in the Independent League. Mercury is on the lookout for a game Sunday. Call Manager Check Webster at Metropolitan 4711 after 5 o'clock.

CLOVER BRINGS LUCK—BUT BAD

Cincinnati, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Four-leafed clover? Phooey. George Hines, 23, picked one in practice before a football game Sunday, and then went into the game. They carried him from the field with a broken leg.

MANHATTAN HOST TO C. U. SATURDAY

Bergman Preps Cards Against Rivals' Power Play.

DEFYING a steady downpour of rain, Catholic University's football squad worked out at Brookland Stadium yesterday in preparation for its game Saturday against Manhattan College in New York.

Since Manhattan is coached by Chick Meehan, and thus is a disciple of power plays, C. U.'s workout yesterday was plotted to nullify the effect of this style of game. A big team of scrubs, equipped with Manhattan plays, met the varsity, but could go nowhere against the defensive wall of the first-stringmen.

Cardinals Favored To Win.

Manhattan's strange 7-to-0 loss to St. Thomas last Saturday has elevated Catholic University into the position of favorite for Saturday's game, but Catholic University is not taking matters lightly. Bergman plans to drill the team at full speed until Friday afternoon, when it will entrain for New York—and Ebbet's Field.

If by any chance the Cardinals do get off to an early lead—and this is not an impossibility with Tom Whelan looming as a perpetual threat—Bergman plans to utilize that same second-string combination which made a name for themselves last week by not only protecting a lead against Chattanooga, but actually outdoing the varsity in several phases of the game. Particularly will Tom Gearty and Tom Oliver be given a chance to duplicate their last Saturday's play.

Red Barry Is Winner In Fight in New York

BOXERS, MATMEN REPORT.

All Boys' Club boxers and wrestlers are urged to report at 8 o'clock each Tuesday and Thursday at the club for special instructions in their respective sports. This year the Boys' Club will have a new wrestling coach in Charles Copperthiti, former South Atlantic middleweight champion.

Many Trades Are Predicted Soon in National League

By EDWARD J. NEIL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Even though all hands deny that the Braves, Cubs, Giants and Reds already have hooked up in one of the biggest of all baseball trades, managers all over the National League are tugging at the trunks of rival clubs like thieves in an apple orchard. Before long the fruit may fairly rain down.

There seems to be little foundation at the moment for Boston reports that Wally Berger, clubbing center fielder, and Babe Herman, of the Reds, ultimately will land here with the Giants to team with Mel Ott in one of the major league's outstanding outfields, with Kiki Cuyler and Gabby Hartnett winding up with the Braves, Freddy Lindstrom and Shanty Hogan with the Cubs, and Pat Malone at Cincinnati.

Cub President Heading East.

But—Bill Veeck, president of the Cubs, is reported heading East with designs on the outstanding talent of the Giants, Dodgers, Braves and Phillies.

Max Carey, manager of the Robins, is perched in full view of Sam Breadon in St. Louis, pleading his case for one of the Cardinals' three first basemen.

Bill McKechnie, of the Braves, is in Boston, eager and willing to talk trade.

Billy Terry, bowing to the adulation of home crowds at a private celebration, has one ear cocked for long distance calls from the Giant office in New York, here he left a list of what he wants, and what he will give.

Ancient Steve McKeever, new president of the Dodgers, points to $200,000, set aside from the profits of the past season for the purpose of acquiring new talent.

While Carey, in St. Louis, attempts to pry either Jim Bottomley, Jim Collins, or even Pat Crawford, away from the Cardinals, McKeever wants two right-handed pitchers of quality to round out a team he believes will then be the strongest in the league. Already the Dodgers have spent $20,000 for Walter Beck, a right-hander, who won 27 and lost 9 with Memphis last season.

Vance on Auction Block, Reported.

The only man definitely considered on the block in Brooklyn is Dazzy Vance, the veteran who used to burn up the league. Hack Wilson, despite his failure to reach great heights with the Dodgers last season, drove in 122 runs.

The Cubs, facing stiffer home opposition next year by the White Sox purchase of Al Simmons, Mule Haas and Jimmy Dykes for $75,000, are scheduled to make a wholesale drive to repair the fences battered down by the Yankees in the world series.

Dartmouth's Hurt Stars Return

Donner, Baldwin and Donovan to Face Harvard.

Big Green Eleven Is Cheered Over Prospects Saturday.

HANOVER, N. H., Oct. 18 (U.P.).—The announcement that three Dartmouth regulars, out of the line-up because of injuries, would be able to play in the Harvard game Saturday heartened Indian supporters today. Ward Donner, who has faced the Crimson for three years, will return to his position at right end. Al Baldwin, injured in the Lafayette game, will be back at left tackle, and John Donovan, who suffered a dislocated shoulder in the same game, will start at full back.

Harvard Eleven Works Indoors.

Princeton Scrimmages With Frosh.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 18 (U.P.).—The Princeton varsity scrimmaged the freshmen for 50 minutes today for the first time this season. Jack Bales, who was raised to the first-string backfield because of Draudt's injury, was outstanding in reeling off long gains against the frosh.

Ohio State Practices Pass Defense.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 18 (U.P.).—Because Ohio State looked so poor against Michigan forward passing, Coach Sam Willaman drilled the team in pass defense today in preparation for the Pittsburgh game. Joe Salvaterra probably will replace Junius Ferrall, injured Ohio end, this week.

Michigan Shifts Petoskey To End.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 18 (U.P.).—Ted Petoskey was shifted from end to full back and John Regeczi was moved from full back to half back in the Michigan lineup today. The shifts indicated that Coach Kipke will depend on power, rather than passing, to beat Illinois.

Northwestern Stresses Defense.

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 18 (U.P.).—Northwestern concentrated on polishing up its offense today for Saturday's important game with Purdue. The Wildcat back field of Potter, Kawal, Olson and Rentner showed impressively in the workout.

Notre Dame Works With Freshmen.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 18 (U.P.).—The Notre Dame first team varsity outscored the No. 1 freshman eleven today in the first scrimmage of the week. The freshmen, using Carnegie Tech plays, scored against Anderson's best on forward passes.

Ken Fields Rejoins Army Squad.

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 18 (U.P.).—Ken Fields, half back, returned to Army's varsity today, but Vidal, Jablonsky, Armstrong and Lincoln trailed the workout in sweat clothes. Vidal, quarter back, is still suffering from injuries received against Pittsburgh. MacWilliam took his place as signal caller today, and Hutchinson and Winn went in at the two tackle positions.

Coach Stevens Announces Yale Line-Up.

Spencer Ousts Larkin in Middle Atlantic Golf Semifinal.

Special to The Washington Post.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 18.—There will be an all-Baltimore final in the Middle Atlantic Professional Golfers' Association tournament at the Maryland Country Club tomorrow.

Charles P. Betschler, Rodgers Forge Golf Club pro and former pro at the Maryland Country Club, will travel over the 36-hole route with Glenn Spencer, present Maryland Country Club pro, as his opponent.

The home pro overturned the medalist, Gene Larkin, Chevy Chase, today in the semifinals, 4 and 2. Earlier in the day Spencer put Ralph Beach, Suburban Club, out of competition by a 4 and 3 margin.

Shorey, Cunningham Bow To Betschler.

Betschler had to defeat Mel Shorey, East Potomac Park, 2 and 1, in the morning and eliminate Gilbert Cunningham, Burning Tree, in the afternoon, 4 and 3.

Beginning at the thirteenth, Cunningham and Bob Barnett, Chevy Chase, halved six holes in their second round contest. On the nineteenth, the former drove home a birdie 3, holing a 10-foot putt for the victory.

In his match with Betschler, Cunningham started out with a birdie 3 when he sank his approach shot from the edge of the green, but he then lost five holes in succession to the steady plugging of the winner.

Spencer laid a partial stymie on Larkin in the ninth for a half when his ball rimmed the cup and dropped. They shared the eighth and fourteenth in birdie 3's.

SECOND ROUND—Gilbert Cunningham (Burning Tree) defeated Robert Barnett (Chevy Chase), 1 up (19 holes); Charles P. Betschler (Rodgers Forge) defeated Mel Shorey (East Potomac Park), 2 and 1; Gene Larkin (Chevy Chase) defeated Carroll T. MacMaster (Hillendale), 4 and 3; Glenn Spencer (Maryland) defeated Ralph Beach (Suburban), 4 and 3.

Delaware-Hudson Five Starts Drills Tonight

Champion of the District Amateur and Community Center Leagues last year, the Delaware & Hudson Coal Co. Basket Ball Team tonight will stage its first practice for the approaching court season at Central High School. Buck Buckley again will pilot the team. Don Garber, former Duke University star, and "Shorty" Harris have been signed by the team. All members of last season's team and any new candidates are requested to report promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

Roosevelt Gymnasium Open for Basket Ball

Independent basket ball teams will be permitted to use the gym of Roosevelt High School Tuesday and Wednesday evenings as soon as baskets are installed, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. A. L. Irving, community center secretary in charge of Roosevelt and Macfarland centers. The gym is expected to be ready within the next two weeks. All teams assigned periods at Roosevelt, however, temporarily will use the Macfarland floor. Teams granted the use of the Macfarland gym Friday evenings will play as scheduled.

St. John's Starts Today To Drill for G. U. Preps

With four regulars out of action because of injuries suffered in the Calvert Hall game last week, Coach Jack Dunn, of St. John's, is relieved that no game is listed this week. Georgetown Prep, next opponent the Cadets must face, will be met a week from next Friday.

Francis Jordan, full back and spark plug of the Johnnies' attack; Mike Simone, half back; Johnny Tobin, quarter back, and Joe Council, end, are on the shelf, recovering from wounds received in the Calvert Hall battle. Simone's leg was thought broken at first glance, but an X-ray examination revealed only a badly bruised ligament.

Athletics Booming At Langley Center

Fine progress is being made by the boys athletic group of the Langley Community Center. The group meets at the Langley Junior High School Gym every Saturday night, where various sports events are arranged for its benefit. Mrs. Middleton, secretary of the center, has mapped out a winter schedule for the boys, not the least interesting of which is a checker tournament.

The Langley Gym is available for independent basket ball teams several hours week-day nights. Teams desiring to arrange for the use of the court should call Mrs. Middleton at North 3173.

EUCLID QUINTET READY.

Euclid 145-pound quintet would like to arrange practice games with strong court teams. The team has the use of the MacFarland gym Friday nights. Call Columbia 7125.

Post's Football Contest Stirs Local Fans

WASHINGTON has a lot of football experts. And all of them seem to be interested in The Post's Football Contest, which started Tuesday and continues until Friday at midnight. Hundreds of fans, of both sexes, sent in their pickings yesterday.

Printed below is a list of the outstanding games for this coming Saturday, with places for the fans to check down the scores they believe their choices will win by. Incidentally this is important. Don't forget to write down the scores, for they will be the only means of breaking any ties which result.

Four box seats to the George Washington-Iowa game Friday night, October 28, go to the winner of this week's contest, besides all the fame and glory of being Washington's foremost football authority, at least for the week. Address replies to the Football Contest Editor, in care of The Washington Post.

Georgetown and Catholic U. Favored.

The first batch of mail received shows that the fans are almost unanimous in their choices of Georgetown, Catholic University and N. Y. U., but are not near so certain on such games as George Washington-Tulsa, Northwestern-Purdue, Navy-Princeton and a couple others. One brave fan picked Tulane to beat Auburn by the score of 20 to 2!

Longer 1933 Season Planned by American

Chicago, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—The 1933 Major League Baseball season will be lengthened one week instead of shortened.

Braves Draft Hunt, Coast Outfield Star

San Francisco, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Officials of the San Francisco Seals said today the Boston Nationals had drafted Arthur "Mike" Hunt, hard-hitting right-handed outfielder.

Manush Gets Third Place In Poll

Gehrig Is Runner-Up, 20 Votes Behind Athletics' Ace.

Cronin, Weaver and Crowder Also Win Mention.

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor).

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Jimmie Foxx, the Maryland mauler and new home run king of the major leagues, is the choice of the experts as the American League's most valuable player for the 1932 campaign.

The first baseman of the Philadelphia Athletics, by polling 75 points out of a maximum of 80 in the vote conducted by a committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America, beat his New York rival, Larruping Lou Gehrig, by a decisive margin. Gehrig, winner in 1927 and now runner-up for the third successive year, received 55 points. Foxx received five votes for first, one for second and two for third.

Contest All-Philadelphia Affair.

The selection of Foxx makes the most valuable player contest an all-Philadelphia affair this year. Chuck Klein, Phillie outfield slugger, already has been designated as the National League's outstanding star of the year, in preference to Lon Warneke, of the Cubs, and Lefty O'Doul, of the Dodgers. The vote in both contests was made public by J. Roy Stockton, of St. Louis, chairman of the selection committee in each league.

Foxx is the third of Connie Mack's outstanding stars to gain this individual distinction within the past five years. Mickey Cochrane won the official league award in 1928. Bob Grove was the choice last year of the Writers Association, which has taken over the job of selection since the formal awards were abolished by the National and American Leagues.

Although nosed out within the last week for the batting championship by Dale Alexander of the Red Sox, Foxx enjoyed his greatest year, despite the slump of the A's as a team. The big first sacker, with 58 home runs, set a new major league record for right-handed batsmen and came the closest of any one to touching Babe Ruth's high mark of 60. Foxx also led both leagues in runs driven in, with 167, and wound up with a batting percentage of .364.

Premium Paid on Slugging.

The result of the American League poll put a premium on slugging. Foxx, Gehrig, Heinie Manush of Washington and Earl Averill of Cleveland finished in the top four places, in order, with Lefty Gomez, Yankee's southpaw pitcher, fifth. Joe Cronin, new Washington manager who won the contest in 1930, and Babe Ruth, winner in 1923, were tied for sixth place.

The complete results of the American League poll, scored on the basis of 10 points for first, 9 for second, &c., in the list of selection made by eight baseball writers:

Foxx, Phila.	75	Dickey, N. Y.	8
Gehrig, N. Y.	55	Goslin, St. L.	8
Manush, Wash.	41	Weaver, Wash.	6
Averill, Cleve.	37	H. Davis, Det.	5
Gomez, N. Y.	27	Harris, Wash.	5
Cronin, Wash.	26	W. Ferrell, Cleve.	5
Ruth, N. Y.	26	Levey, St. L.	4
Lazzeri, N. Y.	21	Lyons, Chi.	4
Simmons, Phila.	13	Sullivan, Chi.	3
Gehringer, Det.	13	McNair, Phila.	2
Alexander, Bos.	10	Jolley, Bos.	2
Cissell, Cleve.	10	Crowder, Wash.	1
R. Ferrell, St. L.	9	McManus, Bos.	1
Grove, Phila.	8	Walker, Det.	1
J. Allen, N. Y.	8	J. Sewell, N. Y.	1

Klein Most Valuable In National League

New York, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—As the climax to his steady rise toward the top, Charles Herbert (Chuck) Klein, of Indianapolis, clean-up clouter of the Philadelphia Nationals, today emerged as the choice of the baseball experts for the distinction of being the National League's most valuable player during the 1932 season.

The Phillie right fielder, now generally rated among the greatest all-around batsmen in the major leagues, won the honor from Lonnie Warneke, the Chicago Cub's sensational freshman pitcher, and Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, of Brooklyn, league batting champion, in a brisk three-cornered contest.

Klein received 78 out of a possible maximum of 80. He was the first choice of six and second choice of the remaining two members of the writers' committee. Warneke, first choice of two critics, was next with 68 points. O'Doul finished with 58. Paul Waner, of the Pirates, and Riggs Stephenson, of the Cubs, with 37 and 32 respectively completed the top five.

NOTEBOOK COASTS HOME IN FILLY FEATURE AT LAUREL

Wheatley Ace 10-Length Victor

Wise Anne, Favorite, Second; With Third to Volette.

By WALTER HAIGHT.

THE Wheatley Stable and Hank Mills have been seen little in Maryland this fall. In fact, only three times this season has that combination sought a purse. Yesterday they made two out of three when Notebook, daughter of Chicle and Flyleaf, made a show of her field, to win the Charlotte Hall, a trial for Saturday's $10,000 added Selima Stakes, for which all but Wise Anne, of the field of eight, are eligible.

Notebook took the decision by ten lengths from the favorite, Wise Anne, which, in turn, had a two-length advantage over Volette, C. V. Whitney hope. Mills evidently had the Selima Stakes in mind as he came up the stretch, for he made no effort to hinder the speed of his mount, and worked her out an extra furlong.

The 6-furlong dash was run on a muddy track before a crowd of some 3,000. Notebook opened at 8 to 1 and immediately recruited backers to drop to 3 to 1 in the closing odds, to pay $7.30 mutuel.

Royal See, Long Shot, Threatens.

Royal See, one of the many long-shots, gave Notebook the most trouble and then only for the dash to the far turn. Wise Anne had no chance when Mills opened up with Notebook. —The secondary feature, a 6-furlong dash dubbed The Tryone, went to the odds-on favorite, Pilate, which drew away at the finish from Curacao and Rehoboth. Pilate battled his way to the front in the race up the back stretch to take the lead from Rehoboth. At one stage in the stretch Pilate had an advantage of four lengths. The winning margin was a length and a half. Curacao nosed out Rehoboth for the place money.

Burning Feet, a good thing in the paddock, led home a field of maidens in the opener, winning eased up by Jockey Callahan. Sky Haven was second, ahead of War Glory. Cordoba and Sky Haven battled for the pace-setting honor, with the latter taking the decision. However, Burning Feet, laying close by, moved up coming into the stretch and moved on to an easy victory.

Grand Prince Scores In Sprint.

The second sprint went to Grand Prince, the Shandon Farm's veteran gelding, with Knight's Cap, of the Bruce-Audley Farm entry, second, and the favored Renaissance third. The favorite was lucky to be third under the ride he received. Knight's Cap and Camp Boss set the pace, with Grand Prince third. The son of Grand Baby forged to the front on the swing for the stretch and had a length margin at the finish.

Gay Party, odds-on choice, scored an easy victory in the third race, leading Lucky Racket and Lillybet home by three lengths. Todd, riding his first winner since an accident here that sent him to the hospital, kept Gay Party behind the fast pace set by Southtour; took the lead when that one gave up, and moved along to win easily. Lillybet threatened to take it all at one stage but lost the place to Lucky Racket's closing plunge.

Anubis, the favorite, was cut down in the sixth race and limped down the stretch as the longshots battled it out for the purse. The winner turned up in Brandon Rose by a close decision over Impeach. Flag Trick was third.

AT THE POST

with Bill Bennings

DEAR AL: LAUREL RACE TRACK.

If rain continues to fall and the track gets much worse they'll be calling out one of the Coast Guard cutters to patrol the Laurel course. It's tough enough to pick 'em when the track is dry, but when it's a quagmire like it has been the past two days and promises to be this afternoon, I suggest that you stay in town and take in a movie.

However, if you must make a few investments, try these—but I don't guarantee them. Yours, BILL.

FIRST RACE—POMPALO is another Coe youngster aired by Pompey, and comes out of a barn of well-conditioned horses. Had an outing here. Made a good move to be beaten eight lengths. GALA TIME is the one to beat. BRAVISSIMA for the show.

SECOND RACE—GREEN CHEESE is the class of the jumpers seeking the Chevy Chase Handicap. Totes top weight and all that, but should have no trouble. BAROMETER has shown his ability here. ARGONAUTE II beat cheap ones handily. May fancy the slippery going to get in the money.

THIRD RACE—APPREHENSIVE has been finishing fast in sprints for a long time and will appreciate this distance test. Get aboard. LONE HAND won a dash previous to this and is dangerous. ROCK POINT for the show.

FOURTH RACE—I'm taking TRUE SWEEP and Jockey McTaggert in this one. This pair put up a rousing finish here and then ran a dull race. Look for them to be winging in the stretch today. WHITE THORN and FILTER for the rest.

FIFTH RACE—WISE COUNT raced so well the last time that he must be put on top of these. EADFIELD is in shape now and may give the top fellow a battle. MOUNTAIN ELK for the show end.

SIXTH RACE—DON TASKER was second the last time and appears to have the edge over these. SKIRT has been threatening, and this appears the place to shoot. LITTLE STOKES may get the rest.

SEVENTH RACE—VIMONT did not appear to want much the other day. Figures high here and may turn the trick. BATTERING RAM and BERBER for the rest.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—BURNING FEET, $10.50, $7.60, $4.90; SKY HAVEN, $14.20, $6.50; WAR GLORY, $3.20.

BURNING FEET, kept in near attendance of the leaders, came stoutly when put to a drive, wore SKY HAVEN down and drew out in the final drive. SKY HAVEN, strongly handled, withstood early contention from CORDOBA, but was unable to stay when challenged. WAR GLORY, in the thick of contention for the first five furlongs, weakened fast in the late stages. INLANDER, vigorously handled, could not menace the leaders. ENNIS went evenly. CORDOBA broke slowly and had too much taken out of him early. The others were never factors.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,000; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stalls. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 2:19½. Winner, Shandon Farm's b. g. Two-dollar mutuels paid—GRAND PRINCE, $9.30, $5.60, $3.40; KNIGHT'S CAP (entry), $5.70, $3.20; RENAISSANCE, $3.40.

GRAND PRINCE, at home in the going and in good condition, followed KNIGHT'S CAP and CAMP BOSS closely, came to the outside when moving into the lead and, kept under urging, drew out slowly. KNIGHT'S CAP, hard ridden and saving ground all the way, continued with good energy when collared by RENAISSANCE, a fine factor from the way, outfinished CAMP BOSS during the final furlong. CAMP BOSS showed a good effort. AVALON could not reach the leaders at any stage. BUTTER BEANS made up some ground in the final half mile. BRIGHT BIRD was done early.

THIRD RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,000; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, driving. Went to post at 2:47. Off at 2:53½. Winner, Mrs. B. F. Two-dollar mutuels paid—GAY PARTY, $3.90, $3.10, $2.70; LUCKY RACKET, $6.90, $4.70; LILLYBET, $7.60.

GAY PARTY followed SOUTHTOUR under restraint for six furlongs, went into the lead with a rush when approaching the home stretch and had speed to spare at the end, winning the finaly by a length and a half. LUCKY RACKET raised steadily in the stretch, saved enough ground entering the home stretch and, finishing stoutly, was up for second in the last strides. LILLYBET, going in her best form from the start, made a determined effort when nearing the home stretch and held on well. SOUTHTOUR had good early speed, saved enough, but tired in the last quarter mile. AIR KING was held safe. JIMMY D had no mishaps. ZONE showed a dull effort.

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,000; allowances. The Charlotte Hall. For 2-year-old fillies. Start good from stalls. Won easily; place, same. Went to post at 3:23. Off at 3:25½. Winner, Wheatley Stable's b. f. (2), by Chicle—Flyleaf. Trained by G. Tappen. Value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $100. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:47 3-5, 1:13 2-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—NOTEBOOK, $7.30, $3.40, $2.60; WISE ANNE, $2.80, $2.20; VOLETTE, $2.40.

NOTEBOOK, partial to the going, raced ROYAL SEE into early defeat, sprinted into a commanding lead and drew out at will when nearing the finish. WISE ANNE, a forward factor throughout and kept under urging, easily outstayed VOLETTE. Latter worked her way up on the outside in the first half mile, swung to the inside in the drive, but could not menace the first two. BABEE was held safe. CODETTA ran out entering the home stretch and lost all chance. EASY DAY broke slowly and closed a bigger gap than the chart shows. SPEED BOAT did not favor the going.

FIFTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,000; allowances. The Tyrone. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stalls. Won driving; place, driving. Went to post at 3:50. Off at 3:52½. Winner, A. Schuttinger's ch. c. (4), by Friar Rock—Herodias. Trained by owner. Value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $100. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:47 2-5, 1:13.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—PILATE, $3.40, $2.60, $2.10; CURACAO, $3.00, $2.20; REHOBOTH, $2.90.

PILATE, sent along mildly while racing on the inside to hold his position, moved away into an easy lead when straightened into the home stretch and finished driving. CURACAO, tried for room on the outside of the leaders, finished stoutly, but could not threaten the winner. REHOBOTH forced a good pace for five furlongs and then continued with good courage. CAMP PRINCE was overmatched, as was ENGLISH KNIGHT.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,000; claiming. For 3-year-olds. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, easily. Went to post at 4:21. Off at 4:24. Winner, Brandon Stable's ch. f. Two-dollar mutuels paid—BRANDON ROSE, $16.00, $7.90, $6.00; IMPEACH, $20.30, $17.10; FLAG TRICK, $5.80.

BRANDON ROSE, at home in the going and in good condition, worked her way to the leaders stoutly, came to the outside of IMPEACH and was up in the final fifty yards, won. IMPEACH, alone in smartly improved fashion, went into a winning lead midway of the far turn, but hung nearing the finish. FLAG TRICK moved up stoutly leaving the back stretch, but tired suddenly in the final drive. MARSE ROBERT was held safe. MY FERGUS stopped, as did MAJOR GENERAL. ANUBIS was jumped on and cut down at the first turn and was pulled up.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,000; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, easily. Went to post at 4:50. Off at 4:53. Winner, W. C. Two-dollar mutuels paid—MATADI, $14.90, $7.00, $4.00; PRINCESS ZELDA, $4.10, $2.80; GENERAL COURT, $3.00.

MATADI, a keen factor from the start, responded stoutly to punishment when placed to a drive and wore PRINCESS ZELDA down in the closing furlong. PRINCESS ZELDA, rated in front and saving ground, held on with good courage when the real test came. GENERAL COURT, crowded back at the first turn, secured racing room on the inside in the final half mile and closed gamely. GUERANDE was never dangerous. WORTHINGTON was steered wide for the entire trip. DARK AYR tired.

TWO INJURED IN WORKOUT OF G. W.

Doose, Steele Hurt in Final Prep for Tulsa Game.

A BANG-UP scrimmage practice, in which Chris Doose, reserve full back, broke his nose, and Jim Steele, reserve back, pulled up with a twisted shoulder, was held by George Washington University's squad at the comparatively dry Friend's School field yesterday.

It was the final hard workout of the week for the Colonials, who leave this afternon at 4 o'clock for Tulsa, by way of St. Louis. The Tulsa Golden Hurricane will be met Saturday. The Colonials will hold a light workout in St. Louis tomorrow afternoon and one in Tulsa Friday afternoon.

Both Doose and Steele will make the trip to Tulsa, Doose with a special nose guard and Steele in the hope that the three-day interim will heal his shoulder, which was originally hurt in the Catawba game. Both of them can well be used—Doose for his fine play and spirit and Steele for his great punting power. Doose played a fine defensive game against Alabama and recovered the Alabama fumble, which led to George Washington's lone touchdown.

To combat the electrifying back field of the Tulsa team, Coach Jimmy Pixles may start both Johnnie Fenlon and Nig McCarver in the opening line-up. Heretofore these two speedsters and passers have alternated. The Parrish brothers, Finis and Billy, probably will be the remainder of the Colonial back field, Billy having just about supplanted Otts Kriemelmeyer at full back.

Schwartz to Fight DeAngelo Monday

Frankie DeAngelo, crack Italian bantamweight fighter, and Benny Schwartz, of Baltimore, who fought to an eight-round draw a few weeks ago at Portner's, have been rematched for next Monday at the Alexandria arena. They will step ten rounds.

Both DeAngelo and Schwartz have been training faithfully, and a whirlwind battle is expected.

In the semiwindup of six rounds, Matchmaker Frankie Mann has booked Billy Strickler, the "Terminal Bulldog," and Jimmy DeCapua, of Miami, Fla. DeCapua's last fight was with Joe Banovic at Twin City in August. He lost a ten-rounder.

Another six-rounder will bring together Nick Antonelli and Willie Esinger, 130-pounders. Two other fours will compete the card.

Walter Reed Lists Ring Bouts Tomorrow

Bill Simpson, Quartermaster Corps 136-pound ring master, and Milton Kinser, of Walter Reed, 138-pound flash, will tangle in the feature bout of a card to be presented at the monthly Medical Center Athletic Association smoker to be held Thursday night at Walter Reed.

Lou Ross, Washington heavyweight, and Larry Johnson, of Walter Reed, also a heavyweight, will clash in the semiwindup. The two have proved to be willing mixers in previous bouts and a lively scrap is expected.

As an added attraction, Sergt. Jack Coffee, chairman of the committee in charge of the show, has arranged a wrestling match, featuring Slim Smith, former light-heavy champ of the Marine Corps, and Jack Polo, former New York State amateur titleholder.

Four additional bouts will round out the program. They will be announced tomorrow.

CENTENNIALS DRILL.

The Centennial 150-pound gridders will drill tonight at 7:15 o'clock at North Capitol and New York avenue. All players are requested to report promptly. The Cents are well up among the leaders in the race for the Independent League title.

Stocks Defy Selling Drive To Close Slightly Higher

New York, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Stocks refused to be smoked completely out of an early rally by late selling of the tobacco shares today, and the market closed generally higher, nearly canceling Monday's losses.

Trading was again dull, although livelier than yesterday. It also had a highly professional appearance.

Net gains of 1 to 3 points in the rail, industrial and utility groups made the tobaccos look especially soft, although they finished above their lows. This weak spot seemed to be a reflection of gossip as to the extent that low-priced cigarettes were competing with older lines and the possibility that prices of the latter brands would be reduced. American Tobacco "B" and Liggett & Myers "B" were down nearly 4 at one time, closing 2½ lower.

The market opened firmly and did rather well up to early afternoon. Gains of 1 to 4 were largely canceled coincident with the special selling just noted, but a late buying flurry stiffened quotations all along the line. Leaders, however, did not return to their forenoon tops. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, American Can, Allied Chemical, General Motors, Sears Roebuck, Harvester, Consolidated Gas, Woolworth, New York Central and Southern Pacific were about 1 to 11-5 net higher. American Telephone, American Can, Union Pacific, Case and Santa Fe gained 2 to 3. Transactions totaled 1,029,400 shares.

Weakness of the British pound provided an outstanding feature in financial developments outside the security markets. Sterling's break was attributed largely to withdrawal of support by the Bank of England which for some time had been keeping the quotation fairly steady.

THE MARKETS AT A GLANCE

What the Stock Market Did

	Tues.	Mon.
Advances	243	98
Declines	137	299
Unchanged	112	102
Total issues traded	492	499

Stocks.

A selling drive was defied by a rally and the market closed one point higher. Dull, professional trading characterized transactions. The turnover amounted to 1,029,400 shares.

Bonds.

Trading was principally in United States Government issues, some of which sold at new high levels. Prices of the general list remained unchanged. The volume of dealing was $8,797,000.

Curb.

Dealing presented a ragged appearance, but light gains were recorded. Activity was quiet. Utilities rallied. Oils benefited from estimate of the drop in yield. Sales totaled 120,000 shares.

Wheat.

The break in the British pound was followed by a drop in Chicago wheat. Price changes were narrow. Corn and oats also declined. December wheat sold at 48¼ to 48¾ cents.

Cotton.

An early advance was reduced by reactions to a 3-point gain. Liquidating and Southern selling were blamed. December closed at 6.26. Liverpool reported Bombay and scattered buying.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

(Associated Press.)

London—Gold mining issues were firm features on the stock exchange due to South African buying induced by reports of favorable developments. Industrials were well supported, but gilt-edged securities and other issues were inclined to ease on profit taking. The closing was quiet.

Paris—Trading was still hesitant on the bourse, particularly in view of yesterday's heaviness in Wall street and uncertainty over French budget projects. International issues showed resistance while rentes eased. The closing was irregular.

Berlin—Trading was dull on the boerse and the market closed weaker.

BOND PRICES STAND AT MONDAY'S LEVEL

Federal Issues Rise to New High Ground; Turnover, $8,797,000.

New York, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Trading in the bond market today was principally in United States Government issues, and new high prices for the year were reached by two Federal loans. Domestic corporate securities moved about in a dull and uncertain manner.

Government issues benefited principally from the lowest money rates in many years and from the precipitate decline of most foreign exchanges in favor of the dollar.

New 1932 tops were reached by Treasury 3⅜s of 1940-43 and 1941-43, while Liberty 3½s and fourth 4¼s equaled their year's best quotations. There were some minor recessions in late trading, due principally to profit taking.

Transactions in listed Government obligations aggregated about $2,000,000, while the day's turnover in all bonds totaled only $8,797,000, par value. The average for 60 domestic corporate loans was unchanged.

The secondary rails group showed signs of advancing at one time, but rail issues closed lower. Liens of Baltimore & Ohio, Canadian Pacific, Chicago & Northwestern, Rock Island, Illinois Central and New York Central were heavy. Gains were registered by some loans of Nickel Plate, Chesapeake Corporation, Great Northern, St. Paul and Hudson & Manhattan.

A few of the utilities, such as International Telephone, American & Foreign Power, Postal Telegraph, Detroit Edison, Laclede Gas and Metropolitan Edison improved moderately. Industrials were dull.

In the foreign department, British 5½s were the most active, advancing to a new high for 1932. Most of the Canadians were reactionary. Improvement was shown by the Colombians, French, Japanese and Cubans. German government bonds were barely steady.

Auto Plants See Upturn As Cars Are Scrapped

New York, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Excess of scrapping of wornout cars over production will soon make itself felt in the automobile industry, says John W. Scoville, chief statistician of the Chrysler Corporation.

This stimulus, he believes, will appear first in the low priced car group and later on in the medium and higher priced groups.

American Trade Increases In 2nd Consecutive Month

(Associated Press.)

For a second consecutive month, American trade increased in September.

A Commerce Department analysis yesterday showed that both exports and imports were higher last month, continuing a rise from lows for the year established in July.

September exports were $132,000,000 compared with $109,138,000 in August and $106,830,000 in July. The September imports rose to $98,000,000 from $91,100,000 in August and $79,420,000 in July.

For the first nine months of this year, goods shipped out of the United States were valued at $1,188,894,000 compared with $1,841,775,000 in the same period of 1931. Gold imports of $27,957,600 in September left the country with a gain of $27,897,000 worth of the metal because only $60,000 was withdrawn. A year ago the imports were $49,269,000 with exports $28,706,000.

Silver imports in September also exceeded exports by $1,483,000, totaling $2,352,000.

The Commerce Department reported, too, that last week's grain exports amounted to 1,137,000 bushels against 870,000 the week before. More wheat and corn were shipped out of the country; less barley and oats. Shipments to Canada, however, dropped from 908,000 to 712,000 bushels.

Studebaker-White Merger Seen Near Sufficient Stock Believed Deposited to Make Deal Operative.

New York, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Sources close to the Studebaker and White Motor Companies today expressed the opinion that sufficient stock of the White Motor Co. had been deposited to make operative the merger agreement with Studebaker.

Neither side would venture an estimate of the amount of White stock tendered up to today, the final day for receiving deposits, but it was indicated that the volume of stock tendered in the past few days promised at least a two-thirds vote for the merger. The Guaranty Trust Co., depositary here, declined to give out any figures, but it was stated that the Studebaker Co. would make announcement from its South Bend, Ind., headquarters within the next few days.

Under Studebaker offer of acquisition the company required the assent of 75 per cent of the outstanding stock of the White Co., but reserved the right to declare the merger effective if two thirds of White stock accepted the plan.

Uruguay Plans Building $1,000,000 Oil Refinery

Montevideo, Uruguay, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—The government commission named to put into effect a national monopoly in Uruguay on sale of petroleum products and the manufacture of industrial alcohol and cement has announced plans for building a $1,000,000 oil refinery and a $500,000 alcohol distillery.

The refinery would convert into gasoline and its by-products crude oil brought from Russia.

Argentina to Pay Debt, Bankers Say

New York Distributors Deny Knowledge of Credit Move.

New York, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—American bankers who have participated in past public financing for the Argentine Republic stated today that the Latin-American government had completed all arrangements, according to their information, to take care of the next sinking fund and interest payment on the government's funded debt now outstanding in this market.

They said they had no direct information as to Argentina's reported efforts to obtain a $200,000,000 American credit which would be utilized to meet sinking fund and interest payments on Argentina debt.

A report from Buenos Aires, stating that unofficial negotiations were under way, was published here today.

Firms Cited to Defend Status in North Dakota

Pierre, S. Dak., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Halsey, Stuart & Co., and S. W. Straus & Co., both of Chicago, have been directed by the State securities commission to show cause November 16 why their licenses to sell securities in South Dakota should not be canceled.

This action was taken, the commission's orders showed, because of reports that officers of Halsey, Stuart & Co., had been indicted on charges of using the mails to defraud, and because S. W. Straus & Co., is in temporary receivership.

Finished Cloth Prices Easier on Markets

New York, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Gray and finished cloth prices in the cotton goods division were easier today. Heavy cotton apparel lines were firm. Burlaps were quiet. Rayon yarns continue sold up.

Spring men's wear lines are beginning to appear, but agents say there will be no formal openings until after election. It is announced from Japan that the coming silk crop will show a decided contraction. Silk goods were quiet.

CURB PRICES HIGHER ON QUIETER TRADING

New York, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Stocks in the curb market presented a somewhat ragged appearance today, although prices of more active issues were in most cases a shade higher. Activity was again quiet, total transfers approximately 120,000 shares against 100,000 yesterday.

The oils benefited somewhat from publication of estimates indicating that crude production last week had declined substantially under the daily average of the preceding week. Moreover, there were scattered indications that gasoline prices were being marked up in response to the efforts of certain mid-continent producers to advance crude oil quotations. Standard of Indiana, Standard of Ohio and International Petroleum gained fractionally. Gulf was up nearly a point. Imperial was unchanged.

The utilities rallied fairly briskly for a time. Electric Bond & Share advanced about 2 points. American Gas & Electric was up 1¼. Niagara-Hudson Power and Cities Service dipped a slight fraction. American Superpower was a shade higher.

Some relatively inactive issues moved fairly sharply, with Duke Power losing 4 points while Southern New England Telephone gained a like amount. Aluminum Co., which normally swings widely, advanced 1. Sherwin Williams, and Singer Manufacturing were off 2.

Lutheran Investing Methods Attacked

Convention Ratifies Plan to Reform Church's Fund Handling.

Philadelphia, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—The commission on investments which made a preliminary investigation of the activities of the board of ministerial pensions and relief of the United Lutheran Church in America, reported today to the church convention that the "methods pursued by the board in the investment of the funds committed to its care may be open to question in three specific particulars."

The report was adopted and the board, by resolution, was instructed to "cooperate with the commission on investments in continuing the commission's investigation as directed by the church and in setting up such organization and procedure as shall assure the maximum protection to the invested and investible funds of the boards."

The investigation was the result of criticism made last week by Ellwood M. Rabenold, a lay delegate of New York, who wanted to know more about the methods of the board in handling the pension and relief funds.

All-Rail Export Charges For Corn Is Proposed

Chicago, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Creation of an emergency all-rail export rate for corn, a plan designed to improve the economic situation of the American farmer and bring new business to railroads, has been recommended by the Grain and Feed Dealers National Association, George E. Booth, president, said today.

A cut of 50 per cent in the present export rate was suggested in a letter sent by the association to all railroad presidents. The proposed reduction would take effect after the close of lake navigation, so that corn shipments already arrived at the seaboard at the combined lake-rail rate would not be affected.

Planes Mark Efficiency In 750,000-Mile Flights

Chicago, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—A record for efficient performance of commercial planes was claimed by United Air Lines today in the completion of 99 per cent of its scheduled 750,000 miles of flight in September.

During the month 6,918 passengers and 7,000,000 pieces of mail were carried on the transcontinental route, more than half the flying by night.

WHEAT GAINS LOST; POUND DROP BLAMED

Weakening Argentine Prices Reported; Corn and Oats Lower.

Chicago, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Jolted by a big break in British exchange to the lowest point since last January, wheat and other cereals reacted sharply from advances scored today.

An unsettling influence was the fact that Government-sponsored supporting operations at Winnipeg appeared to be confined to May wheat contracts, with the December delivery left to shift for itself. On the other hand, indications of a better export demand for United States hard winter wheat developed just before the close, 100,000 bushels being bought at the best premiums on the crop.

Wheat closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to ¼ lower; corn, ¼-⅜ off; oats, at a shade decline to an equal advance, and provisions unchanged to 12 cents down.

Other Bearish Influences.

Failure of the wheat market to hold strong price rallies was accelerated by downturns of quotations at Buenos Aires and by favorable crop reports from Argentina. Announcement of 10,949,000 bushels increase of the world's available supply of wheat was another unsettling factor. Previously, the market here had been tending upward, helped by relative strength shown in securities and cotton, and by unfavorable weather for the crop movement in Canada.

Dry weather complaints continued from a large part of domestic winter wheat territory West and Southwest, with some reports indicating that winter wheat acreage may be adversely affected. Domestic winter wheat receipts were decidedly small compared to a year ago, and there was also a sharp falling-off in arrivals of spring wheat at Minneapolis, arrivals there today totaling but 75 cars, against 302 a week ago. A tentative estimate put Russia's 1932 wheat crop at 160,000,000 bushels less than last year.

Corn and oats were upheld by excellent shipping call for corn, and by new export inquiries.

Provisions went lower with hog values.

RAIL RATES TO ADD $60,000,000 INCOME

Credit Corporation Makes First Report on Recent Higher Charges.

The first annual report of the Railroad Credit Corporation was submitted at a meeting here yesterday of the stockholders of the corporation by E. G. Buckland, the president.

The report disclosed that the increase in freight rates allowed by the Interstate Commerce Commission in Ex Parte 103 is expected to yield approximately $60,000,000 to the railroads this year. Of this sum, $45,000,000 will be available for loan to carriers to meet their fixed interest charges, Mr. Buckland's report stated.

The amount to be made available is approximately $55,000,000 below the requirements of the railroads, Mr. Buckland said. The difference will be made up, he announced, by loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The additional money is needed for such items as taxes, equipment trusts obligations, maturities and current operating expenses, the president pointed out.

The Railroad Credit Corporation was formed by the railroads to administer the marshalling and distributing plans which the proceeds from the increase in freight rates, allowed by the commission, are being pooled and used for loans to needy carriers. The corporation, in making loans to rail carriers, is restricted to the prevention of default in fixed obligations.

Ten per cent, or $6,000,000 of the $60,000,000 to be received through the increase in freight rates, will be set aside as a reserve to meet the obligation of the Railroad Credit Corporation to refund to contributing carriers money which they will be required to pay in Federal, State, or local taxes because of the receipt of revenue from increased rates, Mr. Buckland announced.

The fall meeting of the District Bankers Association will be held next Friday in the board of director's room of the American Security & Trust Co. C. H. Pope, the president, will preside.

Election of John B. Hyde as vice president of the Southern Railway Co., in charge of the treasury, construction, purchases and real estate department, with headquarters in this city, was announced yesterday.

Mr. Hyde, who succeeds P. S. Wynn, retired, was formerly general solicitor of the law department of the railroad company. He is a native of Chattanooga, Tenn., and a graduate of the University of Virginia.

Cuban Subar Restriction Encourages Liquidation

New York, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Further declines in the spot market and uncertainty over the crop restriction plan in Cuba encouraged renewed liquidation in sugar futures today, although prices moved narrowly.

December, after opening at 1.09 sold off to 1.07, while May sold from 1.06 to 1.04 or 2 points net lower. However, around these levels there was some trade covering and partial rallies followed. The market at the beginning of the last hour was about 1 point net lower on all positions.

B. & O. Is Granted Loan.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co. yesterday was granted a "work loan" of $3,000,000 by the Reconstruction Corporation.

EARLY COTTON RISE REDUCED BY LOSSES

General Market Advances 3 Points, as December Closes at 6.26.

New York, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—An early advance in cotton was followed by reactions under liquidation and Southern selling, but after easing off from 6.36 to 6.18 for December, prices steadied on covering with that delivery closing at 6.26. The general market closed steady, net unchanged to 3 points higher.

The opening was 3 to 7 points higher in response to relatively firm Liverpool cables and prospects for rains in west Texas and Oklahoma. The early offerings were readily absorbed by trade buying and covering. Liverpool and Bombay buying was also reported.

The active contracts rose 9 to 12 points net higher during the forenoon, but broke later and sold about 6 to 7 points net lower under the pressure. Closing quotations, however, were well up from the lowest on a final spurt of covering coupled with some New Orleans and local buying on the closing rally in stocks.

Reports from Bombay said the Indian boycott had been lifted and Liverpool cables reported Bombay and scattered buying with trade calling in that market, also an increasing turnover in cotton cloth especially for Indian account. Exports today, 52,152, making 1,647,457 so far this season. Port receipts, 83,065. U. S. port stocks, 3,923,698.

Cottonseed Oil.

Bleachable cottonseed oil was irregular, but generally lower today under liquidation and commission house selling promoted by the easiness in lard. Closing prices were 2 higher to 4 points net lower. Sales, 1,950 barrels. Bleachable spot closed 4.00; October, 4.10; December, 4.06; January, 4.10; March, 4.25; May, 4.37.

Hosiery Mill on Full Time.

Anderson, S. C., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—The Anderson Hosiery Mill has gone on a full time day and night schedule, and will continue the program at least for the remainder of the year.

WESTINGHOUSE LOSS IS PUT AT $2,175,122

Deficit for 9 Months Totals $5,917,250; C. & O. Income Is Less.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. today reported a loss of $2,715,122 for the quarter ended September 30. This compares with a loss of $1,881,979 in the June 30 quarter and net profit of $992,632 in the September quarter, 1931.

For the nine months ended September 30 the company had a net loss of $5,917,250 compared with a deficit of $966,709 for the corresponding period of 1931.

Orders received in the September quarter totaled $14,126,064 against $30,983,034 in the 1931 period.

FLOODED CAROLINAS GET SUNSHINE AGAIN

Crop Damage Is Heavy and One Cotton Mill Deluged; Roads Are Blocked.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Heavy rains of the last three days gave way to sunshine today, but they left swollen streams and flooded lowlands in many parts of the Carolinas.

The greatest damage yet reported in North Carolina was in the vicinity of High Shoals, in the south fork of the Catawba River, where half the looms of the Manville-Jenckes Cotton Mills were under water, and the electric control board submerged. Officials said it would be Christmas before the plant could be put in order.

The Hardin Mill, several miles from High Shoals, was likewise partly inundated, but the water was receding. A similar situation existed in the McAden Mill at McAdenville. Numerous residents of this community who lived on the banks of the Catawba fled to higher ground.

Crop damage reports came from the east, where the peanut outlook suffered, and from the west, where water to the depth of ten feet or more was reported lying over hundreds of acres of land in the French Broad Valley. Some highways in the Asheville sector were closed by high water.

South Carolina streams roared onward toward the sea, overrunning the flat lands and doing some damage to crops. Traffic on the C. N. & W. Railroad between Chester and Lenoir, N. C., and between Gastonia, N. C. and Lincolnton, N. C., was disrupted by washouts.

Assistant Fire Chief Killed.

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 18 (A.P.).—Buried under falling debris in a fire in Wheeling's business district last night, Capt. Charles Belswenger, assistant chief of the Wheeling Fire Department, was killed. The fire started in the Charles Ruttenberg Clothing Store and spread rapidly, threatening a block of buildings before it was quelled by fourteen fire companies.

Frogs have an instinctive fear of deep water, not because they are likely to drown, but because their most deadly natural enemies frequent deep water.

A fairy fly is the smallest of insects, so small that they are almost invisible to the unaided eye. Five of them could walk abreast through the eye of an ordinary needle. The fairy fly eggs are hatched from within the eggs of the dragon fly, and the larva of the former, when hatched, feeds upon the dragon-fly egg. The adult fairy fly has four wings with which, strange as it seems, they swim.

LITTLEPAGE CHOSEN NEW PRESIDENT OF CAPITAL'S CHAMBER

Brisbane and Timmons Talk at National Press Night of Organization.

Thomas P. Littlepage, leading attorney and civic worker, was elected president of the Washington Chamber of Commerce at its annual meeting last night at the Mayflower Hotel He succeeds Harry King, who has headed the organization for the last two years.

The chamber's annual meeting was designated as "National Press Night," in tribute to the newspapermen of Washington. Guest speakers were Arthur Brisbane, editor and columnist, and Bascom N. Timmons, president of the National Press Club.

Mr. Littlepage, who has served two terms as a vice president of the chamber was unanimously elected. George A. G. Wood, former president of the Washington Gas Light Co., was again unanimously chosen first vice president. Frank R. Jelleff, of Frank R. Jelleff, Inc., was unopposed for second vice president.

New Board of Directors.

Edwin C. Baltz, A. Julian Brylawski, John H. Davis, C. B. Dulcan, James B. Luttes, Harry T. Peters, Thomas Slator Settle, Marcy L. Sperry, Robert B. Swope and Howard L. Wilkins were chosen as the board of directors of the chamber.

In retiring from the chair, Mr. King called attention to the splendid cooperation which he and the other officers of the chamber had been given during his administration.

Mr. Brisbane's address was an outline of the present economic condition of the Nation. He suggested that the payment of the soldiers' bonus would do more for the return of prosperity than any other one thing.

Varied Projects Discussed.

In stressing the point that world economy has taken the place of national economy, he said that President Hoover considered every part of the world, but added that his "heart" was in the United States.

Matters taken up by the chamber were the indorsement of the plan for the industrialization of Buzzards Point, the "Save-a-Life Campaign," the granting of 500 watts additional power by the Radio Commission to Station WMAL, and the campaign of the Washington Typothetae for the patronage of local printing establishments.

Entertainment at the gathering was supplied by the glee club of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. A buffet supper concluded the meeting.

Traffic Signal Changes To Protect Pedestrians

Modernization of traffic signals at the intersections of Twenty-second street and Massachusetts avenue and Connecticut and Florida avenues was ordered yesterday by the District Commissioners upon recommendation of Traffic Director W. A. Van Duzer. Only one of the three-light signals at each intersection will be replaced with a four-light signal so that a right-turn green arrow signal may be displayed while the red is showing, as at Wisconsin and Massachusetts avenues.

The arrow at Twenty-second street and Massachusetts avenue, to be located on the southeast corner, will burn continuously through both red and green signals, whereas the arrow at the southwest corner of Connecticut and Florida avenues will burn only when the red is being displayed. The latter is arranged to give better protection to pedestrians crossing the west crosswalk on Florida avenue.

2 Rob Insurance Collector of $60

Victim Struck Over Head With Revolver; Man's Car and $53 Taken.

Ira S. Jenkins, 53, 5306 Eighth street northwest, was struck over the head with a revolver and robbed of $60 by two colored men, who held him up in Logan Court last night. An insurance collector, Jenkins is said to have been warned by friends about collecting at that address after nightfall. He was treated at Sibley Hospital, where his injuries were found to be of a minor nature.

Nathaniel Wilson, 1903 Ninth street northwest, also reported to police that he was held up and robbed of $53 and his car stolen by two colored men. He said he had stopped at a delicatessen at 2905 Eleventh street northwest, when the men forced him back into his car and made him drive to First and Douglas streets northwest, where they put him out. They told him he could find his car at Seventh and O streets northwest, but it was not left as promised.

Mrs. Margaret Turner, 1816 North Capitol street, reported to police that her purse containing $2 was snatched from her by a colored boy while she was walking along North Capitol street.

Complete Stadium, P.-T. A. Will Urge

New Roosevelt High Group to Make Plea Today Before Board.

Officials of the Parent-Teacher Association of the new Roosevelt High School will urge immediate completion of the athletic stadium at a hearing before the Board of Education this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, it was announced last night at the first regular meeting of the association.

The appropriation for completion of the stadium was approved last year by the Board of Education, but was subsequently stricken by the Bureau of the Budget. It was also announced that the association will support its contention for completion of the stadium before the Budget Bureau at a later date.

Miss May P. Bradshaw, assistant superintendent of schools, was introduced and spoke briefly at the association's meeting. Refreshments were served in the cafeteria of the school by Allen Davis, principal of the school, and chairman of the hospitality committee of the association.

NEW CHAMBER EXECUTIVES

DELAY IN WARDMAN REALTY SALE ASKED

Naming of New Receivers Is Also Sought in Petition of Bondholders.

A group of holders of bonds secured by the properties here of the Wardman Real Estate Properties yesterday obtained from Justice Oscar R. Luhring in District Supreme Court an order requiring the Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., Frank Wolfe and the Wardman company to show cause, Saturday, why the advertised sale of the Wardman properties should not be postponed.

W. Bissell Thomas, as successor trustee of the late Leslie M. Shaw, former Secretary of the Treasury, acting for the bondholders, presented the petition. Besides asking for a postponement, Mr. Thomas, through Attorney William B. O'Connell, requested that the Hanover bank be required to file with the clerk of the court the names and addresses of bondholders who have deposited their bonds with the bondholders' protective committee.

He further asked that the receivers for the Wardman properties, Maj. Julius I. Peyser, Joseph P. Tumulty and Thomas D. Carson, be enjoined from completing a plan of reorganization they have afoot, and that they be discharged as receivers and others substituted in their stead. The sale of the properties is scheduled for Saturday.

DEMOCRATS NAMED IN SUIT BY CIRCUS

Owner of Hunt's Show Says He Was Not Fully Paid for Carnival Stand.

Charging that he had not been paid all the money due him for operating his circus a week in the Democratic carnival staged last week at Alaska and Georgia avenues northwest, Charles T. Hunt, owner of Hunt's Three-Ring Circus, yesterday filed suit against the Democratic central committee and five of its members.

The members named as defendants are Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, John F. Costello, John B. Colpoys, George P. Marshall and E. Ray Lewis. A. Julian Brylawski was named as the agent who acted for the committee in arranging to have Hunt bring his circus here for the festival.

According to the suit, which was filed in Municipal Court, Hunt was to receive $250 a day. He said he got his money the first day, got only $200 the second day and thereafter got only what he could take in at the gate. The balance for which he sued is $999.70.

Attached to the suit by Capt. B. B. Libby, attorney for Hunt, was a copy of a contract which was signed by Mr. Brylawski as agent for the Democratic central committee.

Four Held for Jury After Theft of Auto

On a charge of stealing an automobile, four men, arraigned in police court yesterday, were ordered held for the grand jury in bonds of $3,000. They are George Perry Ryan, Lester B. Dixon, Leslie T. McClure, and Bernard M. Finley.

In addition, McClure and Ryan were charged with holding up Hollis A. Slagle, manager of a filling station, and robbing him of $15. For this, they were also held for the jury under an additional bond of $5,000. A charge of carrying a concealed weapon was admitted by McClure and he was given 360 days in jail, while Finley demanded a jury trial on the same charge.

39,115 Children Listed in Capital

623 Between Ages of 10 and 17 Shown in Census to Be Working.

Census Bureau figures announced yesterday place the number of children in the District, as of the 1930 census, at 39,115. Of this total, enumerators found that 623 between the ages of 10 and 17 were gainfully employed.

Girls are preponderant, the census statistics showed, there being 20,005 of them as against 19,110 boys. Of the working children, 473 were boys and 150 were girls. The figures show a drop against 1920 census counts, and lack of jobs and child labor laws were given as the cause.

Maryland was shown to have numbered 181,168 children between 10 and 17 in its population, and Virginia, 320,069. In the former State 4,275 boys and 2,212 girls were found to be gainfully employed and in the latter, 11,712 boys and 3,134 girls.

U.S. WORKERS' UNIT ASKS REPEAL OF 20 ECONOMY CLAUSES

Resolution Charges That Act Undermined Morale of Federal Employes.

Outright repeal of twenty "hasty and ill-advised" provisions of the economy act was demanded of Congress last night by the newly organized American Federation of Government Employes, meeting in first convention at the Hamilton Hotel.

Charging the act "attacked the institution of marriage" and "undermined the morale" of Government workers, the convention asked Congress to restore the status of employes hit by the protested sections.

Cafeteria Resolution.

A second resolution, calling on Congress not to interfere with operation of cafeterias, seen of distinct service to Federal employes, was read and referred to the legislative committee for action today.

The organization voted to get out an official weekly newspaper, of tabloid size.

The score of economy law provisions condemned embraced sections reducing compensation and furloughing workers, suspending automatic promotions, restricting administrative promotions, prohibiting filling of vacancies requiring impounding of appropriations, compelling retirement for age, curtailing overtime pay, "discriminating" against married workers where both are in the Federal employ, and permanently reducing annual leave.

Substitute Economy Bill.

President David R. Glass proposed that the convention consider submitting a "substitute economy bill" to Congress.

Another resolution, calling for adoption of "some form of life insurance," national in scope, by the executive council, was adopted and referred to the council for study and report. Insurance was seen in the resolution as a "beneficial" feature, which would attract members.

President Glass said an effort will be made to conclude the convention business today. Trips to Arlington and Mount Vernon, election of national officers, adoption of the final draft of the constitution and selection of the next convention city are scheduled for today.

Policeman Shoots Rum Driver in Leg

Victim Charged With Attempting to Run Over His Pursuer.

Following a liquor chase during which the driver of the rum car is said to have attempted to run over a policeman, a colored man, alleged to have operated the vehicle, was shot in the leg by Policeman G. V. Moore, of the Second Precinct, early yesterday.

Policemen Moore and A. M. Cochran started in pursuit of the car, and after several blocks found the automobile, containing thirteen cases of liquor, parked at Wiltberger and S streets northwest. Its occupants attempted to escape and ran into the police car, and then backed into a parked car. Policeman Cochran attempted to place the driver under arrest and, according to the police report, the man at the wheel tried to drive the vehicle over Cochran. He missed him and ran into a lamppost.

The prisoner, who gave his name as Wesley Simms, 37, of 1743 Willard street northwest, was shot when he jumped from the car and ran. He was treated at Freedmen's Hospital and held for investigation.

Man Gets 45-Day Term In Theft of Rubber Hose

Some amateur sleuthing on the part of Richmond Hill, jr., yesterday cost Charles Robinson, colored, 45 days in jail on a charge of stealing a rubber hose.

Hill, who lives at 725 Twenty-second street northwest, returned to his home last week in time to see a colored man leaving with the family lawn hose. He followed the man into an alley some six blocks away and noted the house he entered. Then he called police, informed them of the facts, and Robinson was arrested. The hose was recovered and other articles found in the place are being displayed by police on the chance some one may identify them as having been stolen.

Bingham Has Parking Plan To Help Idle

As a means of relieving both automobile parking congestion in downtown Washington and local unemployment, Senator Bingham (Republican), Connecticut, proposed yesterday that 1 cent a minute be charged for parking in business streets, with unemployed men collecting the fees.

He would assign two men to a block to collect a minimum charge of 5 cents for five minutes of parking, with 1 cent for each additional minute. In the opinion of Senator Bingham, the plan might also be worked effectively elsewhere.

The senator told newspapermen he would introduce a bill embodying such provision in the next session of Congress.

WHEN RAIN REFUSED APPEAL TO GO AWAY

Post Staff Photos.

HIGHER EDUCATION STRESSED BY DEAN

"College-Bred" Homes Big Need, District P.-T. A. Congress Told.

"College-bred" homes are a paramount need in adjustment between parents and teachers, declared Dean W. C. Reudiger, of the School of Education of George Washington University, in a talk last night before the School of Instruction of the District of Columbia Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Decrying a belief he said was current in some circles that the college girl who marries is wasting an education, Dean Reudiger said "the shoe is on the other foot." Whether the college girl graduate marries a college man or not make little difference, he said, the benefits of the wife's university training eventually showing great dividends in development of the children.

Dr. F. W. Ballou, in an address to the congress, sought their "well-thought-out views" on the disposition of funds appropriated for education. He said the future is to provide a number of problems along that line for school officials.

J. D. "Radio Joe" Kaufman, chairman of the publicity committee of Community Chest, made an appeal for cooperation in the aim of the Chest to raise $2,400,000 for charity purposes for the coming year. He declared many will starve if the quota for the District is not raised.

States Society Sues Rival to Prevent Ball

Through its president, W. E. Hoffheins, the All States Society yesterday petitioned the District Supreme Court to enjoin the All States Society of which Elmer E. Fields is president from staging a ball at the Willard Hotel, October 31. The court is also asked to enjoin the second All States Society from the use of that name.

Hoffheins informed the court the rival organization was organized last June and seeks to obtain memberships through the use of the name, which he said, had become well established here. Attorney Charles E. Morganston appeared for the plaintiffs.

MRS. HOOVER HEARS AMATEUR OPERETTA

Estelle Wentworth Company Gives "H.M.S. Pinafore;" 1,000 Attend.

The Estelle Wentworth Opera Group presented last night at the Central High School the finest amateur production of Gilbert and Sullivan's immortal operetta, "H. M. S. Pinafore," ever staged in Washington before a distinguished audience of more than 1,000, headed by Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, jr., Col. C. B. Hodges, Capt. Walter N. Vernou, Mrs. Stark McMullin and the Rev. Augustus T. Murray and Mrs. Murray.

Staged with the same cast as that which performed last summer, the personnel repeated their earlier triumph. Elliott Button, as Capt. Cochran; Alma Harris, as his daughter; Raymond Baine, as Ralph Rackstraw; Ira P. Meyer, as Sir Joseph; Maxine DeSilvia, as Little Buttercup; and Harry Crow, as Dick Deadeye, deserve great credit for their excellence of singing the several parts.

To Miss Wentworth, who accompanied the entire production on the piano, should go especial mention for the excellent manner in which she upheld the instrumental side of the performance.

CLOUDS BUT NO RAIN IS TODAY'S FORECAST

Precipitation Is Near Record, With More Due Shortly; Accidents Mount.

Clouds but no rain was the forecast of the Weather Bureau for today. Last night saw the end of the almost continuous downpour which started Sunday and which added 3 inches to the already abnormal precipitation recorded for October.

Unofficial figures fix the total rainfall for the month at almost 7 inches, which threatens the all-time record of 8.69 inches set 47 years ago.

The continuous rain and accompanying fog and mist has cut the Capital off the air mail and air transport routes for two nights, in addition to being responsible for a great number of traffic accidents and injuries.

More Than 100 Accidents.

Since Sunday more than 100 accidents have been reported by police and half as many persons have been hurt on the slippery streets. Only one traffic fatality has been recorded, that of Rubin Androvette, of Staten Island, who was struck down by an automobile Monday night.

Another storm, the Weather Bureau says, is on its way toward Washington from the West. It will bring more rain late Thursday or early Friday.

Three automobile accidents attributed to the rain and wet streets were reported to police last night.

Auto Victims.

Edgar A. Miller, jr., 15, 1748 M street northwest, was knocked from his bicycle at Eighteenth street and Florida avenue northwest, by a car driven by James D'Angelo, 456 H street northwest. The youth was treated at Emergency Hospital for cuts and bruises.

Alfred E. Lutrell, 34, 3506 Fifth street southeast, was injured slightly when his car collided with one driven by Edward J. Schrieber, Wheeler Road, Md., at Seventh street and Alabama avenue southeast.

Ruby Simonette, 22, No. 2 Logan circle northwest, was knocked to the pavement, suffering bruises and cuts, by a car driven by George W. Rogers, 38, of 4507 Conduit road northwest. She was treated at Casualty Hospital.

PROSECUTION OF SIX IS OPENED IN DEATH OF PARK POLICEMAN

Three Women and Nine Men on Jury Hearing Evidence in Fatal Attack.

With a jury of nine men and three women, the Government yesterday opened the prosecution of six colored men on a charge of murdering Park Policeman Milo J. Kennedy, in Logan Circle, in August.

Kennedy was beaten to death by a group of colored men when he attempted to arrest a man for throwing a brick at his police scout car as he drove by the circle. When he attempted to place the culprit under arrest he was "ganged" and he sustained injuries that resulted in his death in Garfield Hospital the following day.

Battle Over Jury Choices.

Because of the lengthy battle over the selection of the jurors, Assistant United States Attorney William H. Collins, who is prosecuting the case, hardly started his case before Chief Justice A. A. Wheat, presiding, recessed court until today.

The six on trial are Joseph James Jackson, Irvin Murray, Ralph E. Holmes, Louie R. Murray, Harry M. Duvall and LeRoy Robinson. Three others were indicted in the same presentment, but they have not been apprehended.

Many to Testify.

Three of the defense counsel, Bernard Ades, J. F. Derricote and Samuel Levine, are connected with the International Labor Defense. John H. Wilson is the other attorney for the accused. The trial is expected to last the rest of the week, there being a score of prosecution witnesses besides a number of defense witnesses.

Finley Estate Probate Is Asked by His Son

John T. Finley, son of Mark F. Finley, who died September 29, without leaving a will, yesterday asked the District Supreme Court to grant him letters of administration for the estate, which he values at $96,559.42. He informed the court there was only one other heir, Mark F. Finley, jr., who consented to his brother's appointment.

The real estate holdings of the estate are the premises at 2718 Seventeenth street northwest, the Claridge Apartments, and 1928 I street northwest. Securities valued at $20,000 are also included in the estate. Attorney William P. Lockwood filed the petition for Mr. Finley.

Albright Is Elected Home School Head

Paul Junior High Association Will Urge Addition of More Rooms.

E. R. Albright was elected president of the Home School Association of the Paul Junior High School last night at the first meeting of the season. Other officers elected were L. J. Cantiell, first vice president; Mrs. Page Pratt, second vice president; Mrs. A. B. Chandler, secretary, and Lloyd Boose, treasurer.

The meeting was an "open night" at the school, and the association inspected the ten new rooms and gymnasium which were added to the building during the summer. The building now has a capacity for 900 pupils, but 1,150 are now enrolled.

The association plans to urge the addition of ten more rooms and a gymnasium to take care of the increased enrollment. It was stated that the enrollment has doubled in the last two and one-half years.
